EDITORIAL..6
Yes! Indeed! If you haven't figured it out by now, these are the pages put aside especially for um, not much in particular. But rest assured, it's always a good laugh. What's more, you can find out all about the people who write the magazine as well. Cool eh?

NEWS.....10
Wow! This month there are FIVE whole pages dedicated to the exciting goings on in the Sega division of the consoles industry. Find out about ace new games like Road Rash II, Super Off-Road on Game Gear, James Bond 007, Final Fight and Afterburner III on Mega CD! All this and more (more? yes! more!) on these pages!

MEAN YOB...28
The MEAN YOB - the mere mention of his name sends shivers down the spines of boring pencil-necks in suits working for large companies who cannot comprehend the amusing facets of irony or the hilarity of risque gags. They thought they could silence him. They didn't think he would go any further. They thought he'd go away if they didn't think about him. They were wrong. They were very wrong... Let the carnage commence!

Q+A.....36

Beating off challenges from anorak-wearing spotty geeks with bad breath, Jazza manages to keep his hands on the steering wheel of the section that is Q+A. Are we spinning it? Well, in an infinite galaxy full of infinite possibilities, this could be a true scenario someplace, somewhere.

TIPS.....40

Oooh! Tips. Lovely tips. There's loads of tips here. Veras too. But tips, mainly. Whatever console you may have - Megadrive, Master System or even the Game Gear - there's something for everyone! Excellent!

HOTLINES.....69

Want to win some new consoles gear? Bored of your scarred Master System with yuur tiny assortment of sad old games? You might win a whole new set of console-related gear if you get to the 'phone now! I said NOW!

CHARTS.....72

So, you're interested in how much a game sells? Interested in seeing a list of top-selling games for the Master System, Game Gear and Megadrive? Well, all of your dreams have come true with the advent of the all-new MEAN MACHINES charts pages.

LOOKBACK.....110

In this amazing new feature, we take a look at the many Sega games reviewed in an issue of MEAN MACHINES over two years ago! What's more, we inform you of how well the game has stood the test of time and tell you about the marks we'd award those games now. This month, the games reviewed in MEAN MACHINES issue one are gratuitously re-reviewed by Jaz and Rich.

MEGAMART.....115

Why bother going to the local Church Bazaar and get conned out of the 10p entrance fee? You can have all the fun of looking over reams of rubbish and "bric-a-brac", trestle-tables and car-boots excluded, in the MEAN MACHINES Megamart section! Hurrah!

MEAN MACHINES SPOTLIGHT.....126

In another of those new-fangled "feature" items, MEAN MACHINES reviews every particular Sega example of a particular gaming genre. This month, Rich spotlights the many driving games out for the Megadrive, Master System and Game Gear. Page 126 has the resulting layout printed onto it.

GAMES INDEX.....132

So, you want mini-reviews of just about every Megadrive, Master System and Game Gear cart ever released? What? You want reviews of EVERY game - even those not "officially" available? You lot would have the shirts off our backs wouldn't you eh? Still, eight pages of this very mag are dedicated to the arduous task described above. Naughty, naughty, very naughty - to coin a phrase.

Ha! There is to be absolutely no copying, transmission, lending, hiring, re-selling or reproduction of this magazine under any circumstances without the prior permission of the publishers. Infringement of this will result in full legal action. You have been warned.

COMPETITION RULES
Nobody, repeat nobody who works for EMAP Images is allowed to enter our competitions. The rest of humanity can, as long as they can get their entries in before the closing date. The only exception to this is the now infamous Dwayne Minton and his family. They all watch and genuinely enjoy That's Life, which is totally unforgivable. Ugh! Revolting. Undean! Undean!

JAZZA'S FINAL BIT
Here we are at the end again. The very last thing I write at the end of the month. I'm off to Aberystwyth in a minute for a bit of a break. But before I go, I want you to tell me how many miles it is from Farringdon Lane in London (where I've got my car parked) to the pier on Aberystwyth sea front. I'll reset the tripometer before I set off, and the nearest answer to it will win a Game Gear. Is that nice or what. Send your entries to: I ACTUALLY PACED THE DISTANCE MYSELF SO MY ANSWER'S GOT TO BE RIGHT, MEAN MACHINES, PRIORY COURT, 30-32 FARRINGDON LANE, LONDON, EC1R 3AU.

EDITORI

WELCOME TO THE SHOW THAT NEVER ENDS

Here it is - the first all-Sega edition of MEAN MACHINES. And what a whopper it is too! All of 148 pages - miles bigger than the sad, thin pamphlets that purport to be our competitors. We're a bit pricey this month, but I think it's worth it. Where else can you get a WORLD EXCLUSIVE video complete with full Sonic the Hedgehog II preview - plus all the others - for only a couple of quid. You can't see Sonic II anywhere else except here!

If you also own a Nintendo, or have a mate who owns a Nintendo, don't forget about what's happened to the Nintendo half of MEAN MACHINES. It has become NINTENDO MAGAZINE SYSTEM. A brilliant all-Nintendo magazine which has now been on sale for a week or so. Make sure that no Nintendo owners miss it.

So what's going to be coming up? Well, we've got some incredible gifts lined up and some really special things in the pipeline for Christmas. And I promise that we'll continue to be by far the biggest and best Sega magazine available. So keep watching this space...

JAZ RIGNALL

The latest issue of NINTENDO MAGAZINE SYSTEM is out in the shops now! The first issue comes with your very own Timeboy keyring and a massive A2 Street Fighter II poster!

Being our own 'in-house' celebrity, Jaz is very unimpressed by most of his fellow stars. He does, however, talk with some awe about the time he was fortunate(?) enough to meet the great Jim Bowen, in the flesh no less! "He was a smashing, super, lovely bloke," says Jaz. WILL YOU BE SURF-FISH-ENTLY SPORTY FOR JAMES POND'S AQUATIC GAMES...

Even James Pond needs to take an offishal break from baddie-baiting occasionally.

But far from floundering around in some terribly exotic plaices, he's organised a turbot-charged tournament, for up to four players - The Aquatic Games™.

Ten crazy new-wave events, including shark unicycling, the hundred metre splash, frog hurdling and spongey jumping and featuring four new fishy characters.

NEWS

FINAL FIGHT FOR MEGA CD!

Capcom's stunning arcade beat 'em up, Final Fight, is coming soon for those lucky people with Mega CDs! What's more, it promises to deliver every single aspect of the smash coin-op, something even the Super NES version was unable to manage!

If you don't know, the game centres around a certain Mike Haggar, who's given up wrestling to become the Mayor of Metro City. Unlike his predecessors, Haggar is an honest sort of bloke who doesn't give in to the despicable bribes offered to him by the evil Mad Gear gang. In order to make him more amenable to their perverse desires for the city, the gang kidnap Haggar's daughter, Jessica. Poor old Mike decides to come out of wrestling retirement and traverse the streets of Metro City, dealing with the Mad Gear in a number of amusing (and yet very violent) ways. Joining Haggar in his quest for justice is Jessica's boyfriend, Cody.

Luckily, it turns out he's a skilled martial arts expert and adept in the craft of wielding a blade. Jessica's frustrated "friend", Guy (he of the orange pyjamas) also decides to lend his ninjitsu skills to the worthy cause.

Just like the original coin-op, Mega CD Final Fight offers two players the chance to take part in the game simultaneously - an option the Super NES version severely lacked. This new reprogrammed version also has every one of the coin-op's six levels! In addition, the CD element enables the programmers to come up with a soundtrack far superior to the one found in the original coin-op!

For Mega CD owners sick to death with RPGs and substandard arcade games, Final Fight could be a dream come true! We'll be reviewing the game in full as soon as it appears in Japan.

MICK AND MACK: COMING SOON

Look out for Mick and Mack, coming soon from Virgin Games. It's a platform game in the mould of Sonic the Hedgehog, but is boasts far more in the way of gameplay. This, coupled with the amazing graphics and stunning speed should make the game a classic. Look out for more news soon.

ANOTHER WORLD: ANOTHER CONVERSION

Delphine's classic Amiga game, Another World is heading for your Megadrive courtesy of Virgin Games. It's a platform game rather like Prince of Persia. However, the animation is actually miles better than Jordan Mechner's game (believe it or not) and boasts some of the greatest graphics and effects yet seen. We've had a quick peek at the unfinished game and reckon that it should be dead smart.

BOND-ED TO YOUR MEGADRIVE

Domark have announced an all-new James Bond game for the Megadrive, Master System and Game Gear. James Bond 007: The Duel isn't based on any of the movies as such. In fact, it's an all-new story created by the game's publishers, Domark.

The actual gameplay is quite similar to Rolling Thunder II. As Bond, you run around a scrolling landscape, rescuing hostages and planting bombs. James' fisticuff-related skills have been forsaken in favour of pure Walther PPK-style action. Plenty of Bond's old enemies are resurrected (in some cases, literally from beyond the grave!) in this game, including the perennial favourite, Jaws, along with Oddjob and Mayday (Grace Jones in a View to a Kill, remember?).

We've seen quite a lot of the game and can report that it's quite a good laugh.

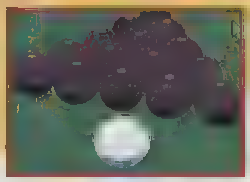
TOP SNOOKER SIM SET FOR MEGADRIVE

Virgin Games have announced that their top computer snooker simulation Jimmy White's Whirlwind Snooker, is scheduled for release on the Megadrive.

If you've never seen the game on the ST or Amiga you've missed the best snooker simulation in the entire world! It boasts amazing 3D ray traced graphics, moving at phenomenal speeds. What's more it plays a mean game of snooker too! Every rule of the game has been incorporated into the simulation and there's even the opportunity to try out your own trick shots!

The original programmer Archer Maclean is planning to carry out the conversion work and promises "a trick up his sleeve" that should have the Megadrive version running just as fast as the blindingly swift Amiga game! Archer is planning to start work on the game during the next couple of months with a view to finishing the project during the spring of next year. Keep your eyes glued to further issues of MEAN MACHINES for more juicy details on what looks like being one of the best sports sims ever!



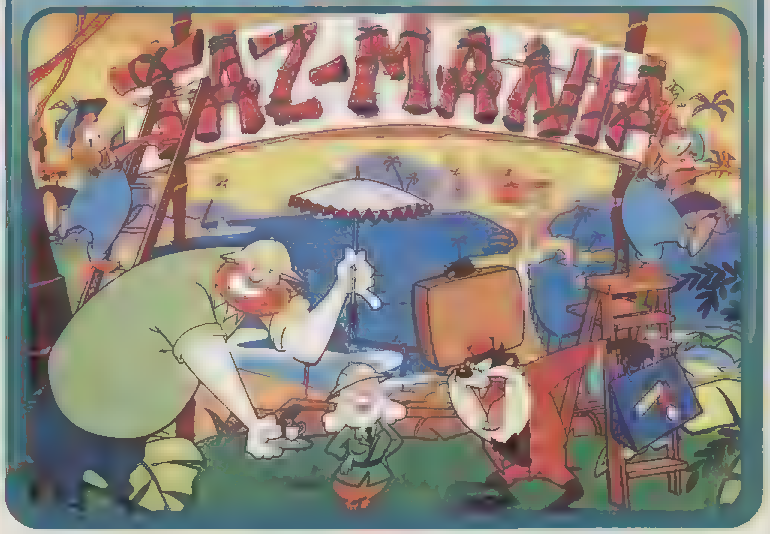
These are Amiga pictures of snooker. The Megadrive game should be just as good!

TAZ-MANIA FOR GEAR

The smash hit Megadrive title, Taz Mania, is scheduled for release on the Game Gear, and looks like being just as cool as its 16-bit relative!

As you might suspect, you take control of the Tazmanian Devil himself endowed with the bizarre ability to eat just about anything. What's more, you're able to spin yourself into a veritable whirlwind and use this bizarre power to knock out any enemy foolish enough to cross your path. Just like the Megadrive version, the game is based around a platform environment, with Taz himself charged with the task of duffing up meanies and finding the exits to each level.

The Megadrive version was noted for its superb graphics, and although the backdrops have been toned down detail-wise, the sprites still look just as brilliant as their 16-bit cousins. Definitely a game to watch out for, MEAN MACHINES will have all the details during the next few months. Keep those eyes glued to these very pages!



SUPER-POWERED MASTER SYSTEM

The Man of Steel himself, Superman, is coming to your Master System early next year courtesy of Virgin Games. At the moment, the game is still in the embryonic stages, but it is thought that the basic concept of the game remains similar to the Megadrive version (previewed on page 98). Virgin have enlisted quality coders Graftgold to the project (they of Paradroid and Rainbow Islands fame), so hopes are high for a fine game worthy of the brilliant license.

Are some of these favourable reviews a tad too enthusiastic? Are some of the negative ones a gnats' too critical?

There's only one way to find out. Play the games yourself in the Gamesmaster Zone.

You'll find one in every Comet store. A themed area where you can play before you pay on a selection of the latest and greatest titles.

(There are over 250 available in all.)

The Gamesmaster Zone is the biz when it comes to hardware too. With a huge stock of all the big names in hand helds and consoles.

Buy any of them and you'll qualify for a Gamesmaster Zone Discount Card. Valid till April next year it will cut the cost of new games by 10%.

And hot new games is where the Gamesmaster Zone really has the edge. The day a title is out, is the day that title will be in.

And not just boxed behind the counter, but loaded up and ready to play in our demonstration units.

By now the doubting Thomases amongst you may be thinking we're telling a few wobblies ourselves.

Well Tom, check out the Gamesmaster Zone in your local Comet.

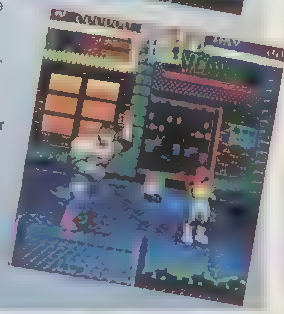
STREETS OF RAGE II UPDATE



Just about the only hot game missing from the amazing MEAN MACHINES Sega Preview tape is the follow-up to the top-selling Megadrive beat 'em up, Streets of Rage. Rest assured, work is progressing on the game at an astonishing rate, and Streets of Rage II should be out in the shops by early December.

The game is seen by Sega as the cart to out do Nintendo's incredibly successful (and rather good) Final Fight. In order to pull this off, Sega have enlisted the same coding team behind the smash hit original, but have upped the cartridge specification drastically. Streets of Rage II is a massive 16-megabit cartridge only matched by Super NES Street Fighter II in terms of memory size.

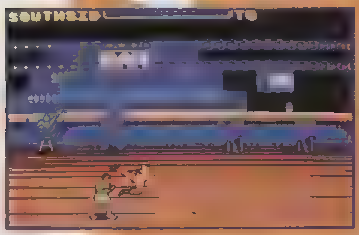
The programmers have used this vast cache to improve the original game significantly. The small characters of the original have given way to gargantuan Final Fight-style sprites, and the repetitive backdrops of the first game are far more detailed in the sequel. What's more, the programmers have retained the amazing simultaneous two-player action that made Streets of Rage such a classic.

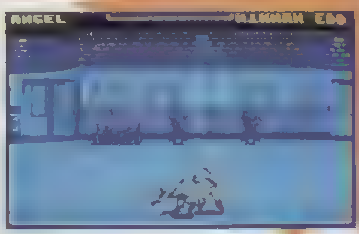
The basic gameplay remains pretty much unchanged. It remains a case of traversing the scrolling backdrops, using your martial arts skills to do away with the legions of enemy sprites that crop up. The new game should include more levels and weapons to collect.

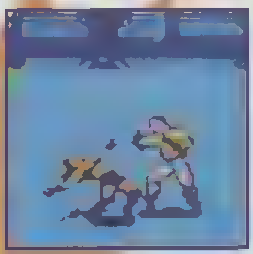
The programmers have even included a new character to get to grips with, making a grand total of FOUR (each with their own individual forms of attack) in the finished game!

This game is shaping up to be one of the finest beat 'em ups ever devised for a home console! What's more, we'll be giving you an extensive preview of the game - maybe even in the next issue of MEAN MACHINES! The question is, how well will it compare with the forthcoming Mega CD version of Final Fight? Stay tuned.

UNDERGOUND VIOLENCE HITS MASTER SYSTEM







Pit Fighter, that classic arcade game of complete violence is coming out for the Master System. Apparently this version retains just about every feature of the coin-op including the amazing graphics and all the moves. The programmers are even adding to the original by incorporating special extras, including several secret rounds! The game has only just gone into development, but we are promised that it's going to be completely mega. As you've probably guessed, we'll be previewing the game just as soon as we can get our hands on a copy.

MEGADRIVE SCI - NEXT MONTH!

Fans of Special Chase Investigations will wet their pants with unbridled excitement when they learn that their favourite coin-op is being converted to the Megadrive. If you don't know much about the coin-op, it puts you behind the wheel of an armour-plated Japanese sports car. It's your job to pursue a number of dangerous criminals and inflict as much damage as possible on their cars as possible. Sooner or later they're forced off of the road, enabling you to arrest them. Hurrah. This is much improved over Chase HQ (which only appeared on Master System and Game Gear), with more villains and even minor enemies getting in the way. Also adding to the excitement are plenty of power-up weapons that enable you to blow your opponents off the road!

The coin-op was quite a laugh so hopes are high for a Megadrive conversion that captures the playability of the original.

We'll be giving the game the full MEAN MACHINES review next month. Look out for it.

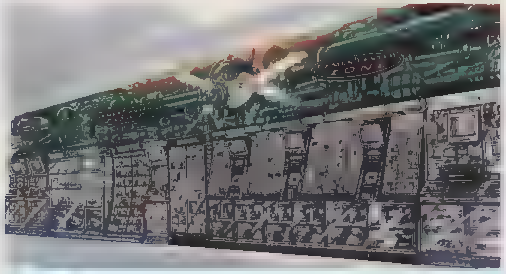
BALLISTIC IS BACK!

As you may or may not know, Ballistic were halted from selling any of their unofficial Megadrive games pending the outcome of an epic legal battle initiated by Sega.
Well, the good news (at least from Ballistic's point of view) is that Sega didn't fare that well at the courts, and Ballistic are now able to sell all of their Megadrive titles once again. However, they aren't out of the woods yet. Sega still have loads of legal points to take Ballistic to task with, which may yet spell disaster.
Still, what this all boils down to for you, the punter, is that titles like Star Control, Winter Challenge and Turrican are back on the shelves. What's more, completed titles, like Super Off-Road and Universal Soldier (which looks very much like Turrican, funnily enough) should be out very soon. Future Ballistic delights include Star Control II (we're looking forward to that one) and Summer Challenge. Full details will follow in a later edition of MEAN MACHINES.

LIVE AND DANGEROUS



Coming soon to a Birmingham near you is the GamesMaster Live event. Three days of fun and frolics of the computer gaming kind brought to you by those GamesMaster chaps in conjunction with us here at MEAN MACHINES. All the hilarity of the TV show hits the NEC on December 4-6, packed with challenges, celebrities, competitions and bargains. There's also the chance to try out all the latest software ages before anyone else and make your mates sick with jealousy thanks to stands from Electronic Arts, U.S. Gold, Virgin, and Nintendo to name but a few. There's also a Quasar Lazer Dome where you and your friends can shoot each other for fun and loads of Virtual Reality machines where you and your chums can pretend to shoot each other. The whole MEAN MACHINES and NINTENDO MAGAZINE SYSTEM team will be down there along with Dominik Diamond. There are still a few tickets left, priced at the special Mean Machines bargain basement price of £6.00 each. However those of you lucky enough to be in the Gamesmaster Club can get in even cheaper by quoting your personalised membership number when calling the box office. So if you're interested (and you bally well should be by jove), call 021 780 4133, to reserve your ticket now.

BURNIN' UP THE MEGA CD!

Watch out for Afterburner III, coming soon to a Mega CD near you! In case you're wondering, the game is an as-near-as dammit conversion of the mega R3... game, G-Loc.
Most of the game is viewed from inside the player's F-14 Tomcat fighter, and the gameplay generally involves blowing up enemy MiGs and installations with in crushing time limits. Making matters slightly more difficult is the arduous terrain. Watch out for narrow canyons and mountain ranges! At the same time, keep your eyes peeled for any planes that creep up behind you. Should this occur, the game changes to defensive mode. The perspective of this section looks rather similar to Afterburner II, and it's your job to dodge enemy fire until the threat has passed.
The game is looking quite good at the moment and should show just what the Mega CD's sprite scaling and rotation is capable of! Look out for a review in a forthcoming issue of MEAN MACHINES!

NEW EA GEAR UNVEILED

Electronic Arts, renowned for their skillful Megadrive stuff, have a whole host of amazing carts lined up for release

The most exciting game on the list is Road Rash II. This game boasts playability similar to the first game, but has the added advantage of split-screen simultaneous two-player action. Also serving to improve the successful formula are a new range of bikes, plus plenty of bolt-on bike improvements! Sounds good eh? Well, MEAN MACHINES has the exclusive review of the game. Look out for it next month. Another EA game looking good is John Madden '93. We've seen an early version of the game and it seems nigh-on identical to John Madden '92, but with loads of speech just like Joe Montana Sportstalk Football!

Risky Woods is an action-packed platform game that originally won plenty of praise when it was released for the Amiga. We wait with bated breath for the finished Megadrive cartridge.

Another highly exciting title coming soon is Lotus Turbo Esprit Challenge. This is converted from the award-winning Amiga series of Gremlin Graphics road racers, all of them known for their highly exciting gameplay and two-player action. The game is being converted by Gremlin themselves and looks like being totally stunning. Well have more news very soon. Finally, EA are releasing the follow-up to Shadow of the Beast. Beast II (as it's known) looks uncannily like the Amiga version, with the same brand of excellent graphics. Unfortunately, the computer version was very lacklustre in the playability department. Hopefully EA will tell their programmers to get it right for the Megadrive. MEAN MACHINES will have the definitive previews and reviews of these games just as soon as EA give them to us!

FIRST CONSOLE RUGBY GAME!

Hats off to the people at Domark - they've announced a console version of Rugby! Called International Rugby, it's looking right tasty, with all the rules of the game incorporated.

These shots show the game at a very early stage (they've only just started programming it), but already hopes are high for a fine simulation that captures all the cunning strategy and all-out violence of the sport!

SUPER OFF-ROAD BURNS UP GAME

Is Leland's Ivan "Iron Man" Stewart's Super Off-Road the most converted coin-op of all time? You guessed it, yet another version of the popular Super Sprint variant has been announced, this time for the Game Gear.

This version of the game is slightly different from the other versions in that the whole course isn't viewed in its entirety. This is because the Game Gear screen is so small, the 4x4 trucks would be completely minuscule! Instead, the action zooms in on the portion of the course you're travelling around and follows you as you drive. Otherwise, this version isn't that much different from the coin-op. It contains all the power-ups and courses of the arcade machine, and there's even a link-up mode that enables two players to race against each other!

Thunder Storm FX was originally and on a console.

HOW T 0

PLAY

Thunderstorm FX comprises of ten missions, each involved with saving the earth. For the most part, the ball stays automatically around the level area. You just have to shoot!

THUNDER

America is under threat! President Quayle has declared a state of emergency as hostile forces swamp the land of freedom, and immediately close all McDonalds in every city. The plan is obviously to starve the population into submission, by depriving them of a supply of "Chicken Macnuggets (nuggets, nuggets, nuggets)" and "Filet-O-feesh-for-my wife" The securities market is destined to panic, and the pound will most certainly fall a couple of pfennigs. In view of emergencies such as these, the stockbrokers have had a whip-round and bought a squadron of Thunder Storm choppers to chase the hamburger-hating forces out of town, and off the face of the earth.

As it happens you are one of the life-hating individuals with the nous to fly one of these choppers, and in that capacity you find yourself sitting aboard the loaded aircraft, awaiting mission instructions. Your services are required in a multitude of built-up areas, or terrain-filled zones, and the only requirement is to shoot the fundament out of everything you see. If you believe that's in your grasp, "make your day" and "chocks away", ahem.

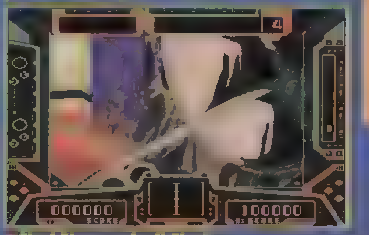
Massive explosions like this one are commonplace in this game of mass destruction!

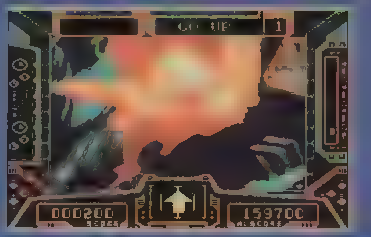
CORE BUMEY!

▲The Statue of Liberty is the setting for the first terrorist assault. Stay sharp!

the first "bandit" right where you want him!



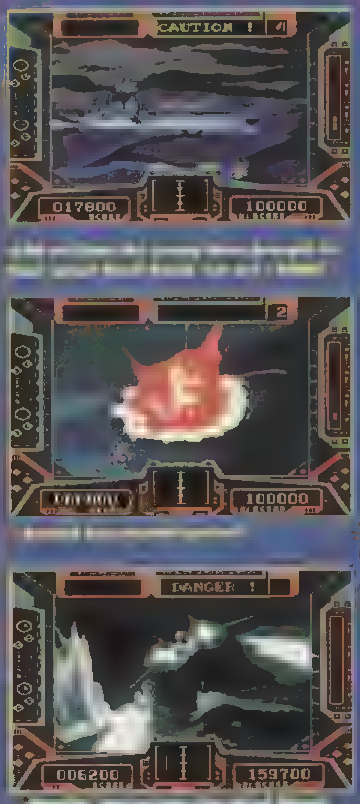
Fire! Fire you fool! Fire!



STORM FX

LADEEZ AND GENTLEMEN

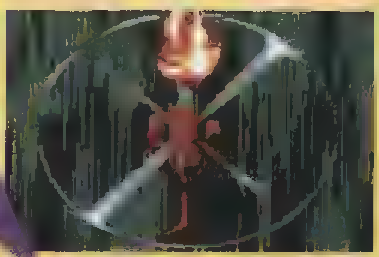
Thunder Storm, like most CD games with tons of memory space are wont to do, includes a lovely animated intro to 'whet' your palate. The graphics - again Manga-esque - are very close to those in the actual game itself. The intro is not that long, but fun-filled nonetheless.



COMMENT

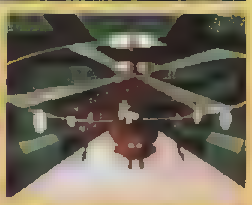
Thunder Storm FX is an extremely pretty and mega-sounding shoot 'em up with small pretensions of interaction. Like Gus has said, the graphics are just like watching a (slightly jerky) film, but there are no avenues to explore. You must shoot the 'planes in order to make the animation continue - and that's about it really. Of course, I could continue about the graphics and say that nothing like this has ever been seen on a console before. However, in my books gameplay is all-important, and although the compulsion to see the later levels is very strong indeed, it wasn't enough to keep me glued to the Mega CD. Some people get a real kick out of seeing the amazing things that consoles and CD technology can do. These individuals should buy this game immediately as it is a showcase game, but for those after a truly interactive, highly entertaining experience should go elsewhere.

REVIEW

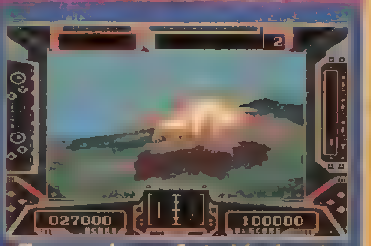


COMMENT

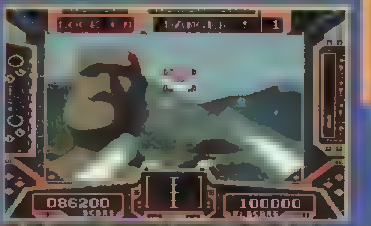
Okay, I have to admit being highly impressed with the technical side of Thunder Storm FX. The game obviously uses a vast amount of memory to store the massive amount of picture data necessary for a cartoon movie. Coupled with that are the aesthetic qualities of the graphics themselves - some of the sequences are smart and the explosions are breathtaking. With the fantastic sound they form a very atmospheric, but simple game. But this is one of the clearest cases, for myself, of game coming second. The actual requirement of the player is secondary to this wonderful demo scrolling on in the background. The sort of skills needed are a narrow band of reflex action and memory mapping, so you know where to move the cursor next. Of course that makes each level a repetitious chore in a short time, and its even worse replaying it because your continues are finished and you want to see higher levels. I have got to be harsh in these situations because gameplay is what we are about - I can see pretty pictures at the movies anytime. So if you want a technical marvel get Thunder Storm, but you're shelling out for a most expensive demo. So think on!



RAPT EASTER?



The enemy base on Easter Island meets with an apocalyptic end...



Stage four takes you to the fine archipelago known as Easter Island. It's your job to shoot down the enemy choppers that have seen fit to take up residence. But at the same time you blowing up the enemy base! Hurrah!

FEARLESS FELICS

▲Even some ground-based targets cause problems. Let this tank eat missiles!

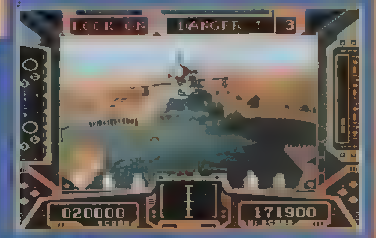
A mass of enemy gunships cause problems for you at the beginning of the level.

fortress you can! Easy!

WHEN IN ROME

Flying high over Rome! Watch it!

It's fired its missiles! Quick! Kill it!

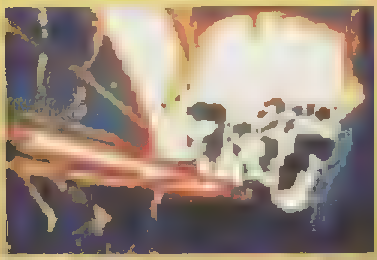


Facing up to a gunship!

Level six takes you to Rome, where (rather mysteriously) the various landmarks have been infested with enemy 'planes and helicopters! Arggghhh! By this point, the game has got very tough indeed, with the sights appearing with only nano-seconds given to blow the suckers out of the skies!

YOUR ARSENAL

Two weapons, and two only have been strapped to your craft. The reason for this shortage is to keep weight down, and so aid manoeuvrability. The cannon is the most versatile and fastest weapon to use. It should be employed against most air targets. Missiles are slower but much more powerful, and are necessary to take out heavily defended ground targets and large armoury like submarines.



COCKPIT CORUSCATIONS

The rigours of flying a helicopter have been much simplified for Thunder Storm. Under your control is the gunsight, linked to the dual weapons system of missile and cannon. The on-board computer generates a target box around each bandit, which helps your aim. At the bottom of the screen is a simple navigation device. This politely advises you to move in a particular by displaying an arrow. Your compliance is recommended, as failure often results in you gate-crashing an office party on the 31st floor of a tower-block, or examining the minute rock strata of the Grand Canyon at a very close range. On the right hand side is a LED scale, moving from green to red. This denotes your cannon temperature, raised by over-firing. If the gun is overheated the cannon jams for a while - leaving you defenceless!

PRESENTATION 90

An intro, a modicum of options and some intelligent pre-all worthy features.

The presentation of the options is hardly aesthetic or polished.

GRAPHICS 93

Computer animation, very smooth, fast and with clever transitions of perspective and scale.

A weird blurredness, due to excessive colouring in planes, is distracting.

SOUND 93

Sound is ideally suited to a game of this type - so no gratuitous synthesizer added.

PLAYABILTY 75

It's insanely exciting being part of the [illegible] gun-armed.

The shortcomings of the game - and its frustrations - strikes home quickly.

LASTABILITY 69

Ten missions, and in number three they're getting tough.

Absolutely no playing urge after completion. If it lasts that long.

OVERALL 73

AIR FORCE

IN LHX ATTACK CHOPPER THE ENEMY SHOOT ON SIGHT

Take off for the hairiest flight of your life in LHX Attack Chopper™. The first realistic helicopter simulation for the Mega Drive with true 3-D polygon graphics, from the people who brought you F-22 Interceptor.

Armed with a multiple range of missiles, zoom straight to the very heart of the world's hottest battle zones aboard the experimental LHX, or the AH-64 Apache gunship. And get a bird's eye view of the action from the cockpit or any of seven external angles.

Take on 30 different classes of mission, including air to air and ground attack. Fly through a bewildering variety of weather conditions and take out 40 types of enemy targets.

Oh. And keep your head down

UNFORTUNATELY, SO DO THE REAL PROS IN NHLPA HOCKEY

Same goes for NHLPA ™ Hockey '93, the new-feature-packed sequel to the multi award-winning EA Hockey, featuring real pros

'Cause those guys don't mess around.

With NHLPA™ Hockey '93, you can give as good as you get. Hook, trip, and bodyflip your opponents. And get their teeth rattling with extra hard body checks, at the same time as maintaining "incredible balance" when you take a hit.

Pull out super slap shots and smash the backglass with the power of your shooting. You can even test your team management skills to get your team playing with the right blend of aggression and ability

'93 also introduces a brand new species. The intelligent goalminder. He can dive, lunge, kick and skate out of his crease to clear loose pucks.

Performance statistics for every player are tracked automatically and with the power of EEPROM backup, are constantly updated and saved to the cartridge together with playoff games in progress.

So what are you waiting for, get your skates on and fly down to your local store now!

MEAN YOB

BANG! OO! MY FOOT!

Dear YOB
First of all I'd like to say how brill your mag is Your reviews and ratings have a lot to do with the games I choose to buy

I would like to have my say on the item about parents and teachers moaning about how much time is spent by students and pupils playing console games. If you do your homework and then play on the console they wouldn't have anything to complain about The only reason some parents moan is because they have never played the games and their idea of entertainment is being a complete sad case and sitting on their big shiny baboons asses playing scrabble or I Spy How is that going to improve your hand to eye coordination? If there was a serious problem and someone fell far behind in their schoolwork then act on should be taken If there is no problem then parents should shut up and at least try the games or forever hold their peace

A VERITABLE GAMES DESIGNER

Dear YOB
Over the last few months I have seen many suggestions for games from readers of your excellent magazine Being a Megadrive owner and liking fighting games, I thought I would devise a beat 'em up for the machine I own.

Anyway, to get to the point, The game I devised is based on the Jean-Claud Van Damme film Bloodsport I thought it could be played in a similar way to Street Fighter II with the player as Van Damme fighting one on one with the baddies from the film, each having their own special moves with training screens in between levels

If this game was successful A.W.O.L could also be produced, but this time you would have to complete different levels, such as escaping through the desert in a jeep, avoiding different hazards Different fights might also be included

I am sure that if these ideas were worked on by experts, they could be good games Thanks for your time and keep up the good work
Matt Aston, Stratford-Upon-Avon, Warks
YOB Why not send your ideas to different software companies to see what they think If you're thinking of getting into games design in a serious way, you're [illegible] plugging at it

WHO'S THE STUPID

Dear YOB
I have to point out how stupid your readers are First it was the Vs letters, you know, My SNES is better than and all that crap Then it was letters saying how stupid the Vs letters are Can't the people see that they're being just as stupid as the people writing the Vs letters
Timm, Leamington Spa

Dear YOB
I am writing to express my disgust and I told the shopkeeper this when asked if I could playtest the game before I bought it. "No-one can playtest the games," replied he. When I asked why he said that some control pads had been broken. "Fair enough," I said, "what if I bring in my own control pad later?" He then started shouting "No-one can playtest the games OK!"
"Very well," I said, pulling the four crisp tenners from my pocket." I'll take my business elsewhere " And with that I left the shop accompanied by two other customers who were listening in "What is the point of this letter?" I hear you cry. Well, my point is that all shops should have some sort of playtesting facility if only for console games £40 is a lot to cough up just on the basis of seeing a demo. What do you and other readers think?

Jimmy O Connor, Bedford
YOB: The only thing you can do if you're not allowed to playtest games before you buy them is wave your wad at the shop owner and tell him to perform a reverse bowel movement with the game you at the shop near where I live You see, I went in there one morning and saw on demonstration a game called Bart Vs the Space Mutants I had £40 in my pocket

A brilliant Street Fighter II pic from Nintendo Power, of course!

Here is a nice pic from Paul Longden.

Dear YOB
I think that what you say about consoles being great is a load of cheese. Personally I think Spectrums wipe consoles off the score board. What do you think?
P.S. Spectrums will live on!

Dear YOBSTER
One day when the grass was green and the birds were singing me and Toejam were playing Sonic and we found something strange. In Scrap Brain zone two I went to the first button right at the start, stepped on it, jumped onto the platform that appears underneath and went down the tube got sucked down and then went to the edge of the floor. I got the telly with ten rings in then got the three hovering rings and then, by chance, I jumped and landed on the edge of the floor. It sounded like a telly blew up and a pink blob popped up. I had not been drinking. My question is what is this thing?
Toejam and Big Earl, Functron, Stratosphere

Dear YOB
What are Sega doing with that Mega-CD thing? The first few games were crap and now I hear that they are going to release a load of PC adventures. Boring or what!? Do they really think that all of us Sega owning beat 'em up and shoot 'em up fanatics are going to fork out £250 smackers to play PC conversions? No way mac! What we want is arcade styre games only bigger and better.

Why do Sega think that the kids are going nuts about the SNES? Because Nintendo are making their games bigger and better that's why. Nintendo are making loads of great games and while Sega have made a lot of the same stuff it just isn't as good. Now that they have the Mega CD they should be able to use all of those extra chips and megabytes to out do Nintendo so come on Sega use the Mega CD properly and really give Nintendo

YOB!

Dear YOB
I want a sex change
A King, Milford Haven, Dyfed

Dear Mr YOB
I am writing to you in the strictest confidence as you're now my only hope and last resort!! I've written to numerous Agony aunts and problem pages but none seem to understand the seriousness of the situation.

The problem is simply which one do I throw out, the Megadrive or the Francee? If I work long hours what's wrong with coming home at 9.30 pm and playing Robocod through to the early hours? And when it comes to the "Let's go out tonight" or "I want to watch TV. now" things can get a little heated! What's more important in life. Emily B shop in Coronation street or the Semi Finals of John Madden 92? Why can't she simply understand that I'd rather be playing games than be doing other things like eating, sleeping having a wash!! Things came to a head last Christmas when she bought me a camera and some CDs and I got her EA Ice Hockey!!!

So now I've been given the ultimatum. It's either her or the Megadrive. How many others out there can relate to that one? So, having given it a lot of thought, I've realised how cruel and selfish I've been. I'm sure I've done the honest thing and hope your reply will reassure me.

Referring back to the August edition of MEAN MACHINES I couldn't help noticing that Christopher Adam had wrote to you saying that computers aren't everything. Well Mr Adam, I rather think that you are jealous, as you probably own an Atari 2000. I don't think that you are grateful of that humans are making such great machines. You also said that Dominik Diamond is no good at presenting GamesMaster, well, listen here Mr Cadbury's cabbage, he's doing as better job than what you could do, because what is the point of presenting a video games show if the presenter doesn't like video games?

FANZINES

So, you fancy yourself as a "journalist" eh? You think you can cope with the best of them (like us) when it comes to producing your very own consoles-related publication? Well, this is the opportunity you have been waiting for: the MEAN MACHINES SEGA Fanzines Competition!

We're not really fussed about what you send in. If you're currently the editor of an existing fanzine, send it in here for the publicity you so desperately crave. On the other hand, even if you're just toying with the idea of publishing a Sega-related periodical, we want to see it - NOW! What's more, the sender of the month's finest fanzine will be sent a Sega game of their choice! Amazing eh?

WELL OH, JUST WHAT IS A FANZINE?

We wondered when you'd get around to asking that question. As it happens a fanzine is a homegrown publication, produced by "fans" of a particular subject (hence the name) - in our case, Sega games. To clarify that point, fanzines aren't put together by professional publishers (like us) and usually, you can't buy them from your local newsagent - you have to send off for them. Does that clear it all up for you?

HOW TO ENTER

Easy! Just use your doubtless stunning powers of English comprehension to fill out the coupon below. Include it with your fanzine and send it to MEAN MACHINES SEGA, Priory Court, 30-32 Farringdon Lane, London EC1R 3AU

GOT ANY SALMON?

Dear Jaz
A mate of mine called Shorpie says Atari are going to launch a 32-BIT console in this country is this true? And he says that a convertor is going to come out to enable Game Gear players to play Lynx cartridges, is this true? What do you think is best, Super Tennis or Grandslam Tennis? Say hello to Paul Sykes for me.
Andrew Garcher, South Elmshall, W Yorks

JAZ: Your [illegible] is [illegible] No [illegible] true. [illegible] shot [illegible] Tennis is [illegible] Paul Sykes.

CHEERS, SORTED

Dear Jazza
I am an owner of a Game Gear and a NES. And I must ask you these questions
1. Will a Nigel Mansell game come out on the NES?
2. If so will it be worth buying?
3. Will Streets of Rage be coming out on the Game Gear?
4. If so when will it come out?
Alistair Downs, Chertsey, Surrey

[illegible]

Dear Jaz
Would you please answer my questions before I go totally nutzoid!!
1 Will Street Fighter II ever come out for the Sega Master System or NES and if so when?
2 Will there be a Royal Rumble game for Sega?
3 Are there any plans for Robocop 3 on Sega?
Zaki Kayyal, Cumbernauld, Glasgow, Scotland

JAZ: I'm afraid it's a big no to each of your trio of questions. Oh dear, how sad, never mind.

COMING ON LIKE A SEVENTH SENSE

Dear Jaz
I have a few questions for you which I hope you will answer
1 Will the Game Gear or Action Replay cartridge come out on the Game Gear? If so, when?
2. Will James Pond come out on the Game Gear?
3 Which of these games for the Game Gear is the best - Spider-Man, Mickey Mouse or Donald Duck?
4 Is Simpsons any good for the Game Gear?
Chris Bailey, Darlington, Co Durham

JAZ: No [illegible] does, it'll [illegible] year for it to appear. 3. Donald Duck is quite a laff.

ANY ONE GOT ANY VERAS?

Dear Jazza
I have few questions of which I would be very grateful if you and your trendy trouser and corset could answer
1. I have issue 4-23 and the best of MEAN MACHINES so far and I was wondering when my mags will become collectors items.
2 I have heard that issue 0 is worth is worth £20 is this true if not how much is it worth?
3. Am I right in saying that 23 was to celebrate the mag's second birth month?
4 Issue 22+23 were £2 20 does this mean the rest will also cost £2.20? (I think this is a reasonable price to pay for such quality)
5 Will there be another Christmas special?
6 When will volume 2 of Best of MEAN MACHINES be on sale?
7 How much will it cost me for Street Fighter II coin-op?
8 Why don't you do headline jokes like the one in issue 12?
Kev Gibbo, Droylsden

JAZ: 1 In a couple of year's time 2. No. An original edition is worth £200.00. 3. No [illegible] and birth- [illegible] you would [illegible] month [illegible] 4. 5. You [illegible] later or [illegible] put in Santa's big brown sack. 7. About £500.00. 8. Dunno. Why does a pig cack?

DEFINE SPACE/TIME

Dear Jaz
I have been the proud owner of a Megadrive since Xmas and think it's the best thing since your mag. Could you answer these questions for me please?
1. When will Fatal Fury, Streets of Rage 2, Lemmings an Humans be released on the MD?
2. What are the Megadrive's best four strategy/adventure games?
3 Are there any plans to release Street Fighter II on the Megadrive or CD ROM?
4 How come Nintendo are grabbing the best coin-op conversions? Are Sega phasing out the Megadrive in view of a new and better console such as the Wondermega?
5. Which game is better for long-term play, Fighting Masters or Krusty's Funhouse?
Ben Taylor, Loughborough, Leics

JAZ: 1. Christmas, January, November, March 2 Phantasy Star [illegible] King [illegible] Virtua! [illegible] fire [illegible]

Dear Jazza
I'm sorry about my poor English, but I'm Italian and I'm not very good with your language, so do please forgive any mistakes I make. Could I just ask you one simple question about the SNES As you know, the PAL Megadrive runs slower than the SCART one Does the PAL SNES (ie the official UK version, soon to be available in Italy) suffer from the same problem compared with the Super Famicom? Thanks a lot
Ennio Grasso, Torino, Italy

JAZ: Sadly yes. This is due to the signal having to be slowed down from 60 Mhz (NTSC running speed) to 50 Mhz (PAL running speed). This results in a 17% slowdown, which is quite noticeable when you have the two machines running side-by-side.

Dear Jazza
Please answer me these questions.
1 If they made a Megadrive with an improved graphics and sound chip could it still play old games?
2 Is there going to be a Sonic II?
3 Is there a definite release date for the official CD ROM?
4 Which is the best game and the worst game Desert Strike, F22 and Robocod?
The Terminator, W Yorks

1. Probably if it was retro-fitted - of course - where the [illegible] you been for the last year? 3. No, but [illegible] Christmas looks [illegible]ly time. 4. [illegible]rilliant, but if [illegible] want to know, [illegible] is tops, followed by Robocod and F-22.

Dear Jazza
I hope you can use some of your trouser-related tomfoolery for some of my questions.
1. My mate, who's Japanese has an uncle in Japan who has a mate who works for Capcom Japan. He says that soon a Street Fighter III will be released with all new people and some from Street Fighter II, do you know anything about this?
2. Why is there no Master System challenges on GamesMaster?
Ian Johnson, Harlow Essex

JAZ: 1. Well, [illegible] has a brother. Aunt who [illegible] has a daughter. [illegible] bloke who [illegible] man who delivers [illegible] designer of Street Fighter III reckons it's absolutely brilliant and will be unveiled at a Japanese arcade show in January. 2. Dunno. Write to them and moan about it.

Dear Jazza
Can you answer my questions for me?
1 Now that there are a great many expensive games systems out does it mean that the asking price for cheaper models like the Master System and the NES etc will go down for the younger games users?
2. I am getting fed up with most of the hit Sega games appearing on the Megadrive and never coming out on the Master System or Game Gear Can you tell me if games like Robocod and Revenge of Shinobi will soon come out on the Master System?
Adam Holby, Stanstead, Essex

JAZ: 1. [illegible] news with [illegible] Nintendo have yet to [illegible] their price policies. 2. Yes I can, and the answer is no.

Dear Jazza
I have some questions for you to answer for me please.
1. Will Joe and Mac, Wrestlefest or Moonstone ever appear on the Megadrive, if so, when?
2 Is Immortal any good?
3. Is Sonic out on coin-op yet?
4. Is it true that Sega games prices are coming down?
5 Are there any cheats for Alisia Dragoon?
Andrew Connor, Jarrow, Tyne & Wear

1. Yes. 3. No. 4. Probably, but I [illegible] get hold of them yet.

Dear Jazza
Could you please answer my questions as it is essential I know
1. Can you buy UK games in Hong Kong?
2. If so, how much are they for the Megadrive?
3 Will a challenging Street Fighter 2 style game appear on the Megadrive?
4 Is Smash TV any good on the Megadrive?
5 What is the price of a Super NES in Hong Kong?
6. Which is better for its capabilities, the Super NES CD or the Wondermega?
Yuk Yan Fong, Walsall, Staffs

JAZ: 1. No 2. Japanese and American games are available and they're very cheap. 3. Inevitably. 4. Yes, I thought it was pretty jolly. 5. Shop around - if you look hard enough you'll find them for as cheap as £50. 6. Since the Super NES CD isn't yet finished, that question cannot be answered.

Dear Jaz
I will soon have enough money for a CD ROM unit and would appreciate you answering these questions.
1 I have a Japanese PAL 1 Megadrive. Does this mean I will have to buy an imported CD ROM unit?
2. If yes, will it take English CDs?
3. If no will the English Mega CD take Japanese CDs?
4. Is it true that you can play music CDs though your TV via the Mega CD?
5 Will there be CD versions of the following games
Predator II, Terminator, Terminator II, Sonic II, Batman, Spider-Man, Batman vs Predator?
Jimmy O'Connor, Bedford, Beds

[illegible] Looks unlikely, especially if [illegible] NTSC and PAL signals. 4. Yes [illegible] right leads. 5. No, yes, no, [illegible].

TIPS

Welcome to the first Sega-dedicated MEAN MACHINES Tips Section - the place to find the latest (and indeed greatest) Megadrive, Master System and Game Gear tips. But as you may imagine, we want more - much more - including any decent maps you may have. So, get all yourstuff together and send it all off to THE TIPS SECTION, MEAN MACHINES SEGA, Priory Court, 30-32 Farringdon Lane, London EC1R 3AU. A massive prize of software goes to the [illegible] tips [illegible]!

GOLDEN AXE 2

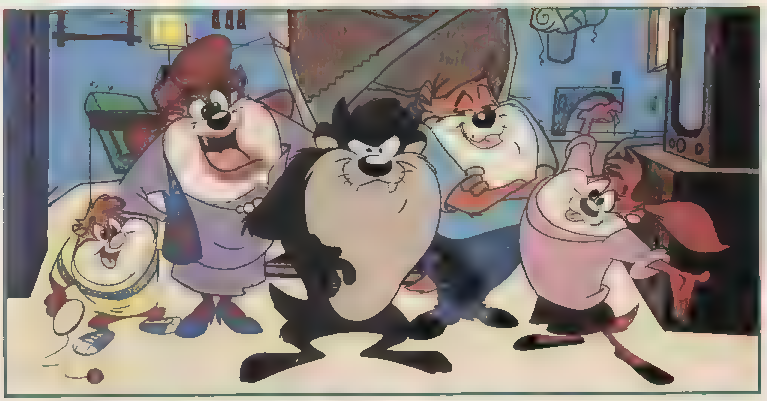
Two tips from one Paul Hulcup of Virginia in Aberdeen. The first of which enables you to select any level in the game. When the game starts hold the A, B and C buttons and press START. Release the B and C buttons but keep holding the A button. Go to the options screen and press B and C at the same time to enter it. Without releasing the A button, move the cursor down to EXIT and press B and C again. Keep holding the A button, press B and C together to make your choice of one or two players and press again to choose a NORMAL game. Select your character and, without releasing the A button, hold UP on the pad and press B, C and START simultaneously. Select your round with A or B. Got it?

Increase your credits by holding down buttons A, B and C when you enter the OPTIONS screen. Let go of A but keep B and C pressed. Move down to EXIT and press START. Choose a NORMAL game by pressing the A button. Your credits should have increased to eight. Wowzers!

[illegible] Ng of Tooting, London, sent in this load of tips for Sol Deace that may seem slightly more complicated than the game itself! On the title screen press A, B, C, A, B, C, B, C, A and you'll hear a sound. Now go to option where there are two new options: START and MODE. START is a choice of starting levels, MODE is the difficulty setting (NORMAL or EASY). Also, on MODE, hold down button A and press right a few times until you come to 'MY99'; this starts the game with 99 lives. Holding button A and pressing right [illegible] holding [illegible] is invulnerable. During the game you can skip levels by holding down all three buttons. Lastly, should you wish to play in slow motion: pause the game and press any button.

BACK TO THE FUTURE III

Moving forward in time inside this game couldn't be easier. Pause the game and press these buttons simultaneously: UP and A, DOWN and A, LEFT and A, RIGHT and A. By doing this you skip to the next stage and all without the aid of a Flux Capacitor.



TAZMANIA

Darren Francis has devilishly discovered these useful tips to aid the hungry Taz on his dizzy way. For unlimited continues Go to badlands stage two and make your way to the top ledge. Once there go to the far left and get the extra life. Walk right until you see the boulder beast, jump over him and keep walking right keeping the boulder beast on screen When you see the bottom of the extra continue, jump on the boulder beasts head jump up to the ledge and collect the continue. you can repeat this as many times as you like but die when you have the three up and then repeat

EXTRA LIFE AND SHORT CUT THROUGH SECOND FACTORY STAGE

Pull the third lever (where the chicken is) instead of going back the long way Drop down and run right You should now have diffused a bomb and see the top half of a robot Keep going to the right jumping obstacles and eating food as you go. Instead of dropping down jump over it to get the food and extra life Now drop down Finish the stage normally

SECRET ROOM

Hold down on the directional pad and press button C. You should then enter a room full of extra lives etc.

TROUBLE SHOOTER

To get a stage select press RIGHT, C and START simultaneously on controller two at the title screen When the words "SELECT STAGE" appear press RIGHT, C, and START to advance the stage number. Once again, our thanks to Darren Lewis of Coventry.

ARCUS ODYSSEY

Although this is a simple sort of quest there might still a few simpletons who are having problems. Nobody's going to ask you to raise your hand or anything, just read these codes sent in by Andrew Johnstone and don't tell anyone.

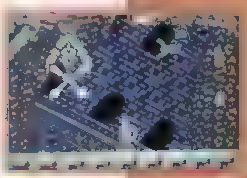
- JEMOFRANICE
- JMMCMOJMO
- JMMCMJMMS
- KBMCMUOOFA
- KBMCMUOJOF
- KMMCMUMOOF

TASK FORCE HARRIER EX.

Hold down A while you turn on your Megadrive. Release A at the title screen and press UP, DOWN, LEFT, RIGHT, A, C, B. Select CONFIG from the title screen. There should now be two new options on the option screen: MUTEKI (invincibility) and WINDOW (which controls the screen size). During the game press START, pause then press A to skip to the next level. Thanks to Hamish Lewis of Coventry.

KRUSTY'S FUNHOUSE

Here's a way to raise a smile on the face of even the saddest clown struggling with Krusty's Super Fun House. Simply type SMAILLIW as the password and all the doors to all the levels will be opened. Whey hey! Thanks to Darren Banks of Brighton for that one.



GHOULS AND GHOSTS

This game is a tough skull to crack as those of you who've played it no doubt know all too well Here's a cheat which to make Arthur invincible and kills all known germs... dead! This tip should work for the American version of the game Switch on your Megadrive, with the cartridge in, and press RESET four times then let the title screen appear Press A four times then press the control pad UP, DOWN, LEFT, and RIGHT. Listen for a sound Press START to get to the player selection screen Finally hold down button B and press START. From what we remember, though, you can still run out of time and fall into the traps in the burning village Ooyah!

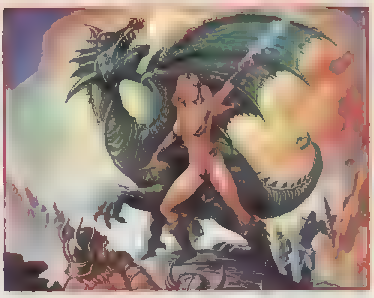
TIPS

ROLLING THUNDER II

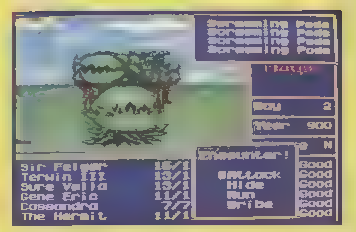
I should imagine that most are happy enough to get through Rolling Thunder II the first time round. Not so for superhuman Stuart Collings of Letchworth for it is he who has compiled a list of codes for the Rolling Thunder 2 second quest and here they jolly well are:

LEVEL 2: [illegible]
LEVEL 3: [illegible]
LEVEL 4: [illegible]
LEVEL 5: [illegible]
LEVEL 6: [illegible]
LEVEL 7: [illegible]
LEVEL 8: [illegible]
LEVEL 9: [illegible]
LEVEL 10: CICK
LEVEL 11: NPDN



ALISIA DRAGOON

James 'Capability' Capeling (?!), who hails from Canterbury supplied us with this handy Alisia Dragoon discovery. Using George Nagata's tip from issue 23 which warps you to level seven, raise your lightning level to eight, maximise your hit power, become immortal then press A on pad two again and, this time, press B and C together warping you to the final two bosses. Hurrah!



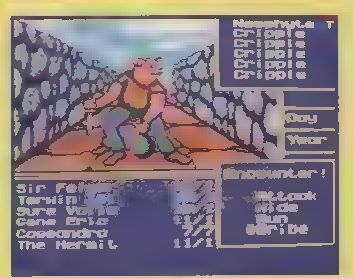
MIGHT AND MAGIC

Here's a veritable scoop of amazing tips for this pretty decent role-playing game. Our deepest thanks go to Mark Knotley of Cressing near Braintree. Hurrah!

INFINITE FOOD: Sod the diet, get some food dam yah! Access the command list and choose SHARE then FOOD. Continue using these commands and everyone in your party shall possess loads of food. Burp.

SUPER WEAPONS: Choose to view a character from the noncombat menu. Press LEFT, A and C, then release all three buttons at once when 'WHICH?' appears. Choose a character with the best weapons and armour and then trade them with the rest of the party.

Please note that these codes are for the American version of the game. Since the code system on the Japanese version is completely different, none of these codes will work, but still, if you complete this quest you get a special ending too. What more could a guy ask for?



KID CHAMELEON

To warp to the final boss from Blue Lake Woods 2: make your way through the level until [illegible] press [illegible] buttons held down says David Allen from Cheriton, Kent.

WONDER BOY: THE DRAGONS TRAP

Here are a list of codes supplied by Chris Kelsey from Sheffield making it possible to begin the game, powered up and raring to go Each code is followed by it's respective result.

2CKF 7L4 800Z: L.zard-Man (one heart)
L1Z4 C15 EG6V 4FU. Mouse-Man (three hearts)
G1ML X7V ERA2 D2G: Piranha Man (four hearts, dragon mail)
E00X DD7 AKDB R4D: Lion-Man (three hearts; Thunder saber; Hades armour)
THC7 YHZ CKGJ TVD: Hawk-Man (three hearts, thunder saber; 4096 gold)

Chris also writes that entering the door to the right of the start with the Thunder Saber and hitting the destructible block causes a door to appear Go through this door and you change to one of your previous forms.

PACM

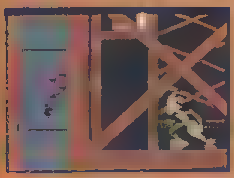
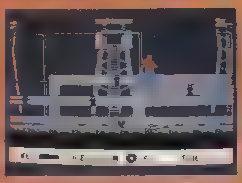
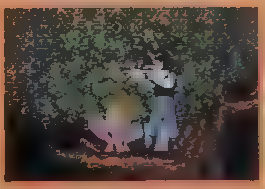
sense has helped him to formulate a series of hints and cheats for this "swinging" Master System game. They only work in Nightmare mode though so wimpos can just forget it.





WAREHOUSE: Jump kick all the lightbulbs to turn them out The enemy will not be able to see you However this doesn't work against the fork lift truck or Dr Octopus.

SEWER: Once the Lizard is defeated go to the far right of the screen and fall down the hole Get the key and head to the bottom right Pull down and jump and fall beneath the slime Jump quickly along to confront Venom



POWER STATION: Turn off the bottom two switches and continue right to the end Just before the wall there are any small windows Kicking one of these will turn off the light Now go to the far left and up to the top then over to the right to turn off the electricity Keep heading right, without killing anyone, and Electro makes an appearance Having beaten him you find yourself on a sub- ever trying to find a key Go to the top right and then the top left hand corner Kick out the top windows to shut off the electricity and save you hassle later on Collect the key and fall straight to the bottom left hand corner and collect the Game Gear Press button two in your apartment to bring yourself to a PacMan game If you then die on the first level you will start with full energy in the park. Hurrah

PARK: There's not much to do here, just kick the street lamps and then the fire hydrant when leton from Weymouth, Dorset sent in this tip for Pacman's 3D chomp romp. Eat all the pills except the power pills and a large pill should appear at the centre of the board. Eat this to enter the secret level coin world. Amazing stuff eh?

...ANIA

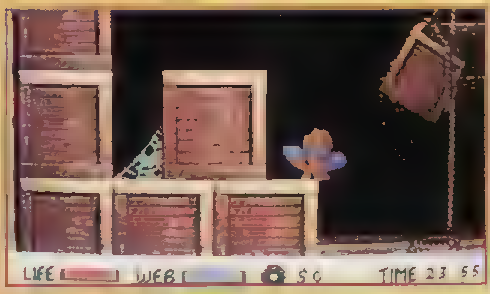
...-MAN



the Sandman is under it

CITY: Kick out all the street lamps to avoid being hit by bullets. Punch the letter boxes to get extra energy. When your spidey sense tingles go to the top of the highest building and beat Hobgoblin. This then transports you to a sub-level which puts you head to head with Venom. Corner him and let fly with the punches.

CAVES: Again, pretty straight forward here but a bit tough too. If you get injured badly, remember your apartment at its strange recuperative powers.

THE KINGPIN: Keep firing webs at him until you are close enough to kick him. Repeating this guarantees an early death for the fat rotund, roguish one and lots of big kisses from Spidey's wife, Mary Jane.

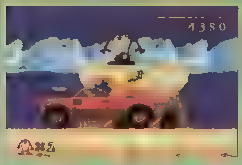
BEATING THE BOSSES

For the most part, the bosses in Taz-Mania don't provide too much of a threat. However, there are handy hints to kill most of them quicker than usual.

PICK-UP

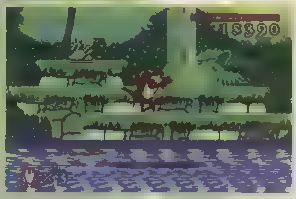


The easiest way to kill this blighter is to pick up the bomb on the second platform and drop it on the truck as it passes below you. Should you fail this, just stand in the middle of the screen and as soon as the truck enters the screen, use a small jump and spin. You need to repeat this about four times to kill it.

BUSHBOY

Your skills are tested to the utmost when facing Bushboy. Well, not really. First of all, instead of leaping to the left at the top of the tree, leap right for an invincibility star. Now go back to the left to face Bushboy and just keep spinning into him with no risk of injury.

BIG PLANT MAN

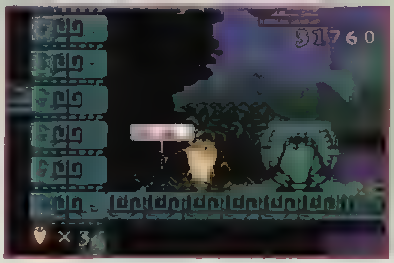


Pick up the handy packet of weedkiller and chuck it at the hapless vegetable for the fastest results. Otherwise, just spin into his head when he lowers it.

MOMMA BIRD

This is it - the end of the game. Momma Bird isn't actually that difficult to beat, but takes a little more technique than the other bosses. First of all, stay to the left of the screen to avoid the right wing, which attacks first. Then switch sides to avoid the other wing. Repeat this until Momma Bird shows her head. The leap onto the right hand platform, and jump and spin to the far left. You should hit her beak (she flashes if you do). Repeat this six times to complete the game. Simple eh? Or is it? You decide!

TAZ-TEC



Another tricky boss here. Just keep on spinning into the blighter, having a care not to spin too far right, or else suffer severe scorching from the fire-breathing statue.

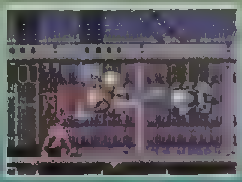
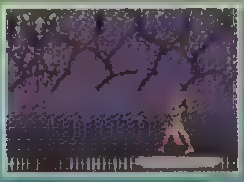
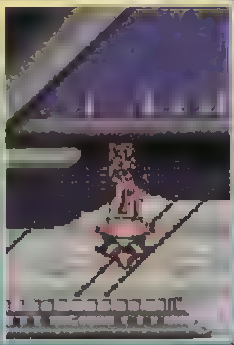
TIPS

STAGE 3

Select the Boomerang Lizard at the start of this stage and shoot the turrets that are firing at you. At the far right a hover-board riding type appears, shoot him then head left picking up all the items as you go. Then go back right and get on the hoverboard. Jump into the mouth of the ship and pick up the potion and the food, then jump onto the top of the creature's lip and grab the Creature Level-up. Then jump and shoot to find a hidden fairy (Thunder power max). Head all the way to the left, using your Thunder to its full potential, (in other words, shooting constantly). Don't stop at all, just keep walking and shooting. Walk to the very far left and a potion and a continue await discovery. Head up the ledges, nab the Thunder power-up and the hidden food right above the hoverboard. Jump to the right from hoverboard to hoverboard, and at the far right you are attacked by several different enemies. Take them all out by using the fireball and don't stop firing till they're all dead.

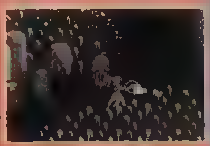




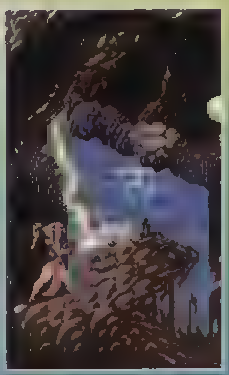


STAGE 4

Start by dropping down to the left. Pick up the items on the far left, then take out the worm monster tunnelling up from the ground to receive maximum Thunder power. Then head to the extreme right to find another creature power up and jump the ledges heading up. Once at the top, head left to the other ledge for a HP Up and continue in this direction, dropping down the hill for food and a potion. Go left up the hill at the end of the ledge there is another potion. Drop off to the right for a creature level up. Go back towards the right for more food and another potion. Continue left and up the hill and pick up the potion at the top. Drop from this point for a hidden continue. Go back to the top of the hill and head right to find the pterodactyl. Stand on the far right of the screen sucking and shooting. When it lets loose with a fireball jump over it and keep shooting. Once it dies, head right and pick up the potion, then jump (don't fall) to the right and head up the hill.



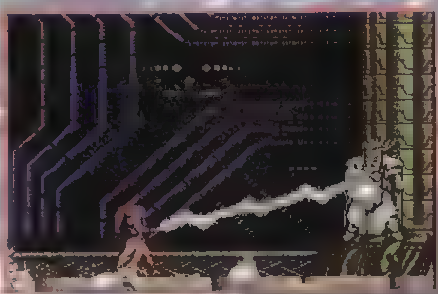
STAGE 5



Walk all the way to the right jumping over the gap just past the second waterfall. Pick up the revive and the potion. Walk up against the cavern wall on the right and use your powered up weapon and you'll see a small explosion on the wall. Now walk through the wall and collect the two creature level ups. Walk out of the room towards the left and fall down the gap. At the bottom, walk right, while destroying the spinning rocks. Head up the incline on the right, destroy the spinning rock on the other side, and jump onto the little ledge where the rocks once stood for a potion. Continue right and watch out for the bouncing boulders. Keep going right past the spinning rocks until you find the food and the potion. Go back towards the left and jump up to the ledge. Continue left but be careful of falling down gaps or you will have to repeat this part of the level. At the far left is a potion and a Thunder up. Keep going left until you reach a wall and an item will appear in between two broken pillars (two fairies in fact). Go back towards the right still avoiding the gaps, until you see the fairies again. They create a platform that allows you to climb to a higher ledge. Go right and you should find one potion and some food, then follow the arrow right to the exit.

FIRST LAST BOSS

Constantly shoot him while jumping over the flames which come out of his hands. When he shoots out a fire snake move left to right jumping over the flaming serpent. When the snake breaks up run left and duck to avoid the body segments. Repeat this procedure until defeated.



STAGE 6

through. Continue right and climb up t ceiling next to where there is a hole in the wal At the top go to the far right to find a double grub fest. Head first hole you come to. Walk to the he left and drop down the first wall on the far left. Walk into the wall to find a secret room contain ng food, two potions and a con tinue. Go out of the secret room and turn right. Fall through the first hole and get two potions. Continue right and you finish this area. You will be in a large room go to the far right for a potion. Now fall through a hole on the left t to find some food, then left and through the hole next to the wall. Continue left passageway. Go up the passageway through two holes and continue right. You will be in another small the boss

Concentrate your firepower on the wizard. Keep an eye out for where the machine guns appear. Avoid the bullets and continue to fire at the wizard. After he is defeated head to the bottom to find the hallway which leads to the exit to the right to find a creature level up. Go back to the left and fall through the hole. Once you fal down to the next hallway, head to the far right to find a potion. Then go bac first ha find a left an floor. level go power-up and climb up the hole you just fell

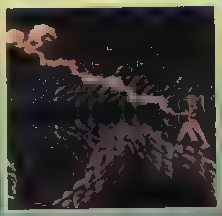
Walk right and uncover a potion, but watch out for the gas spewing forth from the rocks. Shoot the green eye so that it shrinks and jump across to the ledge above (be careful of the lava that shoots up). Continue this pattern all the way to the right. There is some food on the far right hand side, after grabbing this turn around and go up the ledge towards the left. Up to the right past the green eyes is a potion. Once you've got this climb the ledge right above you and go right, watch ng out for falling rocks. There s a potion right before a ledge that goes up. Go up the ledge and then head far left until you find some fairies. Head back right, down the ledge and back to the left. At the far left climb the wall and at the top of the ledge the fairies will appear and form a platform. Jump on the platform and continue up. At the top there is a potion just before the boss.



To defeat the boss, stand on the highest ledge and face right. Wait for the tank to come towards you and as soon as it shoots its lasers, jump straight up to avoid them. Jump over it as it comes towards you, then turn around and shoot it from behind. The next time it comes by it lobs grenades at you. Wait for all the grenades to be thrown, then jump over it and shoot it from behind again. Repeat this pattern until it is defeated.

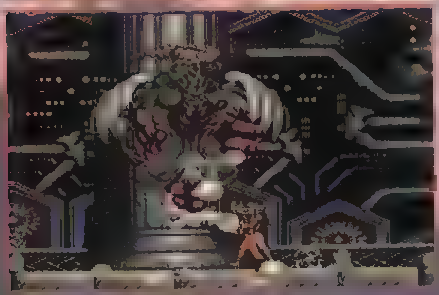
Start by going down the stairs to get the potion. Next head right (be sure to defeat all the green slime on the walls) and up the stairs. Once on top go left. Go up the stairs at the end of the hallway then go to the right to yet another set of stairs heading up (get the potion at the bottom of the stairs). Go up and you are in an area with three disappearing enemies. Defeat the three enemies and get the creature level up and the food. Now shoot the ceiling with a fully powered shot and a set of stairs forms, go up these to face the boss.

Wait for the Spitting Boss to appear, then immediately free attack while running to the right side of the screen. When you reach the far right, jump to avoid the fireballs and head all the way to the left (be sure to take out the two wizards that appear on the far left). When you reach the far left wall and have killed the two wizards, duck down to avoid the bullets coming from the other two. Once you have avoided the bullets run left and start the procedure again.

Once he is defeated, shoot the ceiling with a fully powered shot to form another staircase. Take the stairs up and then make your way quickly up to the next room using the stairs. Get the four items on the right and head left. Jump on the first spinning triangle and it will move left, then up. Then, once it has reached the top, jump to the right onto another spinning triangle (which doesn't move). Jump to the next triangle on the right and it will take you all the way in that direction. At the far side, jump right onto a spinning triangle which is positioned off screen (so you can't see it), it will move up. Once it reaches the top, jump two triangles to the right and exit to

REALLY LAST BOSS



When he flies to the right and face him, making sure that he is totally off screen. The alien constantly will jump up and down so the snakes cannot hit you. Eventually he will fly back to the right. Stand to the right of him, waiting for him to shoot his fireballs. When he shoots, run left and jump to avoid them when they hit the ground. Repeat this until he bites the dust.

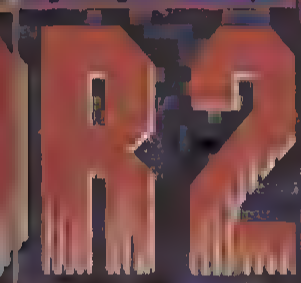
REVIEW

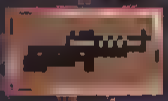
DANGEROUS LI-ALIENS

The Predators in the game are almost as dangerous as those in the film. They're equipped with all the weaponry you might expect, except big nuclear laser cannons. The staple of the Predators' arsenal is the telescoping spear which has heat-seeking capabilities, making it quite a threat to the safety of our hero. The flying disc is probably the most dangerous weapon though. A kind of giant razor-sharp shuriken, the disc is thrown at great speed and is very difficult to dodge. The Predators also carry weighted nets which they use to trap their prey against walls, making them easy targets for a few attacks before escape is possible. Still, at least the Megadrive Predators are a little more sporting than their film counterparts and don't turn themselves invisible before attacking!



PICKING UP A FAT ARSENAL

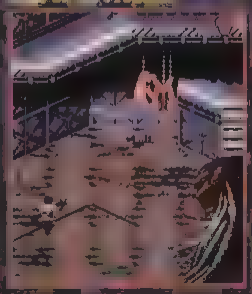
This being Los Angeles in the year 1997, there are a lot of powerful hardware around with which to dispose of your enemies. Sadly for Harrigan, most of it is in the hands of the gangsters, with the heroic cop having to make do with only his trusty infinite-ammo handgun. Still, extra weapons are revealed by shooting certain enemies or finding them lying about on the streets. The weapon currently in use is shown in the bottom right of the screen, along with the amount of ammo left in it. The weapons you have collected are changed using the C button to cycle through them. The control of the weapons in your character is detailed below...

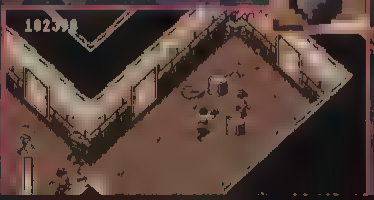


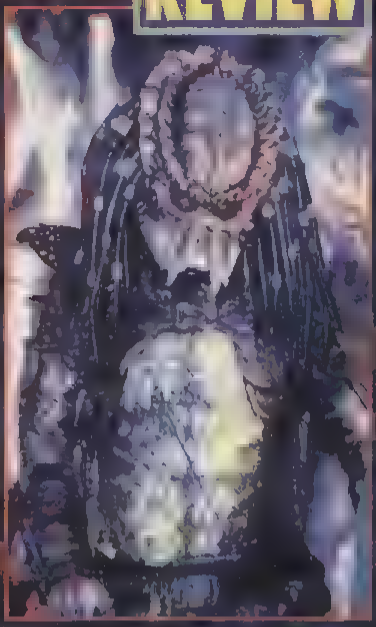
SCATTER GUN: Sprays a three-way stream of bullets across the screen at rapid speed, but uses up ammo quickly.

SAWN-OFF SHOTGUN: The [illegible] armoury, the shotgun fires [illegible] but it's great [illegible] tive capabilities.

GRENADES: Highly effective explosives which wipe the screen clean but are pretty difficult to aim.

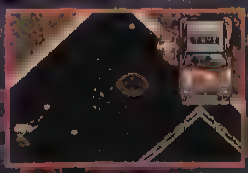






COMMENT

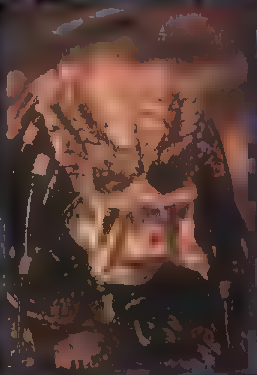
Predator 2's disappointing looks belie its good quality playability. The sprites are small and not brilliantly drawn and the perspective is sometimes pretty dodgy. Also, apart from the last couple of backgrounds, there really isn't that much graphical variety between levels. Still Predator 2's frenetic blasting action can be most enjoyable. True enough, the controls take a bit of getting used to, the same as with any control system with an aim lock facility, and sometimes there isn't much order to the destruction, but it's great fun to play nonetheless, with loads of death and destruction to enjoy. This cart is a bit like a more exploratory version of Total Carnage, but the freeform find-your-own way around levels can be a bit annoying as you never know where the next attack is coming from. Predator 2 is probably a good choice for those let down by the sadness that is Smash TV. It's good fun and much more responsive, making for a far more enjoyable game.



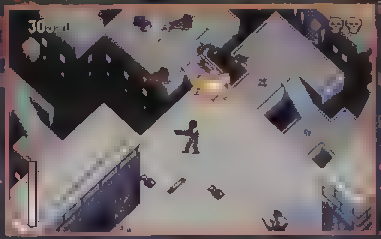
▼ No cab driver is safe from Harrigan!

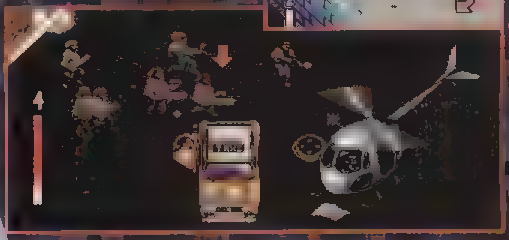
REVIEW

HOSTAGE OF CONSENT



You'd think it would be easy being a hostage, after all it's pretty safe until your [illegible] runs out and the ransom remains unpaid. Not so with the hapless prisoners in Predator 2. The Predator has decided simply to use these prisoners as bait to lure Harrigan into his lair. Unfortunately, the alien is after a little [illegible], so Harrigan must reach the innocents before the [illegible] has time to [illegible] them. His job is made a [illegible] by the [illegible] of lesser targets guarded by the alien. If he sees this on the screen, it's a good idea for him to run past it and rescue the hostage the signs are heading for. If you don't make it in time you're treated to watching the sitting duck explode, with eyeballs flying towards the screen. Only a certain number of hostages can be killed by the aliens before it's Game Over time. The exact number depends on the skill level. The number of hostages you've lost is shown by a skull indicator in the top right of the screen.





COMMENT

Phew, what a relief. Acclaim have resisted all temptation and avoided spewing out another feeble platform answer to a film license. Instead they have done themselves proud with an Alien Syndrome/Total Carnage clone that isn't half bad. Unfortunately this is the second Sega game I've played this month with a crippled control system. Gnnh... Fortunately the nature of this game is more forgiving than Smash TV and so isn't half as frustrating as it could've been. Graphically Predator II is a bit scruffy. The sprites are good enough but certainly not brilliant. The sounds are a little fuzzy round the edges too. However the game packs a polished challenge and I'll never be one to turn away from that. Even the most hardened blast freaks are provided for here, especially on the hard setting where sharp reflexes and a cool head are needed. I wouldn't put this at the top of my list for shoot 'em up fun and frolics but Megadrive owners can certainly do a lot worse at the moment. I like it. Not a lot, but I like it.

OPTIONS SCREEN

DIFFICULTY SETTINGS: Three, each governing the number of [illegible] you can take and hostages you can lose.

SOUND TEST: Test the tunes and effects and even turn the effects off if you want.

CONTINUES: A fine password system effectively gives you [illegible] the machine off.

LIVES: Three.

PRESENTATION 87

▲Lots of nice intros and interactions featuring your friendly neighbourhood alien plus plenty of options.

GRAPHICS 65

▲The animation is pretty decent throughout.
▼Small wobbly sprites and quite bland backdrops.

SOUND 78

▲Decent Shooting effects to accompany things the action.
▼The tunes, though accomplished, grow dull after a while.

PLAYABILTY 70

▲Pretty logical once you get used to the controls, plus decent response.

LASTABILITY 76

▲There are seven levels to keep you going...
▼...but with the password system they might not last as long as you'd think.

OVERALL 80

A fine blasting game which should appeal to all mass carnage and destruction fans.

HOW TO PLAY

Guide Chelnov through a forced scrolling platform environment to kill Deathanians.

Hot on the heels of those Two Crude Dudes comes Data East's latest release - Atomic Runner, aka "Chelnov". To set the scene, aliens are inv[illegible]ake matters here first. Ye[illegible]t of the spookit[illegible]s of years o[illegible] of the ancient[illegible]ain that their h[illegible] the dawn of man. Or so they say...

Chelnov is our hero whose father, a gifted scientis[illegible] alien assault. He directs his son to a chest that contains a suit of extraordinary power that was left behind by the gormless extra-terrestrials inside one of the pyramids. This fabled garment endows the wearer with super-human powers that enable them to become the infamous "Atomic Runner" of the title. To top it all Chelnov's sister was kidnapped by the Deathanians too. So our hero dons the mystical outfit and sets out on his desperate quest. However, all is not lost because there are [illegible] around [illegible] plot it might be, our Data East may just have released one of the most exciting titles for Sega's beleaguered 16-bitter this year. Interested? Read on...

Behind you...

▲ Did you spill my pint?

Die, die! Kill, kill!

▲ Who'd be a postman eh?

WAR AND PEACE.

The start of the game has the most extraordinarily long introduction. Giving you the full history of how Chelnov actually became the Atomic Runner; how his father died; how his sister got kidnapped; how Chelnov was all ready to save us all but in the end gets kidnapped himself... and all at the appendages of the Deathanians.

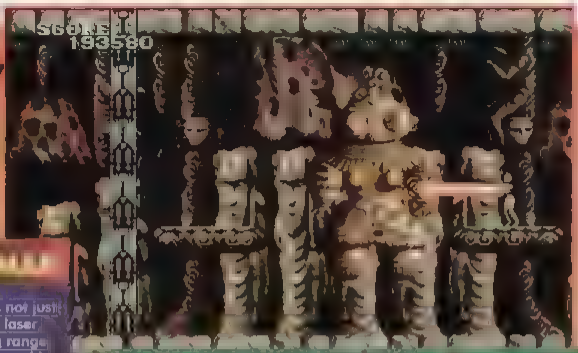
REVIEW



"With a rebel yell..."

SPIKED BALLS

Chelnov's weaponry is not just limited to his standard laser with its restricted firing range and power. No, his arsenal is inordinately capacious indeed. Just take a gander at some of these babies:

BOOMERANG The range of this weapon is slightly limited but is rapid firing, very powerful and simple to use.

LIGHT RING Very difficult to miss with this one once you have it fully powered up. It has a wide attack area so you don't need to be a world champion marksman to get results. Beware though because it's hopeless when unpowered.

MORNING STAR This is a sad weapon if ever there was one! It is extremely useless in its basic form and isn't much better when fully powered up. Avoid, you fools, avoid!

HOMING MISSILE This seems to be the same whatever your power level. It is impossible to miss with this one so long as you're pointing in the right direction. Its destructive power is weak though which often results in problems of the screen-full-of-Deatharians and-nowhere-to-hide kind. Gnnnh!

SPIKED BALLS According to the instructions these are the strongest and fastest of all weapons which may be true. But, because of their incredibly short range, these turn out to be almost as embarrassing as the morning star.

Atomic Runner breathes new life into the runny-jumpy-shooty genre on all fronts. The graphics are nothing short of stunning, the sprites are gorgeous, although some of them are a bit small, the backgrounds are breathtaking and some of the guardians are truly amazing. The sound is great too, the effects are smart and the tunes are some of the best yet on the Megadrive. Gameplay-wise, once you've got the hang of the awkward controls it's pretty hard to fault. There are loads of things to shoot at in all directions, and things often get pretty frenetic as you blast at several targets at once whilst simultaneously avoiding various hazards and crevasses. Although there are a few new and original features in Atomic Runner, what makes it such a classic is its flawless implementation, including a challenge hefty enough to maintain the appeal of the game for ages. This is really how shoot 'em ups should be.

REVIEW

I had been hoping that this game would live up to the very fine screen shots that have been circulating throughout the industry over the past few months. Happily Atomic Runner has more than done them justice. This game is just what the Megadrive needed to raise it above the quagmire of mediocre titles that have dogged the machine of late. Those of you who have been longing for a game to keep you up into the early hours may have the answer to their prayers right here. The graphics are astoundingly well-detailed with some of the strangest bosses I've seen in a long time - take for example the granite serpent on level two. The action is non-stop which means that you are irresistibly glued to the screen. Also, because the screen is scrolling constantly, regardless of whether you want it to or not, there is an additional urgency to your task. This forced scrolling effect also lends itself to a rather different style of play than other platform games. At first the controls seem a little odd but, with a little practice, you soon have people gasping in awe at your skill. The only real fault with Atomic Runner is that everything is so small. This is the factor which has attracted the most comment, yet this doesn't detract anything from the gameplay in my opinion. Atomic runner is a worthwhile contender for any serious shoot-em-up or platform maniac's collection, so if that's you, what are you waiting for?

SOMERSAULTING SHENANIGANS

Not content with his ability to blow anything away with only a few well aimed blasts from his large weapon, Our man Chelnov has the potential to spin in the air as he jumps, sending out multi-directional death when he fires simultaneously. A good way out of potentially tricky situations.

PRESENTATION 90

▲ Extensive introduction screen that seems to go on forever. Animated title screen and between stage map add to the games appeal

▼ There are no real minus points, honest!

▲ evident in both the main sprites and backgrounds - both of which are well-animated.

▼ It's a shame that everything is so small though.

SOUND 99

▲ Exciting music enhances the frantic gameplay. Many decent spot effects.

▼ But there are some whiffy ones in there too.

PLAYABILTY 85

▲ The controls are quite fiddly at first but once you get the hang of things they become almost instinctive.

▼ This may initially put some people off playing the game.

LASTABILITY 89

▲ Beta East themselves suggest that this game packs quite a challenge - it does.

▼ Once you have finished the game you may not feel like returning to it.

OVERALL 91

A welcome challenge after so many games that have been just too easy. The only thing to really moan about in this title is its miniaturised graphical style, but even that doesn't affect the gameplay at all and the end result is a superb blaster.

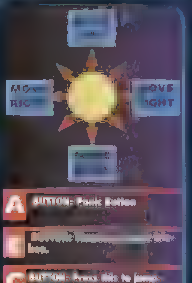
ORIGIN

Green Dog was originally a board game that gained cult status in the USA.



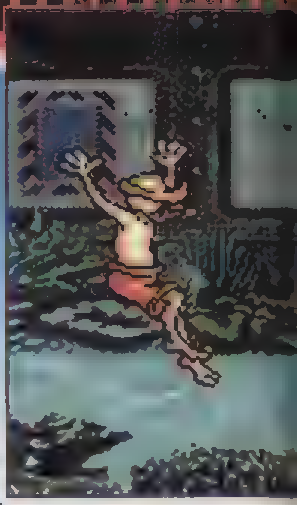
HOW TO PLAY

Guide Green Dog through six different Caribbean islands and Aztec ruins to retrieve pieces of the magical surfboard.

reen Dog!? What the hell is Green Dog!? A fam y pooch from Se afield? Or alternat vely a canine that carries t s own pooper scooper? Nope both wrong! Green Dog is in fact the name of a Cal fornian surfing fellow. Yep! It s time to wheel out a million and one phrases we know and love like bogus bummer bodacious etc and all pretend we live on the west coast USA.

Anyway Green Dog s minding his own bus ness riding the waves one day when a particularly huge wave washes him ashore on a foreign beach. He notices a strange medallion hang ng about his neck just at about the same time that a beautiful young beach babe appears out of thin air. She explains that the only way to get r d of the hated decoration is to reunite t with the treasures of the Aztecs. The whereabouts of these are indicated on the back of the medallion.

"Hey, no probiemo" he thinks. However there is an added clause to th s desperate s tuat on. His surfing skills are be taken from him until such time that his mission is complete. Better start now then eh?



GREEN DOG

Jump. Jump.

WAY THE MOST GNARLY DUDE!

Green Dog may have been deprived of his surfboard but he still gets to party on other like, totally cool forms of transportation man. Like, hey, he rides a skateboard yeah and like he rollerskates too. Wow! Awesome man I ke cool.

COMMENT

Another top-quality package from Sega which looks gorgeous but is sadly lacking in gameplay. Everywhere there is impressive with the beautiful graphical style of the game and I for one have become rather endeared towards Sega's funky new Californian star. However, the game lacks content and, more importantly, challenge. Now, oh why, oh why won't Sega pay attention to the many comments made about the lack of challenge in their games these days. If people didn't want it they wouldn't ask for it would they? Green Dog has truly turned up to a bonza party, man. The most outstanding level in the whole game is the fish tank at Curacao. It's the only place in the whole game where you meet enough characters to consider Green Dog a worthy test of gaming skill. Even then the action is painfully slow and tedious. It's difficult not to applaud Sega for their tremendous efforts in the presentation department yet again, both graphically and sonically. Also there have been attempts to break the mould of the typical, run of the mill platform adventures with the various means of transportation at Green Dog's disposal. However the boredom factor soon begins to set in when you realise that there is little or no challenge found anywhere in GD.s island hopping adventure. The end result is that playing the game is a sort of detached, disinterested affair that takes very little time and practice to complete. Green Dog just doesn't have what it takes to truly party on in a bodacious way. Let's hope that the sequel succeeds where this

APPETITE FOR CONSUMPTION

Part of the game has Green Dog submerged in a giant fish tank and it's only a matter of time before he runs out of air. Unfortunately for him there are many occasions where he is likely to find himself most heinously returned to the start of the level. To add to his troubles the tank is swarming with malicious blowfish who like nothing better than to charge into him and cause no end of frustration.

BOGUS BLOWFISH BABOONERY

▲ Look out! Low flying transportation

Green Dog seems to want the world record junk food consumption award in a big way. Hidden behind trash cans, ornate pots or even statues are hoards of edibles such as hot-dogs, hamburgers and cans of cola. He never stops stuffing his face with the stuff, the fat get

COMMENT

It might look and sound great, but sadly Green Dog is lacking two very important details – playability and challenge. Unfortunately, like most platform programmers have gone overboard on the cutesy touches, nice animation, great backgrounds and funky tunes but forgotten to actually put a decent game in there. It's just not much fun to play, the frustrating sections are far too frequent and the underwater bits are as sluggish as treacle. Even the coffin is over-long to complete. During the game you learn the most rudimentary platform skills are required to hack it all the way through to each of the end-of-level guardians, which all put up little or no resistance to the long-limbed hero. Green Dog simply pales besides the likes of Revenge of Shinobi, Taz Mania, Sonic the Hedgehog, Mickey Mouse, Batman, Donald Duck, Kid Chameleon, Robocod and all the other great Megadrive platform games that are available. My advice is to take your pick from any of those before even looking at this.

PRESENTATION 90

▲ There's a rather neat introduction that explains the story behind the game.

▼ Not much in the way of options and only one difficulty setting.

GRAPHICS 92

▲ Graphically this game is excellent. The animation is very expressive and the backgrounds are similarly most worthy of praise too.

OVERALL 49

It might look and sound like it cost millions of dollars, but the game play ain't worth a dime. The lack of challenge and variety means that it only takes a day or so to complete this and soon becomes bored.

MEGADRIVE

1 EUROPEAN CLUB SOCCER By Virgin Games

As any frustrated Megadrive owning soccer fan knows, there's a surprising lack of quality football games available for the 16-bit wonder machine. European Club Soccer is a step in the right direction with decent graphics and sound (shame about the gameplay though). Obviously this is proving quite popular with you lot as it's shot in straight at number one!

3 THE TERMINATOR By Virgin Games

Virgin's extremely disappointing adaptation of the massive 1984 movie is still managing to shift large amounts of units out there in the shops. Although graphically and sonically amazing, the game suffers from being far too easy to complete. In fact, we did it in under 20 minutes - and that's official.

5 DESERT STRIKE By Electronic Arts

It topped the charts for many months, selling by the bucket-load to game-hungry Megadrive players after a completely amazing Gulf War "simulation". Desert Strike is now acknowledged as one of the best-selling Megadrive carts ever. What's more, as we speak, versions are being programmed for the Master System and Game Gear courtesy of Domark!

Aquatic games is the third title from Millennium featuring their secret agent fish - James Pond.

TURBO - Use this to run extra loops.

JUMP - Use your fins to make this explaining to you!

TURBO - Same as button A.

START/PAUSE - If you want to pause then this is your button.

PLAYABILITY

Aquatic games, featuring the secret agent fish - James Pond bears a close resemblance to many other sports games. Aquatic games is supposedly a parody of the genre.

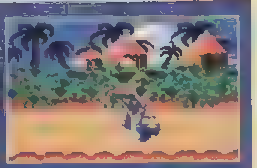
James Pond - secret agent Robocod is not the fish he used to be. Once feared ocean-wide and licensed to g i , he led the most fintastic lifestyle imaginable. Sea-bed ling the anenomes, overdoing it on the dophe a n ght after n ght - the world was his oyster. But such dissolute living does not go unpunished. A whale reader. The most dangerous scaled thing in bra[illegible] a laughable, belly-up has been, ready for processing into tasty breadcrumbed fingers.

With this prospect in mind, the superiors decided to give him a long break and a chance to take part in the demanding 'Aquatic Games' - the nearest thing to Fishlympics for fin tailed sports fanatics. The games consists of eight distinct events, each with a salty flavour of its own. Though they may seem ridiculous to land creatures like you and I, each tests the stamina and reflex skills of the masters of the undersea kingdom.

Running, jumping, trampolining and uni-cycling, yes, a line-up of disciplines to rival our own beloved Olympics. Some, like the 100m splash need a quick spurt of power, others take a full four minutes of dazzling skill to steal gold. James Pond, as students of fish-y-anomy realise, is not physically suited to every event so he has assembled four teams of assorted sea-types to take part. The excitement mounts, can you handle it? Probably not since you've got fins, not fingers!

Let's have a look at what you 'cod' have won....

LEAP FROG



required to leap the electric eels which serve as hurdles. The occasional brine pool also hinders your 'phibious phlight for the tape. A deadline of 28 seconds is the max permitted.

LA ISLA BONUSA

jump. Each bonus game is optional and comes at a cost of half a million points. Those are occupied with bonus points, but only if you're good enough.

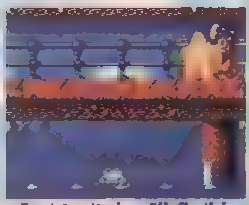
JUMP, JUMP. JAMES POND'LL MAKE YOU...

Allsorts of feeding time frivolity for Bertie Bass -ett

ATIC GAMES

ONE/TWO-PLAYER

Up to four players are able to compete in the Aquatic Games. The computer calculates the score totals. All events are played by individual players in turn, so there is no head-to-head. This means that only one joypad is required in port one.



I've 'star-'ted so I'll fin-'ish

COMMENT

Oh, how my sides still ache from the intense, never-ending laughter brought on by playing Aquatic Games. Not, alas, laughing at the sparse, humorous touches (a shark on a unicycle, oh too hee), but rather at the laughably empty and bland events. Button-bashing went out with Combat School all those years ago, so why there is a sudden interest in resurrecting it is beyond me, especially as it yields no entertainment value whatsoever. It's commonly thought that games of this ilk improve when played in a group. True enough, the one player mode is shockingly dismal, but Aquatic Games is actually worse when there are three or four people playing it. Mostly because the fish-feeding and Kipper Watching events are so very, very dull to sit through for up to quarter of an hour before you finally get your go - surely it couldn't have been too hard to include a selectable events tournament option? Even then the simplistic and limited gameplay don't make the wait worthwhile. The programmers have attempted to liven things up with a few funnies, but these don't extend beyond the usual array of fish guns found in the first two James Pond games - fine in their place, but basing a whole game around them is the biggest joke of the lot. Pond fans may be tempted by the sight of their hero, but anyone with more sense than money should save their cash for Splash Garden, the proper sequel to Robocod, which is out soon.

SHELL SHOOTING

the most complex of the Aquatic Games, Shell Shooting involves catching clams and catapulting them at the red balloons suspended from the ceiling. The clams are released from machines at either end of the playing area. To collect them jump on the end of their shells and they flip into the air.

The other species is a mechanical affair which electrocutes you on touch. Burst all the balloons within four minutes to qualify.

REVIEW

COMMENT

I never found the James Pond malarkey that rib-tickling, and the thicker the jokes are laid on here, the shallower the actual game appears to be. Aquatics has provided some light relief in the office, but more for its shortcomings than its intended humour. Playing on your own I don't see this lasting the week. For a group of players it may offer better value, but even Olympic Gold seems to have more design thought than this. Why the clutch of overly long events? Four minutes on the Fish Feeding is a trial to undergo, and Kipper Watching is an excellent relaxant, all the way from alert to comatose before you're finally granted a pardon and allowed to finish. The still graphics looked good when previewed, and they still are the game's best feature, but many of the backdrops are bland and poorly-animated (Kipper Watching again) and skew how understretched the Megadrive and programmers are with this game. I don't think "more events, please" would be an unreasonable request considering how easy most are to master. This is not as bad as it first looked to be, but will doubtless slip into the murky depths of undistinguished Megadrive games.

KIPPER WATCHING

/ To sleep, perchance to dream!

Meet the cheery winners of the Aquatic games. Do they look like they've just been to a funeral or what!

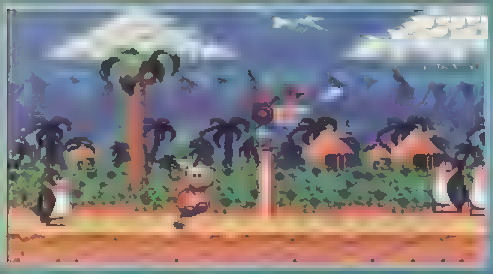
TEAM SPIRIT

James is supported by the Aquabats, the other team members who take part in some of the events There are four teams to pick from, each has members of similar ability and, strangely, on screen they all look exactly the same Be one of the 'Swamp Bay Splashers led by Steve Clam; the 'Hilly Island Hoppers with skipper Mickey O'Shell, 'Flappy's Flyers' dubiously captained by Flappy Macbeak; or the 'Deep Sea Dippers', who have Billy The Squid at the helm Select one and revel in its poor-punning antics!

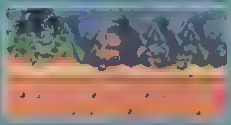
A chance for freestylers to step out with a four minute extravaganza on the sponge trampolines James Pond himself shows his aerobatic skills by spinning backward and forward somersaults and spins The event requires you to complete six each of the six combinations of moves within the time limit Extra style points are available for jumping between sponges and spinning the shells A mysterious box offers a propellant bonus when landed on.

BOUNCY CASTLE

100 METRE SPLASH



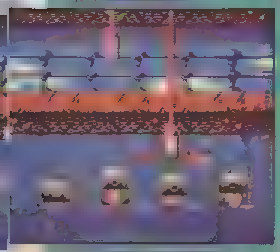
The first event is a button bash to warm him. Hammering the A and B buttons increases your speed, shown on an increasing red bar on screen. The nippy Portuguese frog is your pacer - beat him and you're sure to qualify within the 17 second limit. Savour the enjoyment of blasting the bird out the water as you whirl past, or perhaps if you act more considerately he could be a help



Limbo prepares to p-p-pick up a penguin. Yawn.

FEEDING TIME

More stromed scenarios here as you operate the limbs of Freddie Starr and his fish-feeding antics. The fish are popping up from under the pier, attracted by the sweets lowered on fishermen's hooks. Fred's 'sporting challenge' is to satiate the fishes' sweet-toothed urges with his own supply of candies. They then subside into the water uncaught. Your supply of sweetmeats must be replenished regularly from the vending machines on the pier. Lose two fish and the game is a bogey. To qualify simply last the four minute feeding frenzy.



HOP, SKIP AND JUMP

More pummelling delights here to score in the triple jump. This simple and short event comes in three stages. First the run up - gather as much speed as possible before jumping at the line. The second phase is the hop skip - still keep pressing those buttons to maintain power for the final lunge. Now an angle meter appears, rising towards the optimum 45 degrees. Pressing the jump button appropriately launches you to victory, and the sombrereed spectators

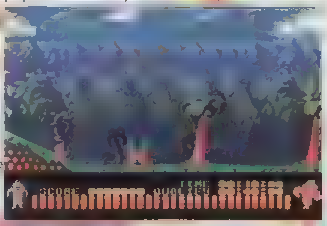
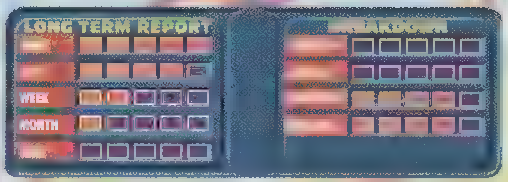
TOUR DE GRASS

Awful punning title and all-round punishing event. The Tour de Grass is actually a quick one-way sprint on a unicycle. The fiendish control method involves rotating the joypad in a clockwise motion to imitate the 'cycling act'. All other realism is abandoned as the course takes you over pointy hills, jagged bumps and 'cut-rock bumps which slow you down. See it all within the 40 second allowance - or so!





PRESENTATION 75

▲Up to four players and a practice mode.
▼You can't select events - a big oversight.

GRAPHICS 83

▲Brightly coloured, with some nice animated touches.
▼Nothing very innovative, and a feeling of flatness overall.

SOUND 72

▲Funky tie-in tunes like 'Trout quintet'.
▼The poor arrangements might not draw any smiles, though.

PLAYABILITY 58

▲Multiple players make for communal torture.
▼Some events are boring, some frustrating - none are particularly fun to play.

LASTABILITY 58

▲The game records bests and there is room to improve performances.
▼Aquabatics reveals how shallow it is quite quickly, with not much to look forward to.

OVERALL 61

If Robocod was the fillet, this is the fish-head. Nothing compared to its predecessor, the Aquatic Games is a dull sports game with a few feeble gags thrown in for good measure.

As any clever dude knows, mega-retailer Comet has just launched a brand spanking new section in all its stores called the GamesMaster Zone - a big area dedicated purely to consoles where you can check out all the latest games, give 'em a good playtest and spend your wonga! And if you haven't been there yet, you need your head examined.

So what's that got to do with MEAN MACHINES? Well, Comet are so pleased with the success of the new section that they've decided to celebrate by giving away a humungous prize in this whopper competition. And we mean huuu-mungous! The winner of this veritable prize fest will win a telly, hi-fi, video cassette recorder and a console of his or her own choice (either a Megadrive or Super NES) for his or her bedroom. And there are also 100 runners-up prizes of special Comet GamesMaster discount cards.

What have you got to do to win this plethora of top quality entertainment-related gadgetry? Well, we want you to design a poster to promote the Comet GamesMaster Zone using the MEAN MACHINES reviewer characters - the little men that appear with the reviewer's comments. The poster can either be funny, serious or totally wild 'n' wacky. Size doesn't matter (oo-er), and the picture can be full colour, painted with oils or presented in one-colour biro line-a-vision. It's totally up to you. Let your imagination run riot. And don't worry if you're not the greatest artist in the world - it's the ideas we're after, not the execution of them.

So pop down to your local Comet GamesMaster Zone, drink in the atmosphere to get yourself suitably inspired and get drawing. Once you've completed your poster, send it off to: MY POSTER IS BOUND TO WIN 'COS IT'S UTTERLY FAB COMP, MEAN MACHINES, PRIORY COURT, 30-32 FARRINGDON LANE, LONDON EC1R 3AU. The closing date is October 30th, so send your entries in before then or else...

Please note that entries cannot be returned and any artwork sent in for the competition becomes the property of EMAP Images.

SMASH TV

KILL WITH POWER

Courageous contestant, Colin, demonstrates the spinning satellite. Ooyah!

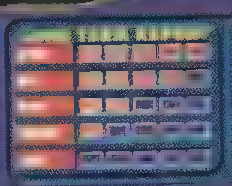
...u lose you're more likely to get a lead-lined box than a cheque book and pen.

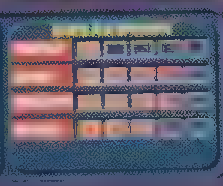
Yes, Smash TV is the all-shooting, all-exploding game show of tomor-

...tles against hordes of ...ormed clones with only his trusty machine gun to protect him.

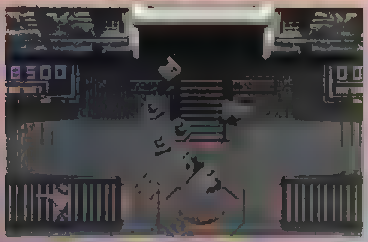
"The object of the game is to fight your way to the end of each

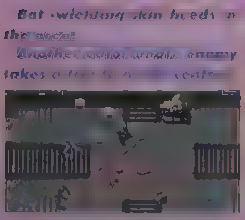
...giant guardian who waits there, whereupon you are rewarded with many prizes. Each level is composed of a series of single-screen rooms into which enemies pour. Once all the enemies in the room are dead, the player progresses onto the next and so it goes on. It's survival of the fittest on prime time TV and a new slant on the phrase your money or your life.





Contestants enter a series of rooms collecting prizes and blasting baddies in an attempt to become champion.





To be candid a contestant isn't much use with the laser provided at the start of the show. That's why the producers of Smash TV show have left random power-up icons dotted about the studios. Such as

SPREAD GUN: Sprays out a stream of plasma related death. Snarl

CHAOS CANNON: Deals out high impact shells of explosive right into the heart of the enemy. Whazzl!

SATELLITE: Revolves around the planet contestant in perpetual motion doubling up firepower and increasing the body count. Die, scum, die!

GRENADES: These green explosive life savers take out tons of would be trouble makers in one go. Just you try it. Just you dare to even

SUPER GRENADES: The mother of all grenades. Extremely powerful. Extre-e-emely nasss-tee

MATTHEW KELLY

The host of Smash TV would appear to have nicked much of his repertoire from the film Robocop. Phrases such as "I'd buy that for a dollar" and "I love it" to name but two. During the course of the show the hated MC provides such words of wit and if there's one thing the contestant becomes hell bent on achieving it's the demise of this tacky tormenter.

Didn't he do well! Some beats have all the luck...

COMMENT

Once again Megadrive owners have to sit and watch their Super NES-owning counterparts enjoy a fabulous conversion of an arcade rave - Smash TV - long before they can. Now the balance is redressed, slightly. Smash TV on the Megadrive is not the disaster it is on the Master System, but doesn't scale the heights of the SNES version. Despite saying that, though, it isn't half bad and I've had quite a lot of fun playing it. The main components of any decent conversion - the look, structure and the feel are all there, and arcade fans will appreciate the similarities of the versions. The graphics are a reasonable, though lack finesse, and the sound is passable. The most important aspect, the gameplay, is perhaps the most fudged. There's plenty of action, but it's not frenetic enough for junkies tuned into its hell-bent arcade parent. This all sounds sort of wishy-washy roundabout average, doesn't it? That's about right, I suppose. Smash TV will be enjoyed by the average Megadrive player, but the thuggish mobs expecting a perfect conversion may feel like a riot.

COMMENT

Smash TV owes much of its success to the instinctive, almost mindless method of gameplay required to progress through the levels. This Megadrive conversion is okay, but suffers because of its control system. The programmers have employed an awkward fire, reverse fire and lock alternative using the A, B and C buttons to replace the second joystick of the coin-op. This is very tricky to get used to and you find that more time is spent on trying to get the gun pointing in the right direction instead of concentrating on wasting the opposition. In a one-player show the option to use two pads works very well and recreates that intuitive feeling for mass destruction almost perfectly. However not everyone can take advantage of this option because not everyone has two pads to brag about. Also, in the two-player spectacle, there is no alternative but to do things the strange way. To make up for this the collision detection sometimes lets the contestant get away with the impossible. However players also find themselves blasting away at the enemy only to find that the first couple of shots have no effect. Very frustrating. I can't help feeling that Smash TV on the Megadrive should be much better than this. Certainly the animation of the bosses is a bit lacking, and the colours are a bit too bright to be really intimidating. Somehow the game just doesn't seem polished and isn't the excellent game that it could have been.

PRESENTATION 88

▲ Lengthy introduction screen sets the scene. There's the option to alter the control figuration.

▼ The title screen doesn't look very great and the options to alter the controls range from bad to worse.

GRAPHICS 88

▲ A close enough rendition of the arcade. Most of the sprites are nicely rendered and well animated.

▼ The bosses lack the impressive nature of their arcade counterparts.

SOUND 88

▲ The various gun samples and explosive effects are cool enough.

▼ A lot of the Arcade's speech is missing. The music has lost much of its appeal in translation to the Megadrive.

PLAYABILITY 88

▲ With two control pads you'd swear you were playing a decent conversion of the classic coin-op.

▼ The alternative is very frustrating and ruins everything.

LASTABILITY 88

▲ Smash TV puts up quite a challenge...

▼ ...as long as you're prepared to stick with the awkward controls.

OVER ALL 88

A flawed conversion of a classic game. A sadly missed opportunity which could have been bettered by a few tweaks in the right places.

FIRE

FIRE

Enter a series of single screen arenas and everything that attacks you and pick up extra weapons to help you stay alive.

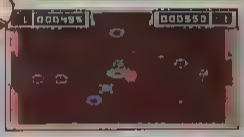
Can you imagine life without Paul Daniels? Is it possible to envisage a world not graced by Michael Barrymore? And lovable 'uncle' Bob Monkhouse, is there meaning to an existence bereft of 'The $64,000 question'? Well frankly yes, there is. And life would be a hell of a lot better without all that garbage on TV but, wouldn't you know, it's popular!

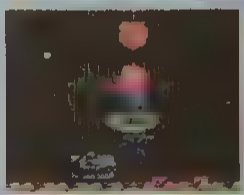
And so game show popularity flowed on unabated into the next century and lo, the games become ever less intelligent and ever more physical until someone said "Hey, let's dump all the questions and make them kill to win" That is how Smash TV was born, combining the mayhem of 'The Word' and the prizes of 'Every second counts' One or two contestants (Morris and his nephew Keith from Norwich in this case) don laser guns and a touch of make-up for the cameras and enter a series of arenas with the sole intent of killing everything that moves and picking up all the toasters and cash strewn around.

The main snag in this murder-fest is the fact the TV company want to keep their costs down. They'll throw everything they've got at you - club wielding maniacs, exploding fatmen, even tanks - to stop you making it away with your gains The only concession you have is the extra weapons they deign to offer you on a limited basis But these only last a short time and soon it's time for your reckoning with the mega bosses at the end of each arena complex.

Every game show needs a host, and 'Bob' and 'Paul' have been dumped in favour of the slick "Gunner Grant" grim grinder of the toy factory Smash. He seems to be on your side, but he's one of those types who doesn't like the punters outshining the real star.

So strap up, power up, and wise up to the 'Fifteen to One' of the twenty-first century - that's the odds on you surviving.





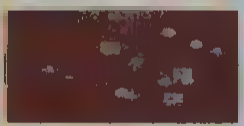
The two-player option is a very important part of the fun that is Smash TV On this version, the option of playing two players is set before the game begins Both play simultaneously, and the aim is to work as a team However, only one special weapon appears at any one time so fighting over [illegible] requires a certain cooperation

COMMENT

I loaded Smash TV up. Hmmm title screen looks just like the MD's. So does the intro. Hey maybe this is going to be - aaaaaargh it's terrible. Yes readers, a terrible shock. This isn't really Smash TV. Well, not 'Smash TV - the incredibly fun arcade game', or 'Smash TV - the reasonably presentable Megadrive game'. No, this is 'Smash TV - the hideous Master System travesty, crown prince of 8-bit atrocities.' The brilliant graphics and plethora of enemies of the original have been converted to a few jumpy sprites careening round a grey backdrop, endowed with the mysterious powers of teleportation that allow them to appear pretty much anywhere. The carefree programmers have decided to dispense with such dull rigours of collision detection, so feel free to die for no reason. The inability to portray more than eight sprites means the mass mayhem looks more like a mild fracas, leaving the gameplay completely unrecognisable and totally awful. Though all the levels of the original have been added, what's the point when it is ludicrously difficult and unfair, as well as innately tedious. The plea of hardware restrictions doesn't let it off the hook, though. Basic playability has been left out of the programming process, with weapons totally inadequate to the task. Even the inferiorities of the Master System allow a better conversion than this. The whole debacle is revolting and shambolic. Smash TV fans shouldn't be tempted because they won't recognise their fave [illegible].

COMMENT

It would be so nice if this was one of those games where we could say that looks are deceiving. On the face of it the screenshots look pretty bad, and the game seems worse when you see the terribly-animated characters limping and flickering around the screen. Unfortunately looks are not deceiving. Smash TV looks bad, sounds bad and plays very badly indeed. The controls are unresponsive, and when they do respond most often send you in the wrong direction, lurching to your doom at the hands of another formless character. The control system itself isn't that bad in theory, but the practice is a different matter, with the gun not turning when you want it to or locking in the wrong direction and leading to many a frustrating death. Master System Smash TV also features staggeringly few enemies on screen at a time, and seeing as the piles of bodies to blast was the major attraction of the coin-op this makes a mockery of the title. If wobbling-around-a-bland-background-occasionally-killing-a-single-club-wielding-thug-then-dying-without-being-hit-thanks-to-hopeless-collision-detection is your bag, Master System Smash TV is for you, you sad case.



TROUBLE WITH THE BOSS

There are 3 levels of Smash TV, each ending with a massive cybernetic monster to subdue and vanquish. A level is made up of a network of separate arenas connected by corridors. You get to view a map of each level with the bosses position marked after completing the first arena. On the first level the frightsome Mutoid Man rolls out on tank tracks, shooting from his laser-eyes. On level two Scarface fires globules of death from his hideous dial. Hit him enough times to reveal his unattractive skull features. The third boss emerges from the sandy floor of the next level - a grotesque serpent who needs multiple hits to his towering head. Finally, after a quick skip through some heavily defended rooms you face Damian Green, the host himself, depicted in his true bio-mechanical finery. Decline his invitation to eat eyeball, instead give him a facefull.

PRESENTATION

88

▲Two player option, nice wee bit of 'front end'

▼Players can't 'join in anytime'. No dual controller option

GRAPHICS

88

▲Nice logos and reasonable title screen

▼Grotty sprites, grotty animation, grotty colours. Consistency at least

SOUND

88

▲The game's best feature. A listenable version of the game tunes

▼Sadly the speech has to be omitted, but they show his mouth moving as token compensation

PLAYABILITY

88

▲The game's legendary simplicity means there's no taxing rules and keys to learn

▼There's more fun to be had playing with flat mammals on the road

LASTABILITY

88

▲The difficulty level sets you a challenge as tough as old boots

▼What do we do with old boots - "to the bin with you"

HOW TO PLAY

Guide the Prince through a number of platform levels in his attempt to rescue Jaffar and rescue the Princess before she gets hitched. So unless he wants to suffer a tedious best-man's speech, cheap plank and an empire sunk in to totalitarian darkness, it's pretty essential that he makes it to the church on time!

▲He's there at the door. Shame about the shoes, though...

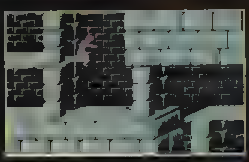
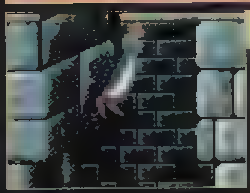
Who'd trust a politician? Unfortunately the Sultan of Persia did, and now he's looking at some big problems. While the Sultan is away victimising his people, his Prime Minister Jaffar has seized power, in spite of opposition from the Sultan's adoring citizens. To make his coup bona fide, Jaffar now plans to marry the Sultan's beautiful daughter (she wouldn't be on old boiler would she!) and assume her birthright.

It's at this point that the boyfriend turns up to save her, only to get caught and locked up by the evil PM. Fortunately all is not lost, and before you can chant aggressively "Jaffar! Jaffar! The girlfriend snatcher!", the Prince (who doesn't actually have a name, but you can call him Keith if you like) is back on the trail of the the evil Jaffar.



Beginning in the dungeon, the Prince must make his way through twelve levels, finding a sword, tackling Jaffar's henchmen and avoiding fatal traps. The Persian's struggle is made all the more hectic by the fact that he has only an hour in which to rescue the Princess before she gets hitched. So unless he wants to suffer a tedious best-man's speech, cheap plank and an empire sunk in to totalitarian darkness, it's pretty essential that he makes it to the church on time!

Because our Persian hero is obviously going to come up against some of Jaffar's unfriendly sword-wielding minions, he needs to get his mitts on a sword of his own if he is to avoid being reduced to slices! The first level is therefore devoted to hunting down the sword. Once the Prince has his hands



Our Persian chum is quite a Bob Beamon when it comes to jumping. Leaping from a static position he is able to cross most gaps, but for longer chasms he needs to take a run up. Getting a running jump right requires a sense of judgment in order to save our turbanned hero from a deadly plunge.

Leap great chasms and

PRINCE

Like any normal human being Princey boy gets tired with all his climbing, leaping and slashing. Luckily for him, there are bottles of energy rejuvenating liquid for him to quaff on his journey. Should he find a large vial of liquid, the Prince is be given a further life bottle. He starts with three. Beware of bottles with a fetching coloured steam though because they take away life rather than supply it.

CLIMBING

Climbing up and down platforms is something the Prince does a lot of in this game. To achieve this, press up or down on the directional pad. Just to jump on though, use the A button. If the Prince is falling through the air keep your finger down on the A button and he might just grab a ledge. Who knows.

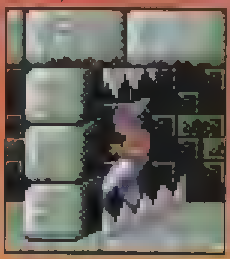
FIGHTING

COMMENT

It was only a matter of time before Prince of Persia appeared on the Mega CD, but unfortunately it doesn't generate the excitement it should. Sure, the famous animation is perfectly reproduced, but it really gets in the way. You want to jump when you hit the button, not sit there watching the Prince prance about like a cabaret top dancer for half an hour. The rest of the graphics are truly uninspiring, they wouldn't cause a stir on a regular Megadrive cart, let alone a CD. The gameplay is still as challenging as ever, although that has quite a bit to do with the awkward control method, and with all that memory it couldn't have been to hard to put in a few more levels. Prince of Persia really seems like a bit of a cash job, and as such it loses a lot of the appeal the other versions have. There aren't that many great CD games, so if you've got a unit and you're desperate for some new software give it a look, but don't expect too much.

TIP TOE

This is really a precision move, allowing you to position the Prince right on the edge of a platform to prepare for a jump, or to climb down or up. It's also useful in wary situations like moving from one screen to another or making his way through deadly spike traps when caution is the order.



Sper-laaaaaaaaat!

A large shaft right up the jacksie. Ouch!

That's the Princess. Save her from the dirty old man...

◀ Hello. Look at my controls.

Sayahi Sakl Yenkel Wowser!

COMMENT

Prince of Persia has undergone so many conversions, I wouldn't be surprised to see it turning up on watches and pocket calculators. The reason it proves so popular is that it is one of those definitive games that sets standards rather than follows them. The animation is renowned as some of the most fluid and realistic you'll find on any games system. Here the Mega CD doesn't fail to impress, with the Prince's movements when climbing and running looking totally convincing. Graphically the Mega CD conversion is disappointing. In spite of its vast memory it fails to produce graphics that would look particularly impressive on the Megadrive. There is little variety in the backdrops either. The game's control method has always taken a bit of getting used to, but for some reason the controls are especially awkward here. Even though I got used to them it remained a frustration with moves failing to come off now and then causing unavoidable death or injury. Prince of Persia remains a very challenging game on the Mega CD, but I felt that there was the potential for more than twelve levels. What these criticisms really mean is that while this is another pretty good conversion of the game it could have been substantially better on the Mega CD. The most impressive aspects of this conversion are the sound, which faithfully reproduces the familiar tunes, and the title sequence which provides an epic opening to the game and includes some brilliantly realistic speech - if I could only understand it. To sum up, Prince of Persia is good... but not that good ▲ Oooo. He's here again. The man with the towel on his head..

PRESENTATION 85

▲Epic opening sequence and plenty of options

▼Frustrating restart points

GRAPHICS 74

▲Excellent animation

▼Uninspiring graphics, with samey backdrops

SOUND 82

▲Atmospheric music and impressive, movement sounds

▼Speech unclear

PLAYABILTY 70

▲Good range of moves with good response...

▼...Awkward control method

LASTABILITY 75

▲Twelve challenging levels

▼Frustrating controls are perturbing though

OVERALL 72

While this is another good conversion of what is, to a lot of people, a very good game, the programmers have failed to fully utilise the memory at their disposal, leaving Mega CD Prince of Persia more like an abso... Megadrive game.

HOW TO PLAY

All the rules of Ice Hockey apply, but offsides and penalties can be turned on or off. The simple aim is to score goals - so get shooting.

SHOT!

— Pittsburgh unleash a merciless attack on Washington's shambling defence.

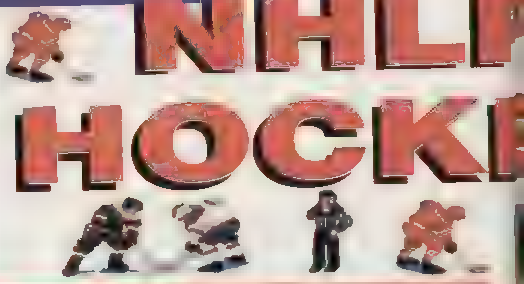
Hit the ice! Hit your opponent! Hit Anything! Welcome to America's most popular spectator sport. Ice Hockey, and the newest addition to Sega's rapidly expanding range of Hockey sims, NHLPA Hockey '93.

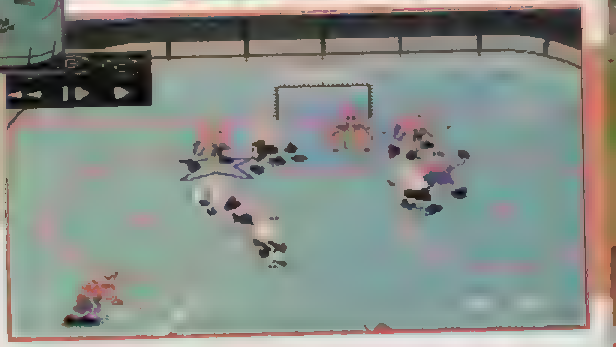
Yes indeed, EA Hockey is back and out for blood in no [illegible]. If you were ever under the impression that [illegible] was a pleasant game played by public school girls, think again. It doesn't take long to realise that the sub-zero version of the game has little in common with its grassy relative. The black sheep of the family, so to speak. In a game where serious penalties are common place suspensions about the sanity of its participants are readily understood. The inevitable carnage, that may result from [illegible] code of conduct, is ably portrayed in the latest product from the masters of sports simulations, Electronic Arts. Can you handle it?

SHOUT IT OUT LOUD

One of the many new features in NHLPA Hockey is the Crowd Analysis screen. This highly unnecessary but entertaining feature displays the decibel level achieved by the crowd's cheering. If you are at all interested these stats include the current decibel level, the average decibel level and the highest decibel level since the opening Face Off. Yawn.

NHLP HOCKE





RED, WHITE AND BLUE...

The sick minds of the Park Place graphics department have introduced scenes of graphic horror to NHLPA hockey '93. For instance, a swift stick to the head reduces the recipient to a sprawling wreck, seeping blood over the cold, cold ice. Eeyurrggh!

▲ Out of the way boys! I'm comin' thru!

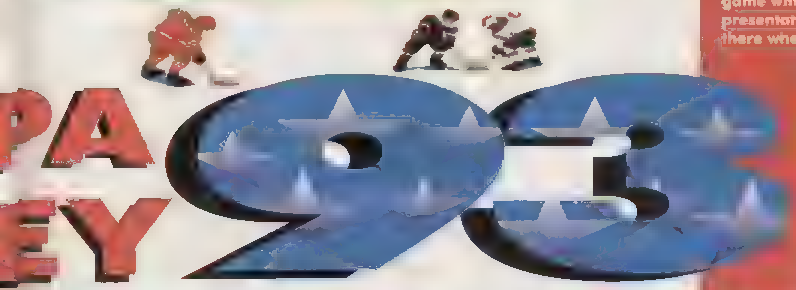
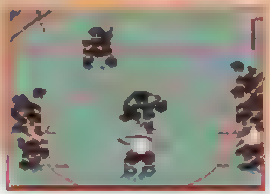
COMMENT

Electronic Arts have done it once more. They've produced an incredible ice hockey game with great gameplay and faultless presentation. Again! Is there anyone out there who needs a replacement for the original EA hockey though? I doubt it. Yes, the animation is smoother. Yes, the sound effects are much better and yes, EA have managed to cram in as many statistics and options as possible. Yet why bother devoting so much time to producing a substitute game that is already satisfying the thousands of people who bought it in the first place? Once again it's time to say, in the tradition of John Madden's Football and Bulls vs Lakers, that if you don't have the original, get this one. NHLPA Hockey is brilliant. So is EA Hockey. Electronic Arts haven't exactly wasted their time with this, but they could have used the time better by coming up with something we haven't already seen. What would happen if every software house started doing this kind of thing? C'mon EA!

PAUL





REVIEW

▲ OK boys I want a clean fight...

HOOK ME!

Should you manage to trip your opponent the results is quite spectacular. A mere hook of the stick sends the hapless victim flying head over heels, in a hugely degrading show of a sad acrobatic ineptitude.

▲ A Slapshot to the face sends Washington's finest flying.

▲ Oh Mario, Mario. We're not worthy!

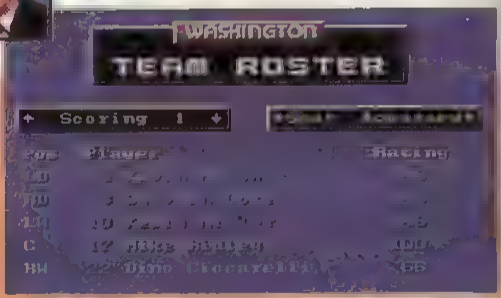
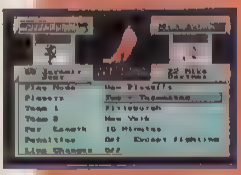
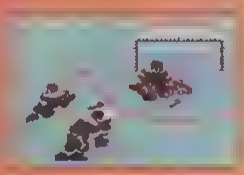
ORGAN GRINDER

For your entertainment a musician of limited talent plays the occasional dreadful rendition from a selection of equally nerve-twisting tunes on something resembling the sounds of a Hammond organ. Such anti-melodies become increasingly annoying if you're losing but are a veritable bucket of salt to rub into the wounds of a loser should you find yourself wearing the winner's trousers.



The Team.





▲ Gretzky gets his!

COMMENTS

The Megadrive is at its best when handling games like this, and the follow-up to EA Hockey is another example to support that view. This particular product of clever programming is as much a game of humour as it is one of hockey action. The violent nature of ice-hockey is hyped up here, with the sampled groans and the graphic sprawling of the hapless sprites. The tacky atmosphere is well preserved with the crowd noise and deliberately awful music. But don't forget this is a serious game, with a challenging computer opponent, and serious options. To owners of the first, and ace EA Hockey, I would say "keep your cash", since the two are very similar, but to anyone uninitiated in puck-related antics - Get!

▲ OK, Fingers on the buzzers...

GRAPHICS 91

▲ Noticeably better than the graphics in NHL Hockey, which seems a bit much, considering features introduction and intermission screens.

SOUND 89

▲ Nice music, excellent sampled sound effects.
▼ Some of the speech is a bit generally.

LASTABILITY 95

▲ Like EA Hockey, there's plenty to keep you going. Even after the computer fails to impress, there's still the two-player option.

PLAYABILITY 90

▲ Playable in the extreme, especially with two players. The computer opponent is more intelligent than in the original.
▼ Getting used to the joystick's a bit tricky.

OVERALL 90

A brilliant hockey simulation that contains everything an avid fan of the sport could wish for and then some. The problem is that EA Hockey does exactly the same job, minus the stats!

SON

THE HE

After selling more Megadrive cartridges than any other in the history of the machine, Sonic the Hedgehog is back! Yes, once again, the megalomaniac, Doctor Robotnik is planning to take over the entire world, and only a certain blue, spiky hedgehog character (and his cute little chum) stand in the way!

At first glance, Sonic the Hedgehog II looks and plays extremely similarly to the original game. Of course, it is a platform game and the control method for Sonic seems almost unchanged from the original. The aim of each level is still to collect rings and make your way towards the exit, jumping over or squashing any of Robotnik's minions. A lot of these enemy sprites too seem to be almost unchanged from the original game.

However, Sega's aim in creating Sonic II is a case of attempting to improve on the original by cramming in new features, new levels, more speed (believe it or not!) and more gameplay. The Sonic Team, responsible for this and the original game, also reckon they have cracked the problem of the game being too easy.

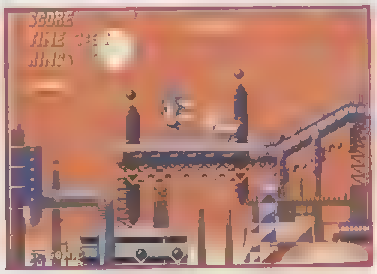
From what we've seen, Sonic II looks like being the hottest Megadrive release this year with some of the most amazing graphics ever seen on the console! Look out for the definitive Sonic II review, gracing the pages of next month's MEAN MACHINES SEGA!

INTRODUCING... TAILS!

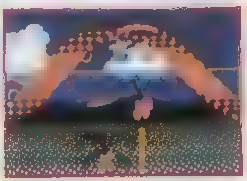
Sonic II introduces a new chum for Sonic to muck around with. Tails is his name and he's a kind of fox-like creatures with two tails! Sonic the Hedgehog II is a one or two-player game. In two-player mode, the screen splits into two and one player adopts the mantle of Tails while the other takes Sonic for a spin. Tails makes an appearance in one-player mode as well. At the moment, Sega Europe aren't sure whether Tails is under player control or whether he leads a life of his own. At the moment, he's capable of stealing rings from you, making him as much of a pain as a useful companion!

TWO-PLAYER REVELATIONS

Setting it apart completely from the Super NES's Super Mario Bros IV, Sonic II offers split-screen two-player excitement. The normal Megadrive screen height is 224 lines of pixels. In two-player mode, the screen is expanded vertically to accommodate 448 lines (in essence, two screens). This means that no detail is lost at all. However, technically amazing as it may be, it looks kind of odd. Each of the screens look very squashed because no similar compaction is taking place horizontally. The current version of Sonic II only has a demo running of this particular section, so we can't comment on the gameplay. Let's hope that Tails and Sonic are actually able to interact with each other to solve puzzles and defeat the bosses!



▲ Sonic explores one of the many scrolling levels that make up the playing area. Exciting eh?



▲ Here's a shot straight from level one of Sonic the Hedgehog II. This twisting platform is one the many additions that have made it into the sequel. Plenty more await, but you're gonna have to wait until we review it to find out more (or check out the mega

IC 2 DGEHOG

TAILS

SONIC THE HEDGEHOG SUPER-SPIN!

A new move has been added to Sonic's speedy repertoire. Pressing down and pressing the spin button causes Sonic to "rev-up"! Let go of the button and he zooms away at top speed, allowing him to get past some of the trickier hazards. Hurrah!

MEGA CD SONIC UPDATE

Sonic II is heading for the Mega CD in the form of an enhanced version called Super Sonic. This game crams in everything found in the cartridge game, but includes CD-quality soundtracks and some extra features. These "extra features" may include some of the levels that may have to be left out of the cartridge version! Sega don't plan to include this game as part of a bundle package with the Mega CD. One of their ideas is to include a demo CD with the hardware that features playable demos of forthcoming Mega CD games - including Super Sonic! The Mega CD itself is still pencilled in for a November release. When we learn more, we'll pass it on to you ▲ Sonic and Tails leg it around the amazingly pretty industrial area of Sonic the Hedgehog II. Plenty of high speed action abounds, as you'll see on the cover-mounted video of the game!

▲ Tails "nudges his way in" to the title screen of Sonic II. Hurrah!

▲ When we saw the game, this graphically stunning level was the fourth "Hidden Palace". Looks amazing eh? You should see it play!

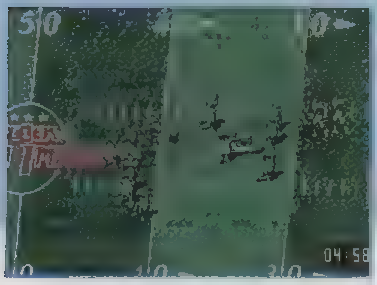
SUPER HIGH IMPACT

BY: MIDWAY | PRICE £35.00 | 1-2 PLAYERS | RELEASE OUT NOW



Just as we went to press, we received a grey import copy of Super High Impact. If you didn't know, it's an all-new American Football game for the Megadrive, boasting all the fun and excitement of the original game (well, that's the general idea any way).

It's got a pseudo-3D perspective and a horizontally-scrolling play area, making it look for all the world like Joe Montana Football II. Just like that game there's also plenty of sampled speech to spice up the proceedings as well. Adding to the game's appeal, there are a whole host of different strategic plays to try out on each "down".

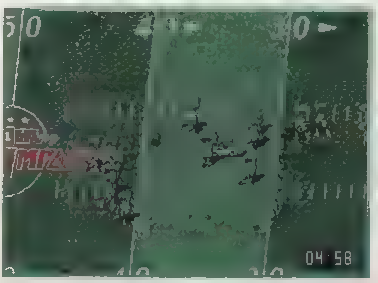
First impressions of the game aren't exactly promising so it looks as though John Madden '92 still reigns supreme in the American Football stakes. Still, we'll be giving you the complete lowdown on the game in the very next issue of this magazine. In the meantime, examine these fetching screenshots.

SIDE POCKET

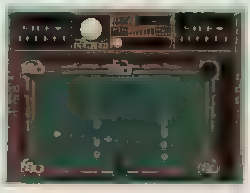
Data East have just released the first Pool simulation for the Megadrive. Called Side Pocket, it boasts all of the ball-potting excitement you could ever want from a Megadrive game (sort of). The game is displayed from above in glorious 2D and plays very similarly to the original Gameboy version. You line up your shot using a special white line that apparently predicts where the ball will go after the ricochet (which it doesn't seem to do very well). After that, you simply apply the power and the spin and your shot is away. The aim is to pot all of your balls before you run out of shots (as it were).

All of the normal Pool rules apply, and there are plenty of options to wade through. There is even a trick shot option, where you can practice some of those incredibly unlikely shots for your fun and delectation. The presentation scores pretty highly too (if you're very sexist), with some attractive young ladies adorning each and every screen which should go down well with "members" of the do-it-yourself brigade.

But just how well does this game play? A good question, and one that is answered within the pages of the next issue of MEAN MACHINES.



▲ The opening screen on the one-player version of Side Pocket. The white line is used to line up your shot, and also helps to predict where the cue ball travels when you rebound it off one of the cushions. Pressing the B button enables you to view the value of each ball. Very useful indeed in this game.



▲ This is one of many trick shots you can attempt to perform in Side Pocket. Exciting eh?

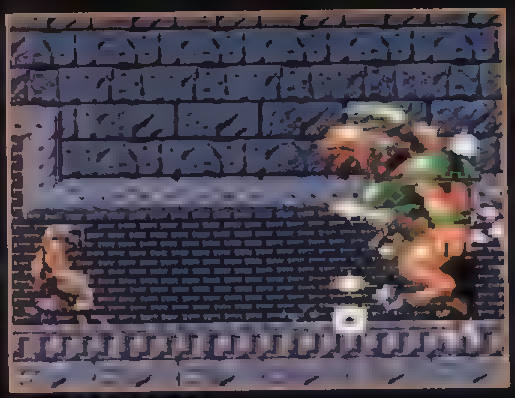
GODS

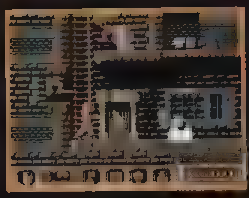
Gods is a Megadrive conversion of the massively successful Amiga game released by Renegade Software many months ago. It's basically a platform game, with you playing the role of a muscle-bound hero out to save the world from some unspeakable evil. Your job is to take on just about every denizen of darkness that the forces of evil can call upon. Luckily, making the job is easier are the masses of top-notch weapons you can buy to improve your death-dealing skills.

Gods looks like being an excellent Megadrive game. Unlike the majority of Amiga games that hit Sega's 16-bit console, it isn't a direct port-over. Renegade have enlisted the programming skill of coding legends Graftgold to carry out the conversion work. The result is a game that looks great and actually uses the Megadrive's custom hardware to produce a game that sounds better and moves a lot faster than the Amiga original.

The bad news is that Sega Europe do not want to release the game officially over here (doh!) which does seem odd coming the same company that quite happily released the likes of Turbo Outrun and Super Hydlide. Still, if you want to get hold of it, the game is being released by Sega in America and Japan so you should have no problem getting hold of an import copy of the game.

Whatever happens, rest assured that MEAN MACHINES is reviewing the game as we speak and this very review is featured in the next issue of the magazine. Hurrah!





▲ A selection of shots shows some of the tasty action to be enjoyed in Gods. The top-left screen is the shopping area of Gods. Here you can buy all manner of topper weapons and power-ups for use in the game. Look out for magical axes, missiles, daggers and morning stars!

SUPERM

Oh no! Ace reporter, Lois Lane out of town in search of that elusive exclusive, has been kidnapped by a merciless band of super-villains anxious to trap Superman the Man of Steel! When mild-mannered reporter Clark Kent, learns of his sexy pal's disappearance, he heads for the nearest phone box to adopt the mantle of the world's most powerful super hero - Superman!

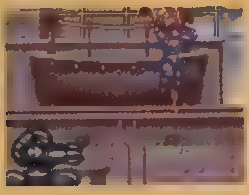
This Megadrive game puts you straight into the gaudy tights of the Man of Steel himself and charges you with the task of beating up legions of villains in search of the abducted Miss Lane. This would normally be a routine caper for our hero were it not for one tiny factor. The bad guys have managed to get their hands on a massive consignment of Kryptonite - the one substance in the cosmos that can reduce the might of Superman to that of a new-born child! What's more, continuous exposure to this dangerous substance can actually kill the sentinel of truth, justice and the American way! Now even common street punks carry firearms with deadly Kryptonite tipped bullets!

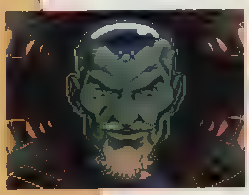
Your task is clear. Take to the streets of Metropolis and beyond, avoiding any Kryptonite whizzing about and smacking the seven shades out of any villains who dare cross your path! At the end of each level you face up to one of Superman's deadliest super villain enemies! Individually, Superman has defeated each of these guys before, but this time they've banded together to form a treacherous league of evil that may even spell the end of the Man of Steel!

▲ Superman takes to the skies, using the powers of his amazing heat vision to waste enemy sprites!

The Man of Steel is in space now, once again using the powers of his amazing heat vision to destroy asteroids and alien robots. Soon our hero will head for the dark of the twisted Brainiac!

▲ The first example of Superman using his amazing powers of flight in the pursuit of justice! Here, his super-powered fists really come in handy!





MAN

PUNCH 'N' KICK

The game has a number of game styles. The first depicts Supes running over the rooftops of Metropolis, dishing out fisticuffs with the aid of his super-powers. Curiously, Superman isn't able to fly here, and must rely on his leaping skills to cross massive gaps in the scenery!

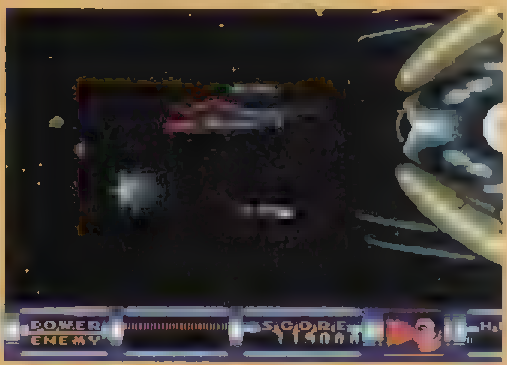
FLY 'N' ZAP

Another of the game's styles sees Supes switching into flight mode. Faster than a speeding bullet (well, not really), he's able to zoom up tall buildings, or along R-Type-style scrolling landscapes, dishing out truth and justice via his amazing heat vision!

These vertically scrolling sections see the Man of Steel using his powers of heat vision and flight to save the day!

Superman steps to administer a massive quick-packed shot out to destroy them. Only [illegible] help him.

▲ Supes utilises the powers of his super muscles to despatch the forces of evil!



▲ Superman in space, nearing his goal - Brainiac's deep space base of operation!

MEGA

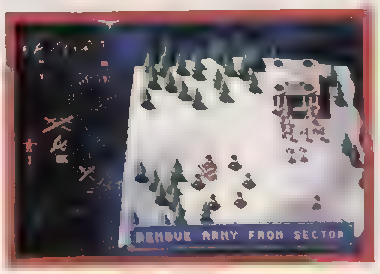
So, what do you do when you re a god eh? Just hang around the heavens watching the events transpiring below on Earth? Well, Mega-Lo-Mania casts you as one such omnipotent being, who's decided that he wouldn't mind being worshipped by some humans in return for celestial guidance to world domination

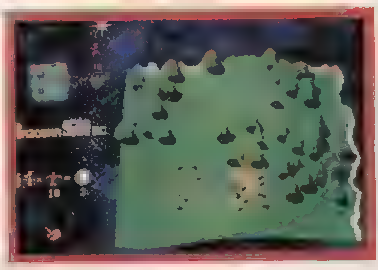
Unfortunately, you are not the only god-like being in search of power. In fact, three others of your race have similar ideas about conquering the world and have each made contact with a band of humans. Living in harmony with other people simply isn't allowed if you're a power-hungry god, so it's your job to guide your human charges into destroying the other bands, thus claiming the land as your own!

There are nine levels, or epochs, in Mega-Lo-Mania, each based around a different time period in the planet's history. You start the game controlling a bunch of cavemen, taking them through the Middle Ages, the Renaissance and through to the Space Age in the ninth epoch! As you might expect, the technologies of each epoch open up many different opportunities for you as a god. For example, your war-faring activities in the Stone Age are limited to chucking rocks or throwing spears if you're especially brainy. In the Space Age, nuking your opponents with long-range weapons is more acceptable!

Your job as god is incredibly varied. You need to keep your minions well-armed and this involves setting up mines, factories (on later epochs) and making sure you have the right elements to create all of your weapons! What's more, you need to make sure that some of your humans are, erm, reproducing to insure that you have the necessary number of men needed to get the job done

Your activities are not taking part in a vacuum All the while, the three other gods are plotting each other's downfall. So not only do you need to carefully watch yourself, you also need to keep your eyes peeled for any foul deeds on the part of your opponents!





PEOPLE ARE PEOPLE

Four gods competing for one world can lead to all-out anarchy at times. Thankfully, you can calm things down a tad by forming an alliance with the others so they won't attack you. Unfortunately, the other gods may not like you that much and will have no qualms about refusing your offer of friendship

WHO DID IT?

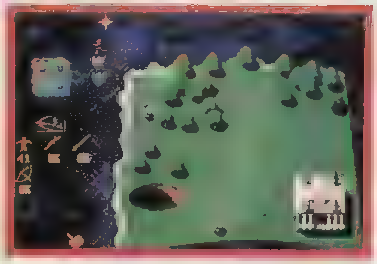
Mega-Lo-Mania is the product of Sensible Software, a group of topper programmers well known to Amiga and C64 owners. Their previous credits include Mega-Lo-Mania, Sensible Soccer and 3D Tennis on the ST and Amiga, and Microprose Soccer and Wizball on the C64. We reckon that Megadrive versions of Sensible Soccer and Wizball would be completely amazing! How about it, Virgin?

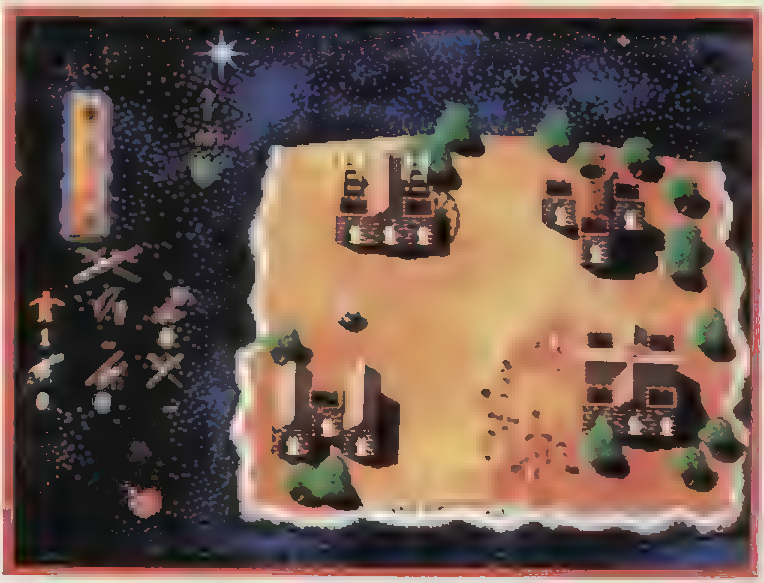
MEGA-LO-MANIA

CONSTRUCTION TIME AGAIN

BY: VIRGIN | PLAYERS: 1 | PRICE: £35.00 | RELEASE: T.B.A

Making weapons is quite a lengthy process. First of all, what you really need is a mine from which to get some raw elements. Armed with these elements, your top brains are able to come up with designs for some decent weaponry. Different weapons are available depending on the Tech Level. For example, pebbles, boulders and pikes (if you're lucky) can be designed during the Stone Age. Elizabethan weapons are more likely to include guns and cannons. Present day technology accounts for the appearances of jet-fighters and nuclear weapons!





▲ This is one of the later epochs in Mega-Lo-Mania. Here, you can see some of the factories that are used to turn the raw materials you mine into state-of-the-art technologies. For this sort of level, look out for the likes of aeroplanes and nuclear missiles! By the time the game has progressed this far, total annihilation is guaranteed thanks to the advent of nuclear technology. Make sure you get those SDI lasers and anti-missile missiles in to protect yourself!

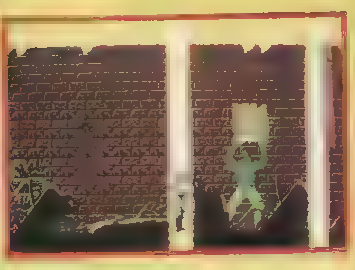
FEATURE

LOOKBACK

Welcome to an an all-new feature in MEAN MACHINES. Each month we'll be travelling back in time to take a look at the Sega games we reviewed exactly two years ago to see whether or not the games then under scrutiny have passed the test of time. This month, Jaz and Rich remove the very rare issue one from the vaults and take the Last Train to Nostalgia Central...

REVENGE OF SHINOBI

MACHINE: MEGADRIVE
BY: SEGA



ORIGINAL SCORES

PRESENTATION 93%
GRAPHICS 91%
SOUND 94%
PLAYABILITY 93%
LASTABILITY 89%
OVERALL 94%

Slip into the ninja slippers of Joe Mushashi and traverse scrolling levels of America, kicking, punching and throwing death stars at the crazed minions of the Zeed gang!

WHAT WE SAID THEN

JAZ: It's challenging and amazingly addictive and keeps you glued to the machine for hours at a time - I just didn't want to stop playing
MATT: The graphics are exquisite, the music superb, and the gameplay out of this world!

WHAT WE SAY NOW

JAZ: This is just as good now as it was then. Presentation should come down to about 90%, but the rest of the ratings are fine. Combat platform games don't come much better than this.
RICH: Revenge of Shinobi has aged very well - I still play it even now! However, I think that presentation was marked a tad highly. Most of those options are pretty standard these days. I'd take presentation down to 89%, put playability down to 93% and mark lastability up to 94%. I'd award this game around 93% overall - it's still a great slash 'em up

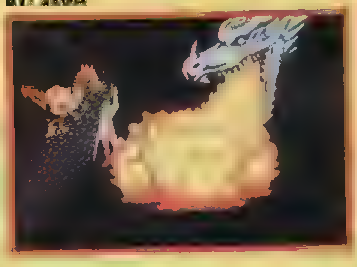
MACHINE: MEGADRIVE
BY: SEGA



ORIGINAL SCORES

PRESENTATION 89%
GRAPHICS 91%
SOUND 87%
PLAYABILITY 92%
LASTABILITY 89%
OVERALL 91%

Take control of either a barbarian, amazon or dwarf and stomp along the scrolling landscapes of middle earth in this spot-on conversion of the popular Sega coin-op. Beat up the denizens of darkness and face up to Death Adder in your quest to retrieve the fabled Golden Axe!

WHAT WE SAID THEN

JAZ: The game itself is an exact (and I mean exact) copy of the arcade original bar two things - there are a couple of extra levels added onto the end of the game!
MATT: Nothing beats a great beat 'em up, and this is one of the best I've seen

WHAT WE SAY NOW

JAZ: This is a great game, but looking back I think we were over-generous. It's too easy to complete, and once you've been through it a couple of times it gets a bit dull. Playability 87%, lastability 79% and overall 83% would be about the right marks now.
RICH: Golden Axe is still a pretty good laugh a couple of years on, but I couldn't help getting bored of the game after a while. Perhaps it's because I've played so many games of the same ilk on other systems over the last couple of years. I'd put presentation up a couple of points, sound down to 80% and playability and lastabili-ly down to 88%. Overal. I'd probably award it 88%. It's tons better than Golden Axe II, but Streets of Rage is still the best Megadrive beat 'em up

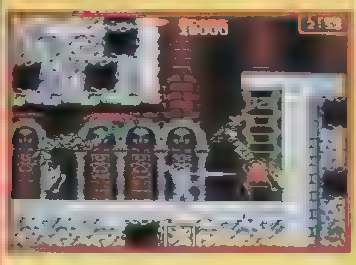
GHOULS 'N' GHOSTS

MACHINE: MEGADRIVE
BY: CAPCOM



ORIGINAL SCORES

PRESENTATION 85%
GRAPHICS 89%
SOUND 92%
PLAYABILITY 94%
LASTABILITY 89%
OVERALL 92%

Sir Arthur, resigned to the inevitability of having his princess girlfriend kidnapped by Lucifer, jumps into action once more in this scrolling platform game-cum-shoot 'em up. A conversion of the fab Capcom coin-op, Ghouls 'n' Ghosts boasts loads of extra weapons and terrifying bosses!

WHAT WE SAID THEN

JAZ: Even though you'll be cursing with frustration, it's so good you just keep on coming back for more
MATT: What a brilliant game! The graphics are wonderful and the sound is great

WHAT WE SAY NOW

JAZ: I still play this game now if I want a challenge - it's great. Playability should drop a couple of percent and the overall down to 90%. It's definitely still a Megagame even today.
RICH: This rock 'ard game is still one of the most difficult Megadrive titles around, well suited to those who completed Sonic the first day they had it. I think the audio-visuals are a tad outdated these days. I'd put graphics down to 85% and sound down to 80%. Playability is definitely too high, down to 85% for that. Lastability is fine, but I think overall I'd give this around 88%.

THUNDERFORCE II

MACHINE: MEGADRIVE
BY: TECHNOSOFT

ORIGINAL SCORES

PRESENTATION 79%
GRAPHICS 81%
SOUND 85%
LASTABILITY 80%
OVERALL 82%

Thunderforce II: it's a shoot 'em up. There are two basic blasting styles. In the overhead eight-way levels you destroy ground targets and take out pursuit ships. In the horizontally scrolling levels, you blast anything that moves. That's about it, really!

WHAT WE SAID THEN

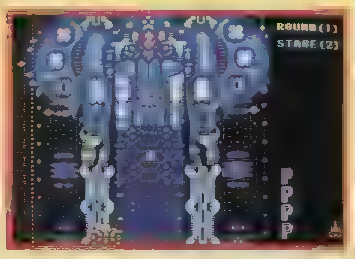
JAZ: With plenty of secret bonuses to uncover, Thunderforce II will keep you coming back to top your highest score for quite some months.
MATT: The action is fast and furious while it lasts - I just wish there was more to it.

WHAT WE SAY NOW

JAZ: This looks fairly ropey nowadays. The sound's pretty good, but it lacks the thrills and spills of some of the latest blasters. Graphics down to 75%, Playability and lastability down 15% each and overall down to 67%.
RICH: Thunderforce II has not endured the rigours of time very well. It looks like a decidedly substandard shoot 'em up now, with unspectacular graphics and unexciting gameplay. I think that now it would get about 64% overall. It's just been surpassed by many games, including Gynoug, Hellfire, Thunderforce III, Thunderforce IV.

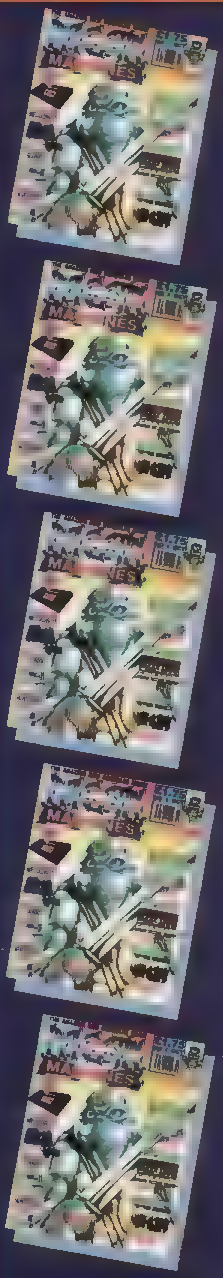
TRUXTON

MACHINE: MEGADRIVE
BY: SEGA



ORIGINAL SCORES

PRESENTATION 71%
GRAPHICS 82%
SOUND 74%
PLAYABILITY 85%



LASTABILITY 76%
OVERALL 82%

A simple up-the-screen blaster, Truxton is a fairly average example of the genre. Loads of power-ups, legions of baddies to blow-up, raucous explosions and end-of-level bosses aplenty

WHAT WE SAID THEN

JAZ: Truxton is a fine example of a pure, no-frills arcade blast
MATT: A great game that should be welcome in any shoot 'em up fan's collection

WHAT WE SAY NOW

JAZ: This is straightforward, simple blasting which is fun for a while, but gets pretty dull due to its lack of weapons and variety. Graphics should definitely drop - 71% would be about right because they're very simple, playability down to 75% and lastability down to 69%. Overall 71%. At the time there weren't many blasters around, but nowadays there are loads of better ones available
RICH: Despite the massive amount of vertically scrolling blasters out for the Megadrive, Truxton remains a competent example of the genre. I'd take playability down to 79% and lower the overall mark to around 77%. It may have been surpassed technically since its release, but it's still a good blast

IMPOSSIBLE MISSION

MACHINE: MASTER SYSTEM
BY: US GOLD

ORIGINAL SCORES

Elvin Atombender is insane. So totally nutty in fact that he has decided to construct a colossal bomb and blackmail the world for millions of dollars. Enter Agent 4125. His job: to enter Atombender's tower (displayed as a flick screen platform environment), break his codes and do away with the guy once and for all

WHAT WE SAID THEN

JAZ: If you want to play one of the best games available for the Sega, look no further than Impossible Mission
MATT: An essential purchase, and recommended without hesitation.

WHAT WE SAY NOW

JAZ: An absolutely superb game that has stood the test of time incredibly well. If anything I'd put the overall up by one percent - Impossible Mission is an all-time classic and is still one of the best games ever written!
RICH: This is still one of the greatest Master System games around, combining top-notch graphics, animation and sound with deep and compelling gameplay. This game would still warrant those massive marks were it reviewed today

WONDERBOY III

MACHINE: SEGA
BY: SEGA

ORIGINAL SCORES
PRESENTATION 93%
GRAPHICS 92%

PLAYABILITY 95%
LASTABILITY 96%
OVERALL 95%

A massive scrolling arcade adventure (with some RPG overtones thrown in for good measure), Wonderboy III casts you as the heroic lad out to return himself to human form after being transformed into a dragon-man!

WHAT WE SAID THEN

JAZ: The combination of adventuring, shooting and platform action results in one of the best games of its type for any console.
MATT: This has to rank as one of the greatest Master System games ever!

WHAT WE SAY NOW

JAZ: Another classic which has withstood the rigours of time. This is a truly brilliant arcade adventure and still deserves every mark awarded to it.
RICH: This is just as good as ever it was! I still find the immense depth of the game amazing, and the quest to return Wonderboy to his original form makes for what still is probably the best Master System game ever! All of the marks should remain static.

Run around 100 different eight-way scrolling dungeons, dealing death to the deranged minions and collecting treasure. A one or two-player game, Gauntlet was immensely successful in the arcades and performed well on the Master System

WHAT WE SAID THEN

JAZ: Gauntlet has appeared on virtually every home computer system on Earth and I'm glad to say that the Sega version tops the lot for sheer addictive playability
MATT: I was flabbergasted by this game - it's fast, furious and above all, faithful to the coin-op

WHAT WE SAY NOW

JAZ: Another top-notch conversion whose marks are just as right now as they were then.
RICH: This is still a brilliant coin-op conversion that's just as fresh and exciting as it was the day we first plugged it into the Master System. I wouldn't tinker with any of the marks, they're all fine

AYRTON SENNA'S SUPER MONACO GP II
BY SEGA
PRICE £39.99

This follow-up to the classic Megadrive racing game has plenty going for it, what with Ayrton Senna's advice corner and the opportunity to take on the man himself in a series of one-on-one races. Other than that, it's a lot like the original Super Monaco GP, with the same excellent gameplay and top graphics - but this version is a lot more challenging. The world circuit option has all 16 major world tracks in it, and getting to the top of the table guarantees hours of fine racing action. If you already have the original Super Monaco in your cart collection, take a look before you buy because it is very similar. However, if you've just got your Megadrive and fancy owning one of the greatest road racers money can buy, take a look at Ayrton Senna's Super Monaco GP II - it leaves the others on the starting grid.

FASTEST ONE
BY NITSIBUTSU
PRICE £IMPORT

Let's make no bones about it, Fastest One is the biggest pile o' cack yet to materialise in cartridge form. Basically, the game is a split-screen one or two-player racing game once again using the Formula One cars. The game completely fails to deliver on every count. The graphics are incredibly awful. The 3D update is jerky and unconvincing and the accompanying "sound" is almost bronchial in its wheeziness. If it was fun to play, this could be forgiven, but it isn't at all. The controls are unresponsive and unrealistic and the racing action is about as exciting and satisfying as smashing your head against the wall. Even the two-player mode doesn't help to save this god awful game.

FERRARI GRAND PRIX
BY FLYING EDGE
PRICE £39.99

The Flying Edge's Megadrive debut is definitely a game of two halves. The front end is truly excellent, offering options and a constructor's screen that puts it head-and-shoulders ahead of the likes of Super Monaco GP II! Unfortunately, however good this is, it's nothing if the actual in-cockpit racing action doesn't measure up. This game has a very sad attempt at 3D update, which while not being quite as awful as Fastest One, is still substandard to say the least. The opposing cars are also graphically inept. Even when you're right up behind them, they're still too titchy to really be Formula One cars - the graphic artist of this game obviously has no sense of scale. What's more the gameplay is dire. I'm not surprised that Ferrari haven't been able to get their hands on the World Championship if their cars handle as bad as this game suggests. With the likes of Super Monaco GP II out now, there's no excuse to buy this lame, stunted effort.

MEGATRAX
BY NAMCO
PRICE £IMPORT

Oh no! Namco haven't had much in the way of luck with Megadrive games with only Rolling Thunder II cutting the mustard, as it were. Megatrax is one of their earliest titles. What's more it's completely pathetic. It's a split-screen scrolling effort, with one or two players taking their Megatrax (that's quad-bikes to you and me) around a number of visually deficient dirt tracks. Although the prospect of simultaneous two-player racing is very appealing, this game ruins it all heinously by being completely dull to play. There's no real feeling of speed when driving and the control response is dodgy too. Once again, another Megadrive racing game lacking in the goodness department. "Steer" well clear.

The coin-op version of Outrun had an incredibly simple formula. Take a beautiful sports car, add in varied scenery and amazing graphics, and round off the effect with a hydraulic cabinet. It was an instant success with home conversions appearing on just about every console and computer. This Megadrive version captures the graphics and sound of the original quite well, but something is severely lacking on the gameplay front. First of all the car doesn't control anywhere near as well as the coin-op, making for some very frustrating crashes. Secondly, even though you do tend to crash too much, the game is incredibly simple to complete Experienced gamers are bound to finish it in one go and even novices will finish it within one session. With a bit of control tweaking and a sterner challenge, this could have been something special.

Months after its release Rash remains one of road racers money c You are a "road rash greasy biker sort who t part in illegal high-speed ing on the highways of five different areas in the middle of the United States. Road Rash has excellent graphics, with smooth, very convincing 3D update and great sprites. The sound is similarly awesome, boasting screeching engines and fitting music. Gameplay-wise, it can't be beaten. The urgency of the race is exciting enough, but being able to grab a club and mercilessly bludgeon your opponents off the road makes it even better! Road Rash is an essential game to have in your Megadrive collection. Roll on Road Rash II!

PRICE £34.99

Talk about value for money! This game has all the thrills, spills and features of the original coin-op. What's more, there's a special World Championship option that includes every single track in the current Formula One season! Cool eh? Super Monaco GP is an extremely polished game. The graphics and 3D all convey the feeling of speed incredibly well, and the gameplay is nigh-on perfect with the car responding to joypad command perfectly. Definitely superior to most Megadrive road racers, Super Monaco GP is a great buy - but check out the sequel first.

TURBO OUTRUN
BY SEGA
PRICE £34.99

Sega had a chance to put right the gaming debacle that is Megadrive Outrun with a conversion of the arcade follow-up, Turbo Outrun. Unfortunately, they fumbled it pretty early on by entrusting the programming to Tiertex - the same people who completely ruined the computer versions for US Gold. True to form, the same programmers have made a complete pig's ear of the Megadrive conversion. The graphics are awful, with an unrealistic 3D playing area and a lack of speed. What's more, the gameplay itself bears little resemblance to the original arcade machine. Surely this is the whole point of an arcade conversion?

ARYTON SENNA'S SUPER MONACO GP II
BY SEGA
PRICE: £32.99

Ex-world champ, Ayrton Senna (how d'you feel?) endorses what ranks as one of the worst Master System racing games yet to appear. On the plus side, this game has excellent presentation. There are decent title screens, a good constructor's screen and a password system. However, the game is severely lacking in the playability stakes. The speed of the game is just too plodding to be true. Travelling at speeds approaching 200mph looks little different from plodding along at 50mph! The gameplay is unrealistic and the controls unresponsive. Avoid this game at all costs - the original is far superior.

BATTLE OUTRUN
BY SEGA
PRICE £29.99

Battle Outrun is little more than a Chase HQ clone using the "pull" of the Outrun name to boost sales. That said, this game isn't bad at all. Just like the Taito coin-op, it's your job to speed along the 3D roads, bumping criminals off of the road. In addition, you can use the cash earned from busting crooks to do up your Ferrari with all manner of crime-busting devices. Cool eh? Well, Battle Outrun is quite a good little game, only suffering from a lack of challenge. It's the easiness of the game that makes Chase HQ the better choice if bumping people off the road is your bag.

CHASE HQ
BY TAITO
PRICE £29.99

Taito's Chase HQ coin-op stirred up quite a storm when it was first released in the arcades. It took the conventional 3D road race and added in police pursuit aspects! The general idea is to locate five criminals (each trying to escape the law in their high-powered sports cars) and bump them off the road. This Master System conversion obviously can't reproduce the top graphics of the original. However, the gameplay is captured pretty well and the game packs quite a challenge. Well worth taking for a spin.

ENDURO RACER
BY SEGA
PRICE £9.99

Yet again, another Sega racing game hits the Master System. This one is probably the worst yet seen on the 8-bit system. First of all, it's nothing like the original 3D coin-op. In fact, it's been transformed into a tepid isometric 3D effort devoid of any redeeming features whatsoever. The graphics are small, deformed and don't portray the action very well at all. The sound is a moronic collection of bleeps and booms. The gameplay is tedium incarnate, promoting boredom in a matter of minutes. Even at the budget price of £9.99, this game is a waste of money.

FIRE AND FORGET II
BY TITUS
PRICE £29.99

Titus aren't exactly renowned for their quality console products, but Fire and Forget II is a surprisingly decent effort. Basically it's your common or garden 3D road racer, with the added benefits of massive amounts of blasting action thrown in for good measure. This formula makes for a very enjoyable, action-packed game, and the decent graphics and sound are the icing on the cake. One of the best road racers for the Master System, Fire and Forget II is definitely worthy of a place in your collection.

PRICE £29.99

Sega's classic coin-op - one of their most successful of all-time - was one of the first Master System games ever released. Hailed by some as "indistinguishable" from the coin-op, it was an instant hit. In actual fact, it bears only the most superficial resemblance to the coin-op, but in the gameplay stakes it scores quite well with just about every feature from the arcade machine present. Although the game isn't as good as say, Fire and Forget II, it's still well worth taking a look at.

There's a great idea behind this pseudo-sequel to Outrun. Your Ferrari has been pinched, complete with top secret documents. Now you've got to give chase in a number of different turbo-charged vehicles in order to get your documents back and save the day. The problem with this game is that there's just not enough variety. Each of the vehicles has exactly the same potential speed and abilities, and the difference between the levels is not really that noticeable. What's more, the 3D update is extremely jerky, making for some playability problems

RC GRAND PRIX
BY SEGA
PRICE £29.99

Here's a novelty Instead of getting behind the wheel of some top sports car, RC Grand Prix give you remote control over a dragster model, burning around several courses in search of that elusive win. This game is quite playable and should appeal to younger players. More experienced gamers will probably get to the end of this very quickly and there's not much to bring you back for more. Perhaps if the game had a simultaneous two-player mode there'd be more to keep you coming back...

SUPER MONACO GP
BY SEGA
PRICE £29.99

Just like Enduro Racer, Super Monaco GP bears very little resemblance to the stunning arcade machine. It is in fact a split-screen road racer allowing one or two players to zoom around the courses that make up the Formula One grand prix circuit. The gameplay is fast and packed with action. The two-player mode makes things all the better. Well worth investing in if you're after a decent sports sim. If however, you're after a conversion of the coin-op, you're more than likely to end up disappointed.

PRICE £19.99

Jump into a high-power Porsche with Raymond and Tony - the best cops from the Special Chase Investigations department. Their jobs are remarkably simple. Five master criminals are attempting to leave the city in their sports cars and it's their task to stop them. Luckily, the Porsche is armour-plated, so the best way to achieve this is by barging the enemy car off the road! This game is much like the Master System version in terms of playability, apart from the fact that it's a lot faster and the presentation is much improved. Well worth a gander

OUTRUN
BY SEGA
PRICE £19.99

After selling loads on the Master System and Megadrive, Outrun finally appears for the Game Gear. What's more, it isn't really that bad at all. Just about all the courses and obstacles from the coin-op have made it into the conversion, along with the four different tunes to swing your pants to while you drive. The only problem with the game is that it is far too easy. A few goes is all that's required to finish the game and there isn't much to get you back to the Game Gear after that

SUPER MONACO GP
BY SEGA
PRICE £19.99

The Game Gear version of Super Monaco GP fails completely as a coin-op conversion. If the game didn't have the Monaco course, Sega could have given this game just about any title This could be forgiven if the game was fast and playable. Unfortunately, this game is just too dull for words. The graphics are boring, the sound tedious and the gameplay is severely lacklustre.

GAMES INDEX

MASTER SYSTEM
MEGADRIVE
GAME GEAR
This is THE definitive Complete Sega Game Guide. Every game is exhaustively tried, tested and rated.

MASTER SYSTEM

ACE OF ACES
Take on the Red Baron in this WWI -based flight sim/shoot 'em up. Actually, you'd better not, because shoddy graphics, poor sound and virtually zero playability make Ace of Aces a full-blown loser. Oh dear.

ACTION FIGHTER
Take to the roads and skies in your transforming motorcycle/plane in Action Fighter - a conversion of Sega's ancient vertically scrolling shoot 'em up. Whilst looking a bit dated, Action Fighter's simple gameplay is still quite addictive, and the colourful graphics and bouncy tunes accompany it well.

OVERALL 84%

AERIAL ASSAULT
Aerial Assault is a horizontally scrolling shoot 'em up in the mould of JW Squadron stocked with power-ups and flaming seaths. The graphics are quite simple and the sound is unexceptional, but Aerial Assault is quite good fun. Be warned however, it won't take long to complete.

OVERALL 82%

AFTERBURNER
Arcade Afterburner was enjoyable because of its moving cabinet and lush graphics and sound. Sadly, the Master System has none of these, and the basic game itself is really quite dull (and very easy). Only for real coin-op fans.

OVERALL 51%

ALEX KIDD IN MIRACLE WORLD
This is the first in the Alex Kidd series, and it's still one of the best. The blend of platforming and puzzles works well and although the graphics aren't so hot they don't detract from this entertaining platform romp.

OVERALL 86%

ALEX KIDD IN HIGH-TECH WORLD
A continuation of the Alex Kidd saga, this is essentially much of the same - more wacky platform action with loads of bonuses and other bits and bobs. Again, the graphics and sound are really good, but there's nothing that makes this any better than the original.

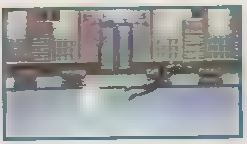
OVERALL 76%

ALEX KIDD IN SHINOBI WORLD
The latest and greatest Kidd game. As ever has the powers of Ninja magic and must traverse a parody of the Shinobi landscape to rescue his girl. This is a humorous and very playable cart with smart graphics and okay sound. Recommended.

OVERALL 90%

ALEX KIDD AND THE LOST STARS
Once again Alex must use his puzzle solving/platforming trainers to save the day. More cute sprites, general colourfulness, jolly tunes and fun gameplay. Although it's very similar to the other games in the series, Kidd fans should take a look.

OVERALL 80%



ALIEN STORM
You are Gordon the hot-dog man (or his robot assistant) and you must rid the world of six alien menaces in this Golden Axe-style game with shoot 'em up overtones. Sadly, the graphics are the best thing about the game are the graphics - and they're crap. Avoid this one.

OVERALL 38%

ALIEN SYNDROME
This gory blaster was a big arcade hit, and on the Sega it's not bad either. The graphics are of a high quality and it's fairly playable, but the poor scrolling makes it difficult to see what's coming at you. This leads to make things a bit hard, so only experienced gamers should go for this one.

OVERALL 73%

AMERICAN BASEBALL
Car blimey, a baseball game. This one's got good graphics, plenty of options and is pretty fast paced. If it's baseball you're after, this is the cart for you.

OVERALL 74%

AMERICAN PRO FOOTBALL
Although this has been out for a while now, it's still the best American Football game on the Sega. The graphics are great, the sound is good, there's lots to do, it's pretty challenging and very playable indeed. Certainly one for the collection.

OVERALL 95%

ARCADE SMASH HITS
This is potentially a great game. Missile Command, Breakout and Centipede are converted onto the Master System and bundled together on one cartridge. The only problem is, Missile Command is the only half-way decent game out of the lot of them and none of them at all are accurate conversions of the original. A wasted opportunity.

OVERALL 51%

ASSAULT CITY
It's Op Wolf time with Assault City. Shoot those robots to make the world a better place. Assault City's graphics are quite jolly, and the game is fun, although somewhat easy. One for non-light phaser owning Operation Wolf fans.

OVERALL 70%

ASTERIX
Take the mantle of both Asterix and Obelix in this new platform adventure. The graphics are great, the sound's not so bad and it's pretty playable. Unfortunately, there are a few instant-death frustrations and pointless infinite continues. Still, overall it's a pretty good game.

OVERALL 80%

ASTRO WARRIOR/PITPOT
A very old cart, this, but it's still not bad. Astro Warrior is a decent enough up-screen blaster and Pit Pot is a fun original game which rounds the cart out quite nicely. If you can find this for a bargain price it's worth a look.

OVERALL 79%

AZTEC ADVENTURE
Considering the plethora of other RPGs on the Sega, this is a very poor offering indeed and the only recommendation we can offer is take a look at all the others and avoid this like the plague.

OVERALL 38%

BACK TO THE FUTURE II
As Marty McFly you must beat five levels of platforming, jet-skating and puzzling. That is, if you don't fall asleep first. Yes, this is a proper snoozer - and it's frustrating to boot. Add the poor presentation to this and forsooth - 'tis but a turkey.

OVERALL 37%

BACK TO THE FUTURE III
Marty is back! Featuring great graphics and sound, this is a fun game which is ultimately let down by the fact that it only has three levels and doesn't take long to finish.

OVERALL 68%

BANK PANIC
This ancient arcade conversion tests your reflexes and hand-to-eye co-ordination. The lasting appeal is limited, as the gameplay is quite simple, but this is a cheap cartridge and well worth having a look at.

OVERALL 78%

BASKETBALL NIGHTMARE
Featuring very impressive, beautifully animated in-game screens, this basketball game looks great! But when it comes to playing the game, it's all rather simplistic and dull and the end result is a mediocre basketball game with some very fancy graphics.

OVERALL 56%

BATTLE OUT RUN
Take to the highways in this Chase HQ-style car-crashing game and bump the baddies off the road before they escape! Although Battle Out Run isn't as challenging as Fire and Forget II, there's enough in there to warrant purchase - give it a go if you're into fast action.

OVERALL 80%

BLACK BELT
Take control of a kung-fu expert and battle it out across a horizontally scrolling landscape beating seven kinds of shinola out of annoyed stupid enough to cross your path. It's definitely one of the better Sega beat 'em ups around, and is highly recommended.

OVERALL 81%

BLADE EAGLE 3D
One of those rare 3D glasses games, and this one isn't exactly brilliant. It's a fairly simple shoot 'em up which requires you to guide the Blade Eagle against an enemy force. If you're desperate for a 3D game, try this out - but not before taking a look at Space Harrier 3D or 3D Out Run.

OVERALL 51%

BOMBER RAID
Bomber Raid is a vertically scrolling shoot 'em up in which you fly a fighter craft deep into enemy territory with the intent of causing as much damage as possible. It's pretty good fun, but the game isn't difficult to beat, so although you tend to play it a lot at first it doesn't take long before you finish it and become bored.

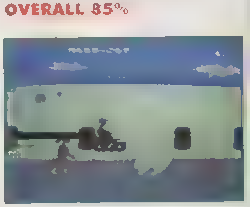
OVERALL 71%

BONANZA BROS
A conversion of the so-so coin-op, Bonanza Bros plays much the same as the original, but is far too easy to complete and only has a one-player option. Doh! Not the greatest cartridge money can buy.

OVERALL 57%

BUBBLE BOBBLE
Acknowledged as one of the best coin-ops ever, Bubble Bobble has at last made it to the Master System. And hooray for us because it's great! All the levels are here and it's rock hard - you won't complete this one overnight that's for sure. There is some slow-down and sprite flicker however - so be warned.

OVERALL 85%



CALIFORNIA GAMES
This wacky sports sim has six events - half-pipe, foot bag, surfing, roller skating, BMX riding and frisbee-throwing. The graphics on all are pretty impressive, the animation smooth - but it's the competitive element that makes this a winner. Whenever you play it, it's totally compulsive. A must for your Sega.

OVERALL 93%

CAPTAIN SILVER
This dire hack 'n' slash game was originally a coin-op - so it'll come as no surprise that it completely bombed. The graphics are crap, the sound is woeful and the gameplay is poor.

OVERALL 47%

CASINO GAMES
Casino is a gambling game which offers three basic things to choose from: cards, slot machine and pinball. The graphics and sound are nice enough, if only functional, but the game lacks variety. There's no roulette or dice to help spice things up and you'll soon find yourself wanting more for your money.

OVERALL 46%

CHASE HQ
This race 'n' chase 'n' crash 'n' burn game is as exciting as it was in the arcades, and even if you've never played the coin-op, the high-speed thrills of this conversion make it well worth a look.

OVERALL 86%

CHOPLIFTER

With excellent graphics and challenging gameplay, Choplifter is one of the best horizontally scrolling shoot 'em ups around. Take it for a flight

CHUCK ROCK

One of the best platform games on the Master System. Chuck Rock scores highly owing to its highly enjoyable gameplay and superb graphics and sound. Well deserving of your hard-earned cash

OVERALL 90%

CLOUD MASTER

Featuring simple, colourful and very weird graphics (like giant chickens and bowls of noodles), this shoot 'em up is a very straightforward and fairly enjoyable blast. Not great but not bad either

OVERALL 73%

COLUMNS

The colour-matching arcade puzzle action of Columns might not sound exciting, but it's one of the most addictive games available on the Sega. Play it and see for yourself!

OVERALL 90%

CYBORG HUNTER

The mission of this arcade adventure involves penetrating a well defended complex, destroying all the robots therein, and finally confronting the man behind it. It's all quite jolly and action-packed, but originality and good graphics are very thin on the ground

OVERALL 71%

DEAD ANGLE

This Operation Wolf-style coin-op conversion takes you back to the gangster years of the 1930's and casts you as a copper on a mission to wipe out an evil gang. The graphics are great with plenty of neat touches, and the gameplay is very addictive. Easily one of the best shooting games on the Sega: this is well worth taking a look at

OVERALL 83%

DONALD DUCK AND THE LUCKY DIME CAPER

Another Disney star gets his own Sega game, and once more it's a platform game. Luckily Donald follows the Disney trend all the way and his game is excellent! It's also hard enough to keep you going for a-a-ages, so prepare to spend thy dosh on this fab cart

OVERALL 92%

DOUBLE DRAGON

A fairly good version of the classic beat 'em up which is let down by its flickery graphics and rather low difficulty level. Beat 'em up beginners should enjoy the action, but experts will complete it quickly

OVERALL 70%

DYNAMITE DUKE

A slight twist on the Op Wolf format here sees you as Duke punching, stabbing and shooting your way across the globe facing opposition from evil all the way. Nice graphics, nice sound, shame about the game. It's fun at first, but it's quite repetitive and too easy. For coin-op fans only

OVERALL 79%

DYNAMITE DUX

The graphics on this wild 'n' wacky duck-based beat 'em up are truly superb, with bazooka-carrying foxes, marauding moose heads and gangs of field mice all entering the fray. The game play is fun, but it's all a little too easy, so expert gamers won't get full value for money from it

OVERALL 79%

ENDURO RACER

This motocross racing game is one of the easiest Sega cartridges to complete. Ten levels of diagonally scrolling track lie between you and the finish line, and even a novice should be able to burn all the way through to the end in a single sitting. Zzzzz

ESWAT

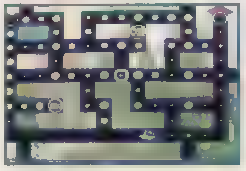
After the rather nifty arcade game, this is a disappointment. Wimpy weapons, feeble graphics and five levels at not-very-difficult action means completing this takes very little time and effort

OVERALL 59%

F16 FIGHTER

This looks pretty impressive, but unfortunately suffers from very bland gameplay. Just fly the eponymous F16 Fighter against the swarms of enemy aircraft and blow them up to keep in the game. The graphics and sound are average, and the gameplay soon becomes dull. Avoid it

OVERALL 48%



FANTASY ZONE

This wacky horizontally scrolling shoot 'em up has the wildest most colourful graphics ever seen. The gameplay is very addictive indeed, and there's plenty to challenge a hardened shoot 'em up fan

OVERALL 87%

FANTASY ZONE II

A superb shoot 'em up, but suffers from being too similar to the original. If you haven't already got Fantasy Zone, buy this one instead

OVERALL 88%

FANTASY ZONE III

Not a scrolling shoot 'em up this time, instead the third in the Fantasy Zone series takes the player to a series of mazes where he must negotiate a variety of hazards and baddies to win the day. The game is a load of fun and, although the graphics are simplistic, there's plenty there to keep anyone happy for days on end

OVERALL 81%

FIRE AND FORGET II

Fire and Forget II's zoom-up-the-road action is very fast and pretty tough, almost to the point of being off-putting. However once you get used to the speed of things, you start getting into the action and rise to the considerable challenge. A must for addicts of highway violence!

OVERALL 86%

FORGOTTEN WORLDS

Become a hard flooring mercenary with a flying gun in Forgotten Worlds and shoot lots of things. Yes, it's a horizontally scrolling shoot 'em up. Sadly it's spoilt by a fiddly control method and a lack of challenge. There are much better shooters than this on the Sega

OVERALL 62%

GAIN GROUND

This conversion of the obscure Sega coin-op shows why it was never a hit. It's a kind of flick-screen Gauntlet clone, without the playability. There's no original ideas and it all gets very repetitive. Don't buy it unless you like average games.

OVERALL 62%

GALAXY FORCE II

Featuring four levels of 3D shooting action, truly marvellous graphics and gameplay that's challenging enough to keep you occupied for weeks, this is the best game of its type on the Sega

OVERALL 85%

GANGSTER TOWN

This old, rather dull game features reasonable graphics and sound, but doesn't really have that addictive spark to keep you coming back for more. Try something else instead.

OVERALL 48%

GAUNTLET

The coin-op was a sensation when appeared in 1986, and this version has all the features of the original machine. With 100 different levels to challenge you, Gauntlet won't lose its appeal in a hurry. If you've got a Sega, do yourself a favour and plug this in

OVERALL 90%

GHOSTBUSTERS

On the whole Ghostbusters is a great game. The graphics are nicely detailed, smooth and colourful; the music, though, is utterly dire, and sounds like a load of dead people are trying to play the Ghostbusters theme tune on some crummy old synthesisers. Still, turn down the volume and get busting

OVERALL 86%

GHOST HOUSE

Ghost House's graphics are of the cute style - big heads, big eyes and little bodies - the sound is very jolly and all its cheap price and addictive gameplay provides fun at a price every Sega owner can afford

OVERALL 79%

GLOBAL DEFENCE

Known better to arcade goers as SDI, this missile-blasting game has excellent graphics. The gameplay is addictive too - in fact the only thing wrong with it is the tricky control method, which makes it frustratingly difficult to get into. If you're prepared to stick with it, there's plenty here. Try before you buy

OVERALL 80%

G-LOC

This is what Afterburner should have been. Loads of missions, tons of options, plenty of power-ups and enough variety to stop you getting bored. Shooting fans should be especially interested in this.

OVERALL 82%

GOLDEN AXE

Golden Axe is a superb conversion of the coin-op, with five tough levels of action. The graphics and sound are both top-notch and the game is highly recommended to beat 'em up fans.

OVERALL 92%

GOLFAMANIA

GolfAmania lets you play a round of 18 hazard-packed holes in the comfort of your very own front room. There's plenty of lasting appeal in this one, and the challenging gameplay keeps you coming back time and time again. A must for Sega-owning golf fans - get your Dad to buy it, he'll love it!

OVERALL 83%

GOLVELLIUS

RPG fans will be interested in this one. The graphics are top-notch and the sound is atmospheric and helps draw you into the action. Arcade fans won't like this much, but if you're after a sedate game which requires plenty of the old grey matter check this one out

GREAT BASEBALL

Great Baseball isn't as good as American Baseball, so we recommend baseball fans to try that first before buying.

GREAT BASKETBALL

If you like basketball, rush out and grab this now. Otherwise try something with a bit more oomph - like California Games or American Pro Football

GREAT FOOTBALL

Not soccer as you might imagine - this is a simulation of American Football. If you're after a good American Football simulation, try out American Pro Football - it's miles better than this and offers twice as much challenge

OVERALL 67%

GREAT GOLF

If you fancy a round of 18-hole golf, this might be what you're looking for. Or is it? If you look around the shelves of your software shop, you'll find Golfamania and Leaderboard, both which have better graphics, sound and playability

GREAT VOLLEYBALL

This simulation is pretty accurate, and it has good graphics and an easy-to-use control method, but really it's the sport itself that provides the problems. It's simply not very action-packed, and as a result gets dull fairly quickly

OVERALL 71%

IMPOSSIBLE MISSION

Impossible Mission sounds great, featuring highly atmospheric effects. It looks stunning. But more importantly it plays absolutely brilliantly. A fantastic game which is destined to become one of THE classic Sega titles

OVERALL 97%

INDIANA JONES AND THE LAST CRUSADE

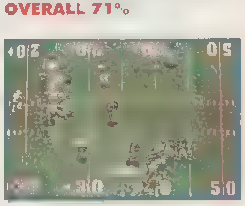
Indiana Jones and the Last Crusade is almost as hard as the hero himself! The graphics and sound are both good, and with five very challenging levels to battle through, this should appeal to those who like their games very tough.

OVERALL 86%

JUNGLE FIGHTER

Jungle Fighter is an enjoyable and straightforward horizontally scrolling back 'n' slash game. There are a few niggling points, though. The landscapes are large, but the gameplay is a little bit tedious, since Donnan can only do a few moves, and although the baddies are numerous, they're not particularly tough. Rastan fans might like it, but don't expect it to challenge you for long.

OVERALL 71%



JOE MONTANA'S FOOTBALL

The first John Madden's clone makes it over to the Master System, boasting plenty of action, loads of teams and billions of strategies. Unfortunately it just doesn't work. The graphics are dull, responsiveness is poor and the slightly ropey collision detection spoils things further. Not too hot

OVERALL 65%

KENSEIDEN

Action is thin on the ground, but what do you expect from a role-playing game? Some of the still screens are truly superb, and there's plenty of brain-bending puzzles in the game to keep a role-playing fan happy for weeks on end!

OVERALL 85%

KLAX

This superb puzzle game was all the rage in California a while ago. Finally it has wended its weary way to the Master System. So is it any good? Well, yes it is. If brainy-type jigsaws are your bag, check this out

GAME INDEX

OVERALL 88%

KUNG-FU KID
Graphically similar in style to Ghost House, this platform game with kung-fu overtones is all really fun, but if you're after something with better graphics and more challenge, take a look at Black Belt before parting with your dosh

OVERALL 70%

LASER GHOST
A not-quite-conversion of Sega's Ruksama coin-op. Protect a possessed girlie by shooting all the regional ghosts either with light phaser or cursor. Fiddly controls wreck things a bit, but it's still quite a laugh with nice graphics and plenty of action. Light phaser owners should grab this.

OVERALL 76%

LINE OF FIRE
Another pseudo conversion from those Sega lads. This time the Op Wolf-style gameplay has been replaced by vertically scrolling shoot 'em-up action. Trouble is, it's slow, dull and offers few thrills.

OVERALL 46%

LORD OF THE SWORD
Two game styles meet head-on in this role-playing game with arcade sequences. It's a nice idea in principle which doesn't quite make it due to the rather bland action and the fact that the role-playing bits are quite weak. There's simply not enough of each game style to satisfy fans of either genre

OVERALL 74%

MARBLE MADNESS
A conversion of the cult Atari coin-op, the conversion retains just about all of the features of the arcade machine. Unfortunately the game just plays too slowly and the control method is extremely dodgy to say the least. Disappointing

OVERALL 70%

MAZE HUNTER 3D
Don your cool 3D shades and enter the maze in this entertaining game of mazes and more mazes. The 3D effect is pretty good, and the game is fun to play, but not Earth-shatteringly brilliant. Not an essential purchase by any means, but if you're after something to go with your 3D glasses, this is worth checking out

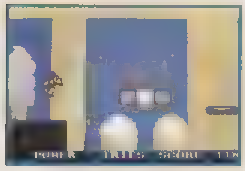
MERCS
That last bastion of death, the coin-op Mercs makes its appearance on the Master System. It's violent, it's got good graphics, it's highly playable and it's also very easy. If you think you'll keep coming back to this game even when you've completed it (which should only take two goes at most), check it out

OVERALL 81%



MICKEY MOUSE IN THE CASTLE OF ILLUSION
The spooky mouse (ha ha) does his stuff in this skill platform game. Great graphics and sound, loads of bonuses, great gameplay and a bit of a challenge make this a cert to get

OVERALL 93%

MOONWALKER
Answer Strut your thang in Moonwalker, a platform shoot 'em up starring none other than Michael Jackson himself. The graphics are smart, and it's pretty playable but be warned, it does get pretty repetitive. Jackie fans and diehard platformers will love this, though

OVERALL 80%

MS PACMAN
Gobble dots. Dodge ghosts! Lapse into a comatose state! Ms Pacman is just regular Pacman with knobs on, even the competitive two player mode comes after a while, so don't buy this cart. If you're desperate for a Pac Hite, get Pacmania instead

OVERALL 31%

MIRACLE WARRIORS
Miracle Warrior is an enjoyable game, and is recommended to arcade fans who enjoy a bit of adventure-style puzzling

OVERALL 81%

MISSILE DEFENCE 3D
Missile Defence 3D is by no means an essential purchase, but if you're after something to use with your 3D glasses, this is worth having a look at

OVERALL 76%

MONOPOLY
Unless you're desperate to play Monopoly and never have a friend to play with, you might as well buy the actual board game (it's cheaper and is a lot more fun than this fatuse bit, you can't argue with the computer!

OVERALL 69%

MY HERO
This rather odd-looking, cute beat 'em up (strange combination, eh?) requires you to rescue your girlfriend who's been kidnapped by local hoodlums. The game is good fun, but Black Belt is a better example. Try that before buying this.

OVERALL 74%

NINJA
Although the graphics are rather simplistic, the shuriken-lobbing action is challenging and addictive. The difficulty level is nicely pitched so you seem to get a little further into the game each time, and there are ten levels to beat. If you're after a combat game with a difference, this is worth taking a look at

OVERALL 80%

NINJA GAIDEN
An excellent four-way scrolling slash 'em-up, Ninja Gaiden scores highly with its super-speedy gameplay and smoothness. A tad easy maybe, but Ninja Gaiden is just so good to play you'll still be coming back for more months later

OVERALL 83%

OLYMPIC GOLD
A fourly playable selection of sporting events, namely, 100m Sprint, Diving, 110m Hurdles, Swimming, Archery and the Pole Vault. It's a little repetitive, but the game is still great fun and well worth examining at your nearest software emporium.

OVERALL 81%

OPERATION WOLF
Take the role of a super-tough commando and blast your way across six horizontally scrolling enemy landscapes using your crosshair sights to aim your gun. Combining good graphics and solid, challenging action, this is an arcade conversion that should be checked out by all Sega shoot 'em up addicts

OVERALL 88%

OUT RUN
Although the 3D update isn't particularly smooth, the graphics are colourful and the gameplay is as addictive as the original coin-op. There are a variety of different ways of finishing the game, and it'll take quite a while to do them all. If you're a nice fan, take this one for a spin

OVERALL 80%

OUT RUN 3D

SCRAMBLE SPIRITS
This is a one or two-player conversion of an extremely obscure coin-op which was one of Sega's few arcade failures. The exceedingly bland gameplay is marred even further by blurred, flicker ing sprites and the "power-ups" are fairly pitiful, too. Unless you're really desperate for a vertically-scrolling shoot 'em up, this isn't worthy of consideration

SHADOW DANCER
There's ninja pipes aplenty in Shadow Dancer - a conversion of the Sega coin-op (but missing the dog). Still, the lack of any casino presence doesn't spoil the game too much, although the stupidly unbalanced difficulty setting is a bit of a downer (the levels are easy and the guardians are ultra-rock-bllinking-hard). Not so bad, nevertheless

ESWAT
ESWAT is a super-slick platform shoot 'em up that simply oozes quality. The parallax scrolling backdrops and sprites are excellent, and the sound is great. Combines those with challenging and highly addictive gameplay and you've got a game that's a must for your collection.

OVERALL 92%

EURO CLUB SOCCER
Megadrive soccer games have a history of being quite sad and this effort does little to address the situation. Although the graphics and sound are very good, the gameplay is let down by low player intelligence, wonky collision detection and awkward controls. As the (very) old saying goes, "try before you buy!"

OVERALL 69%

EVANDER HOLYFIELD "REAL DEAL" BOXING
What looks like a decent enough boxing game is in actual fact a small, boring, jerky sports sim with rubbish animation. There are loads of options, but the game is just too dull to be worthwhile. The £49.99 price tag helps matters none either.

OVERALL 32%

F-22
This fighter combat simulation is truly superb. Packed with options and features, there are over 100 missions to test even the most elite of pilots - and a mission generator so you can create your own! An absolute must for anyone who's ever wished to fly a fighter bomber!

OVERALL 93%

FAERY TALE ADVENTURE
A dull role-playing game which lacks action and atmosphere. There are plenty of better games of this type, so look elsewhere.

FANTASIA
This sequel to Mickey Mouse was keenly anticipated, but turned out to be a massive disappointment. The graphics are excellent, but sadly soft sound and poorly designed, bland and frustrating gameplay result in a game that has very little appeal. A Mickey Mouse game in the wrong sense of the word.

OVERALL 49%

FASTEST ONE
This split screen one or two-player racing game completely fails to deliver. Crap graphics, sound and playability and utterly tedious action result in the worst Megadrive racing game by far. Steer well clear.

OVERALL 29%

FATAL LABYRINTH
This cross between a scrolling beat 'em up and a role-playing game fails to deliver in both categories. The RPG aspect is dull and limited and the slow, boring action fails to offer any thrills and spills.

OVERALL 51%

FATAL REWIND
Better known as Killing Game Show. This is a very fast and furious platform game where researching the screen layout is the key to success. Some may find its high difficulty level just too frustrating, but if you're after a challenge, this is where to be.

OVERALL 83%

FERRARI GRAND PRIX CHALLENGE
Well presented, with some skillful options, Ferrari is unfortunately marred by the fact that the actual game is extremely sad. The 3D update is awful and the gameplay terminally dull! Don't buy this.

OVERALL 45%

FIGHTING MASTER
Limited with one-player, but superb in two-player mode, this beat 'em up allows the players to select one of twelve different characters and beat the crap out of each other. It's a really fun game and is highly recommended - but do bear in mind that you do need two players to get the most out of it.

OVERALL 81%

FIRE MUSTANG
This P-47 clone is quite good fun to play at first, but the trouble is that there simply isn't anything new on offer and after a few sessions it all becomes dull and predictable.

OVERALL 59%

FIRE SHARK
Also known as Twin Tone Tone - this is the latest from vertically scrolling shoot 'em up specialists Toaplan (authors of Truxton and Flying Shark). Although it's great fun, suffers from being too easy to complete. Perhaps one for the novices?

OVERALL 59%

FLICKY
This conversion of the ancient coin-op looks crap, sounds crap and plays... brilliantly! It's very simplistic, but for some reason the action is incredibly enjoyable and addictive. Check it out!

OVERALL 88%

FINAL BLOW/JAMES "BUSTER" DOUGLAS CHAMPIONSHIP BOXING
On the positive side, the pair of large boxer sprites are nicely drawn and animated, but the problem is that the boxing moves are limited and there are only four different opponents. It doesn't take long to master the game, and the limited nature of the action doesn't bring you back for more.

OVERALL 69%

FLYING SHARK
Up the screen you go in this vertically scrolling blast, almost. nearly - but not quite a conversion of Taito's successful coin-op. It's an enjoyable blast, featuring decent graphics and sound, but unfortunately suffers from zero originality and low challenge, and once you've played it a couple of times you get those "seen it all before blues."

OVERALL 71%

FORGOTTEN WORLDS
Forgotten Worlds is a good looking one or two-player blast, with plenty of action on offer. Like other Megadrive games, it's easy to finish on the easy level, but offers plenty of challenge on difficult. Check it out if you're into destruction.

OVERALL 82%

GAIARES
An excellent-looking game, Gaiares is by far the roughest horizontally scrolling shoot 'em up available on the Megadrive and is highly recommended to blasting fans who are hankering after a challenge.

OVERALL 43%

GALAHAD

An excellent arcade adventure in the mould of Shadow of the Beast. Galahad is blessed with excellent graphics and stomping sound. The gameplay is great too, with plenty to do and loads of levels to conquer. A very fetchable Megadrive title.

OVERALL 86%

GALAXY FORCE

A very disappointing conversion of Sega's showpiece coin-op. The 3D effect is poor, the difficulty setting is low and there are only four levels to challenge you. If you want a game of this sort, try Space Harrier II instead

OVERALL 59%

GAMES:WINTER CHALLENGE

Participate in eight Olympic events (speed skating, downhill, luge, cross country, bobsled, biathlon, giant slalom and ski jump) in this fine winter sports test. The graphics are a bit patchy, but overall this is a fine game that's highly recommended to sports fans.

GHOSTBUSTERS

GHOULS 'N' GHOSTS

Ghouls 'n' Ghosts is a stunning conversion on the classic coin-op, combining stunning graphics and sound with very challenging gameplay. It's a truly superb game, and is a must for your Megadrive software library

OVERALL 93%

GOLDEN AXE

Golden Axe is a perfect replica of the arcade machine which also sports additional features in the form of one-on-one battle options, a mini-mission for beginners as well as extra levels which didn't appear in the arcade version. All together it's one of the best arcade conversions ever seen. A must!

OVERALL 94%

GOLDEN AXE II

What a con! Golden Axe II is almost identical to the original game. It follows the same formula, has virtually no new features and certainly isn't worth the money. Buy the original if you haven't already got it. If you have, look elsewhere for your beat 'em up thrills.

OVERALL 69%

GRENADA X

First impressions of this overhead-scrolling tank-based shoot 'em up aren't very good. The graphics are pretty basic and the sound isn't all that hot. But persevere with it and you'll find yourself getting drawn into the action. It's certainly not a priority purchase, but if you're looking for an original shoot 'em up and have got all the best ones, give this a go.

GYNOUG

Known in the US as Wings of War, this is one of the finest horizontally scrolling blasters available on the Megadrive. The gory, ghoulish graphics are outstanding, the sound is excellent and the tough and challenging gameplay is extremely addictive. A must for blasting fans

OVERALL 92%

HARD DRIVIN'

The arcade game was fun, which is more than can be said for this conversion. Suspect handling, poor gameplay and unrealistic 3D update conspire together to make this a awesome experience. Add in the low, low difficulty level and you've got a veritable Robin Reliant of a race game

HARDBALL

A decent baseball game which doesn't have enough novel or interesting features to make it appeal to anyone other than real fans of the sport

OVERALL 75%

HELLFIRE

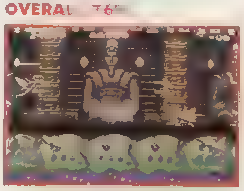
Featuring novel four-way selectable firepower and power-up weapons, this is a slick and very good looking blaster which oozes playability. It's tough, with six long, long levels packed full of the meanies enemy ships alien money can buy, and some mean end-of-level baddies. There are plenty of surprises in store too, especially on the final level. If you're a shoot 'em up fan looking for a challenge, check out Hellfire. It might not look as good as Thunderforce III, but it's simply a much better game

OVERALL 93%

HERZOG ZWEI

A weird title for a weird game. Herzog Zwei is a sort of strategy shoot 'em up in which one or two players attempt to defeat opposing enemy forces by strategically positioning their own armoured divisions. Rather short on action, but an interesting title for the thinkers amongst us which would be more suitable for the toothless, rather than arcade players

OVERALL 76%



INSECTOR X

The game is fun at first and the slick graphics and decent sound certainly add a little to the excitement, but none of the power-up weapons are particularly exciting, and the action has very little in the way of original features. There are plenty of better shoot 'em ups than this, and punters are advised to check out Hellfire and Thunderforce III before making a purchasing decision

OVERALL 74%

JOE MONTANA SPORTSTALK FOOTBALL

This is truly a showpiece game. Featuring the most speech ever heard on a home videogame, Joe Montana Sportstalk Football is a very enjoyable American football game which actually gives you a running commentary while you play! John Madden's Football '92 is the best American football game by far but this is original and different enough to still be a very worthy purchase

OVERALL 83%

JOHN MADDEN'S FOOTBALL

Using stunning state-of-the-art 3D graphics and unbelievable sound, this is one of the finest sports games ever seen. Easy-to-operate drop-down menus are used to dictate play and the control pad is used intelligently to allow an incredible amount of different moves, including running, passing, diving, spinning and head-butting. With its two-player option, and multiple modes of play, this is a game which will keep you entertained for months.

OVERALL 94%

JOHN MADDEN'S FOOTBALL '92

Featuring new teams, higher difficulty level and plenty of game play tweaks, this sequel does the impossible and improves upon the original to become the best Megadrive game yet seen! An essential purchase

OVERALL 96%

JORDAN VS BIRD

Don't be fooled by the star names. This isn't basketball, it's a cut-down one-on-one version. To its credit it has many options to tweak with, but this doesn't stop the game from being dull and boring to play, with very little in the way of fun offered. Avoid.

OVERALL 40%

KID CHAMELEON

A nice-looking platform game which combines elements of Mario and Sonic and some of its own neat touches to great effect. The only problem is that its too easy, and platform fans should be able to complete it quickly. Novices should revel in its action, though.

KING'S BOUNTY

A fairly complex, non-action oriented role-playing game which should appeal to fans of the genre.

OVERALL 71%

Amongst one of the first Megadrive games to appear this is a failure on two counts: it neither shows off any of the Megadrive's capabilities nor is an enjoyable game in its own right. Do yourself a favour, and plug this into anything but your Sega.

OVERALL 32%

LHX ATTACK CHOPPER

A truly involved Megadrive flight sim from the people who brought you F 22 Interceptor. This isn't as exciting as F 22 in terms of dogfighting excitement, but it's a whole lot better both as strategy game and as flight sim. Highly recommended

MOONWALKER
With its excellent graphics, thumping soundtrack (including such hits as Beat It, Billie Jean and Bad) and sampled speech (with all your favourite Jackson moves and wahs), this is a very addictive platform game which will have you jogging your feet while you play. Forget the fact that this has the cruel-damaging Michael Jackson face on the cover and just enjoy the action.
OVERALL 85%

Originally imported as Kujaku II, this Ghouls 'n' Ghosts clone lacks the oomph to keep you coming back for more.
OVERALL 63%

NEW ZEALAND STORY
New Zealand Story might look as cute as a litter of kittens, but it's tough and challenging, with different screens from the arcade version to make life difficult even for coin-op experts. Highly recommended.
OVERALL 89%

OLYMPIC GOLD
Olympic Gold pretends the player's sweaty six Olympic events. These are Hammer, Pole Vault, Diving, 100m Sprint, Swimming and 110m Hurdles. While it's fun and very polished, there's not much in the game to keep you coming back and surprisingly, there's no simultaneous two-player mode! It's also a case of there being little in the way of originality. You've just seen it all before.
OVERALL 70%

OUTRUN
This conversion of the classic coin-op simply doesn't do it justice. The graphics and sound are crazy, but it's the gameplay where it falls flat. It's so easy even a complete dumbo can complete it within a couple of goes.

OVERALL 93%

PHANTASY STAR II
There's certainly a big challenge in store in this massive menu-driven adventure, but to be honest, Phantasy Star II is more suited to pure RPG fans who like to use their brains rather than their joysticks. Arcade fans will soon become bored due to the lack of immediate action.
OVERALL 78%

PHANTASY STAR III
Another enormous role-playing game, but this one has far more depth and variety than its predecessor. It's by far the best RPG on the Megadrive, but the real bummer is that it costs a massive £60.00! Eeek.
OVERALL 89%

RAMBO III
In typical Rambo style, the object of this multidirectionally scrolling shoot 'em up is to infiltrate five different enemy zones and destroy everything and anything silly enough to step in your way. With great graphics and thumping good sound, Rambo certainly packs a punch.
OVERALL 87%

REVENGE OF SHINOBI
This is a slick, superb looking, great sounding and incredibly playable platform game in which you guide hero Shinobi on a solo infiltration deep into enemy territory. The gameplay is beautifully balanced so you seem to get just a little bit further with every game. Q+A

Once again he's girded up his loins, slapped on his special answering crash helmet and is ready to come up with the answers to all your questions. Yes, Jazza, the God-like genius of the console world is here again in this section known to all as Q+A. If you have anything to ask, stick your questions on an envelope or in a letter and send them off to: FLIP ME I'M REALLY FED UP WITH THIS AND COULD QUITE HAPPILY PACK IT ALL IN AND TAKE UP FARMING IN WALES Q+A, MEAN MACHINES SEGA, PRIORY COURT, 30-32 FARRINGDON LANE, LONDON, EC1R 3AU.

WICKED!

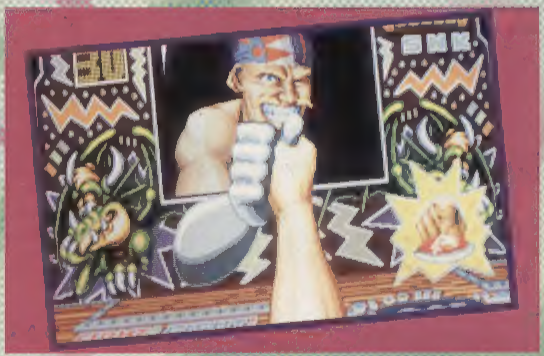
Dear Jaz
Please could you answer my questions on the Megadrive?
1. When will Batman Returns be released?
2. What kind of game is Talespin?
3. Will Bill and Ted's Bogus Journey ever be released on the Megadrive?
4. When will you be reviewing World of Illusion?
5. How would you go about designing your own game?
Alastair Hunter, Ballymoney, Co Antrim, N Ireland

JAZ: 1. Christmas. 2. A platform game, as all games starring cartoon characters seem to be these days. 3. No. 4. As soon as it's released later on this year. 5. Write down the basic idea on paper - characters, baddies, how the games works and so on - and use illustrations to show how you would visualise those ideas on-screen.

TOTALLY OUT-RAGEOUS, MATE

Dear Jaz
I have a few questions for you to answer. Thank you.
1. Will the UK Mega CD ROM have a free game, if so what will it be?
2. What bit will it be?
3. What will the price for the Mega CD and the games be?
4. Will the Mega CD have Megadrive games if so what will they be?
Stupid Questions Man, Oh-dear-I've-lost-the-addressville

JAZ: 1. Yes, but no-one knows what it'll be. With the Wondermega it'll be Wonder Dog. 2. Duh! What are you legs?



Fatal Fury is one of the best games I've played on the Neo Geo (if not the best game) and it is coming out on the Megadrive. As you know the Neo Geo has more capabilities than the Megadrive and SNES. Do you think the Megadrive can cope? Because Fatal Fury has brilliant graphics and it has some of the best sound and speech I've heard. (I don't think the Megadrive version would be arcade perfect).

Do you think Takara (being a large company) would make any changes on the Megadrive version of Fatal Fury?
Leon Wright, Brackley, London

JAZ: First of all, Streets of Rage II was planned as a 12-meg cart, but if the programmers can't fit it all in it'll be upped to 16-meg. Fatal Fury is scheduled for both Super NES and Megadrive, so no worries there matey. It obviously won't have the speech of the Neo Geo version, but everything else will be in there.

NAUGHTY NAUGHTY, VERY NAUGHTY

Dear Jazza
I have just noticed that a number of brill beat 'em ups are coming out on the Megadrive. In Megatech, it said that Streets of Rage II is going to be a 16 megabit cartridge, just like Street Fighter II on the Super NES. Do you think this is true?

I was glad to hear Fatal Fury was coming out on the Megadrive. But CVG said it was going to be released on the SNES, I checked the schedule to come out on the SNES, I couldn't find Fatal Fury. Was CVG pulling our

FANTASY ZONE

What have we here? A complete guide to the end-of-level bosses in this groovy shoot 'em up? Indeed! A big ta goes to "M Foster", whose letter we dug up from the archives of MEAN MACHINES.

LEVEL ONE

Repeatedly shoot into the mouth of this baddie whilst you dodge around the bullets shot at you. It's best to get in close and move above/below the bullets. But watch out! The bullets may rebound or extra shots may be fired in your direction!

LEVEL TWO

Get in a position where some of your shots penetrate the outer ring of spheres (just about the halfway mark is acceptable) and fire rapidly at the three spheres on the inside. Try not to move up or down. Just keep going left or right to dodge the falling bullets.

LEVEL THREE

This baddie fires its lasers in a pattern: top to bottom, to top and so forth. Get as close as you can and fire rapidly at the lasers, moving above or below the baddie when the laser fire gets too close to you. All of the lasers have to be destroyed.

LEVEL FOUR

A tongue appears from the centre of this baddie. Move close in straight away and fire as quickly as you can at the tongue. When it begins to retract, move to the far left of the screen. Keep firing while you are dodging the teeth which come towards you.

LEVEL FIVE

Snowmen come towards you in rows and they fire at you, so watch it! The rows start with many small snowmen and their number decreases. However, the size of snowmen increases! The best way to kill of thee snowmen is to go to the top of the screen and work from top to bottom, killing off a row at a time.

LEVEL SIX

A head pops out of this baddie, and that's what you need to zero in with using your blasters. Position your ship level with the head and let rip. The easiest way to dodge the bullets is to get right up close to the head and time your move correctly to get to the far left of the screen. Repeat this process to be victorious.

LEVEL SEVEN

This is very easy, so you shouldn't have much in the way of problems with it. The baddie is just as simple. It opens up and tries to get in close to you. When the baddie opens up move three quarters of the way to the left of the screen. Fire at the fully closed monster. Just repeat this process. After you've defeated this monster, you're presented with the other six once again. Then you're on the last level...

PSYCHIC WORLD

Kian McDermott acquired this rather sorry game. However, should you have found yourself in a similar situation to the man from Barwell, focus your mind on these tips.

At the title screen push up/left on the D-pad while simultaneously pressing START, button one and two. If you have been successful a screen will have appeared reading: sound test ED, special mode, ESP-FULL; round select and round number. Pushing button one or two makes a number appear next to round number. You can choose which level you want to start on with the D-pad and start that level by pressing button one or two.

TIPS

TAZ MANIA GUIDE

Taz-Mania is probably the closest thing to an interactive cartoon yet seen on the Megadrive! Unfortunately, there are also a number of puzzles which can be pretty frustrating. In this fine players guide, we explore and solve the most common problems experienced when playing Taz-Mania and offer a few sneaky tipettes for those sad players who are still stuck.

DIAMOND GEYSERS ▼

The four geysers at the end of level 1-1 are the first really tricky obstacle Taz faces. The easiest way to negotiate these is to simply step off each one whilst it is at full height, providing the next fountain is lower, but still heading up (or else you'll land on the spikes and die). It's much easier to gauge the length of plummeting steps as the next platform is invariably still on-screen, instead of having to faff about guessing the distance of a jump when everything else is miles below.

THAT SINKING FEELING ▼

On the Ice level, it's possible to pick up a number of hidden bonuses. Once you've negotiated all the floating icebergs in the sea, you come to a sinking block of ice in-land. Instead of leaping off, stand on the block and let it sink. Oh joy, for now you are in an underwater tunnel wherein is an extra life, a continue, some grub and a killer penguin. Be careful if you decide to kill the penguin, as a turbo spin combined with the slippery ice invariably leads in the continue being spun off the screen. Once you've grabbed the goods, head right and leap up the icy platforms, stopping to collect the tasty fish halfway up.

FURNACED FLAT ▼

Tired of having your fur singed by those pesky furnaces on level 2-1? Simply spin past them, even whilst any of the doors are open, to protect yourself from the flames.

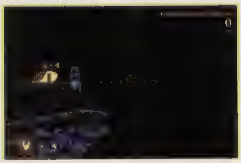
BOXING CLEVER ▼

The number of people who get stuck right at the start of level 2-1 is pretty surprising. Most get the idea of picking up the box using the Action button, but not many know where to put it. If you look about a screen and a half to the left of the box, there should be a platform about three quarters of the way up the screen. Drop the box below this and hey presto, it's now simplicity itself to leap onto the platform.

SOPORIFIC CONTINUE GATHERING ▲

If you've got a few hours to spare, try this handy tip for loads of continues. First, head past the first checkpoint on level 1-2, then leap up to the plateau, spin along to the left to collect the extra life, and then spin back to the left until you encounter the solitary rockmonster who inhabits those parts. Allow him to "chase" you at his own crawly pace to the right until you see the next platform. On this should be a lovely continue. Use the rockmonster as a platform to get you high enough to grab it. Now leap down and have the monster kill you. Lo and behold, you reappear at the last checkpoint in a fine position to repeat the process for continues galore.

▼ THE UNSTOPPABLE CART MACHINE



The Mine Cart level is probably the hardest part of the game until you know your way around it. The most important thing to remember is the signal lights. A green signal light at a jump means it should be taken at top speed, whereas a yellow light needs to be jumped at minimum pace. Also, after the sixth jump, remember to extend your car or you'll hit the whacking great stopper on the other side.

ALISIA DRAGOON

STAGE 1

Head right ducking down in front of the mushrooms to hit them without getting hit yourself and collect two potions and the meat. Continue right and at the far side enter the temple.

Inside the temple, head right. Jump over the gap and head right to find some power-ups. Jump and fire here for an extra creature power-up. Go left and walk down the stairs concealed in the gap. Jump right at the next set of stairs and walk through the pillars to reach a secret area. Climb up the side of the wall at the far right. When you're at the top of the ledge, jump towards the left to find yet more items.Go back to the stairs and continue down. Once down two flights of stairs, jump across the gap to the right. If you land on the ledge pick up the continue. Once you have it, head down the next set of stairs, jump over the gap and walk right to the second pillar to find a secret room with a creature level-up. At the far right of this room, jump left to find another secret room, with two more handy power-ups. Take the stairs up, jump left at the top of them on to the highest ground and continue left. At the far left is a Thunder Level-Up. Head right onto the stone walkway. When you reach the stairs take them left, jump off onto the ledge on the left hand side and fire at the wall until it explodes. Walk into the wall to get a potion. Exit the secret room and go down to the right to find the simpleton boss of level one.
